LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

MONTHLY CALENDAR for NOVEMBER with days of the week and dates.

"How is Your Horse?" is generally the first question propounded to neighbors now-a-days.

Ice.—It is not often that good skating can be found in this vicinity on the 21st of November; yet such has been the case this year.

Death Among the Cows.—Isiah Mitchell, of Juniata twp., lost five cows and one steer a few days since.

Thanksgiving Day will be observed in this borough, by union service in the Presbyterian Church at 10 1/2 a. m.

Bloomfield Academy.—A change has been made in the Principal of this institution. Mr. Dill having left to take charge of a school at Freeburg.

Mr. Editor—The horse disease has made its appearance in our neighborhood in a fearful manner. A great many horses and mules have it.

Left Home.—On Tuesday night, November 12th., Mr. Isaac Hime, of Millers-town, left his home, taking nothing with him but a pair of pants and a shirt.

Sudden Death.—On Wednesday evening last, Mrs. Mary Smith, wife of David Smith of Duncannon died very suddenly.

Another.—Mr. Edward C. Lauman, died very suddenly on Thursday morning. He left his home about 4 o'clock.

Serious Accidents in York.—Last Sunday morning, between eight and nine o'clock, Joseph Karg, son of Joseph Karg, Sr., grocer, residing in York, was fatally shot.

Restitution.—The following letter was received at the County Treasurer's office, on Friday last:

The Horse Disease.—The epidemic among the horses still continues, and more horses are sick in this vicinity than there were last week.

The horse epidemic which has been raging so fearfully in New York for weeks past, has assumed a worse state than ever seen before.

Our school is to open again next spring, as soon as the frosts begin to sing.

Our common school is now in full progress. The teacher is giving lessons on music in connection with the usual studies.

Some scamp threw a stone through our school house window the other evening, breaking a pane of glass; a reward of 25 cents is offered to any one that will tell who committed the cowardly act.

The epizootic is taking hold of most of the horses in this vicinity, but the disease is not dangerous. Our horse doctor told us to keep our horses in their stables, but we don't do it.

Letter from Rye Township. Rye twp., Nov. 16, 1872.

Mr. Editor—The horse disease has made its appearance in our neighborhood in a fearful manner. A great many horses and mules have it.

The correspondent of the Advocate & Press made a mistake in the buildings in Rye township, as they were all barns that were put up, except a dwelling.

The election of the 5th inst., shows quite a reformation in Rye twp. Yours, &c., H. W. JENNINGS.

Dauphin County Letter. WICONICO Nov. 23, 1872.

A serious fire occurred at Big Lick Colliery, Dauphin co., on Tuesday evening last, between seven and eight o'clock.

Five deaths in Lykens and vicinity occurred lately from Diphtheria. Horse disease is prevalent here, and through the valleys.

Juniata Co.—From the Millintown papers we copy the following: On Saturday last, John Tyson caught another bear in one of his traps on the mountain.

A horse belonging to Solomon Hertzler, residing in Perrysville, was killed by the Pacific Express, on Thursday morning last.
