Kansas Letter.

TOPEKA, Kansas, Nov. 13, 1872. DEAR TIMES .- We here on the frontier, look forward to your arrival with an anxiety to get the Perry county news, of which you are so full. I have taken a trip to Dod's City, where civilization ends and all out-doors begins. It is the present terminus of the A. T. & S. R. R., and is 300 miles S. W. of Topeka, in the valley of the big Arkansas. It has some two hundred inhabitants domiciled in tents, sod houses, dugouts frame shantles and freight cars, with the depot, express and telegraph office anchored alongside the platform, and a miserable hotel. Such is Dod's city now, but some two months hence we will find a town as large as yours with larger and better hotels, and more custom than they can accommodate. Such are these towns when the R. R. reaches them. The valley of the Arkansas from Hutchinson west, is an almost unbroken platte of level treeless prarie with the river winding along on its surface and appearing in the sunlight, like a broad irregular mark on a mammoth slate. The soil is a deep rich loam with clay subsoil.

The climate is mild and the air pure. Not a case of ague has been known this fall, and an abundant irrigation is furnished by the river which has no bluffs or broken benches of land on either side, its banks being but a few feet in height, which it never overflows. Here the buffalo and antelope subsist the year around on the native grass, and though they are not stallfed and know not what grain forage is, yet they furnish choice juicy tenderloin steaks that smoke with fumes of fatness, and and emit odors of good cheer at our fashionable residents. What manner of the great American desert is this, that furnishes fattened beef to the butchers block ? What may not intelligent cultivation do for it? With this R. R. it pushes on beyond civilization steadily from 2 to 3 miles per day and the telegraph goes with the road. The office is primitive when compared with your costly offices cast. It consists of two nail kegs, with the operator astride of one of them and his instrument cosily resting on the other. Here at the base of the last telegraph pole, with all out doors for floor room and the blue zenith for a covering, the grunt of the bison and the howl of the cayute for his neighbor, with the antelope scampering around to satisfy its curiosity as to the intentions of their new neighbors, the operator can talk with all nations of the world. The prairie is strewed thick with the carcases of the buffalo killed this fall for the hides ; last fall they left them to spoil on the prairie but why, I know not. I set out to tell you something of the products and the markets of this valley but I have over reached my limits already. I will do so in my next. We here are anticipating a large emigration now as we expect Greeley will send all the young men west. Good by.

T. B. THOMPSON.

Important Decision.

A case was last week decided by the Supreme Court, which is of considerable interest not only to school directors but to citizen generally :

Judge Agnew delivered the opinion of the court in the case of Francis J. Ferree vs. the School Directors of the sixth ward, Allegheny, in which the judgment of the court below was affirmed. This was a writ of error of the Court of Common Pleas of that county, and the action was brought to determine whether school directors have a right to enter upon improved property for school purposes. Ferree owned a dwelling house adjoining the school property, in Sixth ward, and the board having failed to negotiate with the owner for it, had viewers appointed, and then took possession of it for school purposes. The case was brought in the Court of Common, Pleas to recover the property, and a verdict for defendant was rendered. The case was then carried up to the Supreme Court. The opinion of Judge Agnew was as follows : "In the case of Brocket vs. Ohio and Pennsylvania railroad company, 2d Harris' 241, it was held that the right of a railroad company to enter upon and appropriate land for the use of its road includes the right to remove a dwelling house. The act of the 9th of April, 1867, Purdon by Brightly, 1452, pl. 1, uses the word 'ground' in the first part of the section as "synonymous with land, the words used in all other parts of the section ; as such land and said land. To confine the word land or ground to such only as is bare of buildings, would render the act often then inoperative in closely built towns or cities. We see no freason, therefore, to exclude from the power of the school directors the authority to enter upon and occupy improved lots. Nor do we think that the ownership by the school district of an adjoining lot, will prevent the directors from taking, in addition thereto, so much ground as is necessary for the eligible sites for school houses referred to in the act; where (as here) both the properties together do not exceed the quantity allowed by the act for such purposes." Judgement affirmed.

THE ALDINE. An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the Handsomest Peri-odical in the World. A Repre-sentative and Champion of American Taste. Not for Sale in Book or News Stores.

Not for Sale in Book of News Stores. THE ALDINE, while issued with all the reg-ularity, has none of the temporary or finstly in-terest characteristic of ordinary periodicals.— It is an eigent miscellany of pure, light, and graceful literature; and a collection of pic-tures, the rarest specimans of artistic skill in black and white. Although each succeeding numbor affords fresh picasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALLINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publica-tions may claim superior cheapness, as com-pared with rivals of a similar class, THE AL-DINE is a unique and original enception— alone and unapproached—absolutely without competion in price or character. The posses-sor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there are the chromos, be-sides." its cost; and then, there are the chromos, besides !

ART DEPARTMENT.

A B T D E P A R T M E N T. Notwithstanding the increase in the price of subscription last Fall when THE ALDINE as-sumed its present noble proportions and repre-sentative character, the edition was more than Doubled during the past year; proving that the American public appreciate, and will sup-port, a sincere effort in the cause of Art. The publishers, anxious to justify the ready confi-dence thus demonstrated, have excreted them-selves to the utmost to develop and improve the work, and the plans for the coming year, as unfolded by the monthly issues, will astonish and delight even the most sanguine friends of THE ALDINE. The publishers are authorized to aunounce

The publishers are authorized to announce designs from many of the most eminent Artists of America.

In addition, THE ALDINE will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success, and with a view to the highest artistic success, and greatest general interest; avoiding such as have become familiar, through photographs or coples of any kind. The quarterly tinted plates, for 1873, will re-produce four of John S. Davisi inimitable child-sketches, appropriate to the four seasons.— These plates, appearing in the issues for Janu-ary, April, and October, would be alone worth the price of a year's subscription. The popular feature of a copiously illustra-ted "Christmas" number will be continued. To possess such a valuable epitome of the art world at a cost so trifling, will command the subscriptions of thousands in every section of the country; but, as the usefulness and at-tractions of THE ALDINE can be enhanced, in proportion to the numberical lucrease of its supporters, the publishers propose to make "as-surance doubly sure," by the following unpar-alleled offer of alleled offer of

 PREMIUM CHROMOS FOR 1873.
Every subscriber to THE ALDINE, who pays in advance for the year 1873, will receive, with-out additional charge, a pair of beautiful oil chromos, after J. J. Hill, the emboant English painter. The pictures, entitled "The Village Belle," and "Crossing the Moor," are 14x20 inchess—are printed from 25 different plates, re-quiring 25 impressions and tints to perfect each picture. The same chromos are sold for $30 per pair in the art stores. As it is the determina-tion of the reach of competition in every depart-ment, the chromos will be found correspond-ingly ahead of any that can be offered by other periodicals. Every subscriber will receive a certificate, over the signature of the publishers, guarantesing that the chromos delivered shall be equal to the samples furnished the agent, or the money will be refunded. The distribution of pictures of this grade, free to the subscribers to a five dollar periodical, will mark an epoch in the history of Art ; and, considering the unpre-cedented cheapness of the price for THE AL-DINE itself, the marvel fails little short of a miracle, even to those best acquainted with the achievements of inventive genius and improv-ed mechanical appliances. (For further filus-trations of these chromos, see November isaue of THE ALDINE.)
THE LITERARY DEPARTMENT PREMIUM CHROMOS FOR 1873.

THE ALDINE.) THE LITERARY DEPARTMENT will continue under the care of Mr. RICHARD HENRY STODDART, assisted by the best writers and poets of the day, who will strive to have the literature of THE ADLINE always in keeping with its artistic attractions. TEDMS
