

No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion. Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the Regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia. In these complaints it has no equal, and one bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

For Female Complaints. In young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout. Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs. They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, and in Bilious Diseases.

For Skin Diseases. Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blanches, Spots, Pimples, Pastulas, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

HUMOROUS.

Calling for Pepper.

During the theatrical season of last year, the drama of "The Long Strike" was produced at one of our theatres, and for the manipulation of the telegraph instrument, which plays an important part in the most important act of the play, Jim was engaged.

His position was such that he could see the audience without being seen, and when, upon taking his position, discovering in the auditorium a brother operator from Memphis, by name Pepper—who had that day arrived in town—he determined to have a little sport on his own account.

Accordingly, when the time came for the sending of the first dispatch, Jim loudly sounded on his machine the words, "How are you, Pepper?"

The quick professional ear of Pepper caught the words instantly, and wondering "who the deuce it was," straightened up and stared at the stage as if he would have given two dollars and a half to know something.

"Pepper, how's your mother?" came from the instrument, and Pepper thoroughly mystified, turned confidently to his fair partner to express his utter astonishment at the most singular circumstance.

As luck would have it, the auditorium held quite a delegation of telegraphers, who by this time saw that Jim was up to one of his tricks, and with one accord they began to look about the theatre for "Pepper."

Jim saw the effect of his experiment, and enjoyed himself hugely. Pepper hadn't got through telling his girl all about it, when there came another message.

"That won't do, old Pepper. I know you well, and you hadn't better be fooling that confiding creature with any soft nonsense."

This roused the telegraph boys to the very pitch of curiosity; and many of them stood up, gazing longingly about them as if their only object in life was to discover Pepper.

Pepper felt that they knew him, and the confusion which had been gradually covering his handsome features, grew into mortification when he saw so many eyes evidently leveled at him, and at last culminated in his withdrawing from the theatre. But Jim was bound to give him a parting shot; and as he faded from view he heard borne to his ears: "Good by, Pepper. Put your trust in Providence, but keep your powder dry."

Those who appreciate the affair were much amused, and so, indeed, was the victim himself when on the following day, he learned who had so neatly captured him.

"I saw a store to-day—a shrub store—and there was a sign hanging out. 'All kinds of roots for sale.' I went in, and says I, 'Got all kinds of roots?'"

Says he, "Yes sir." Says I, "Give me ten cents worth of root hog or die."

If I hadn't been afraid he was armed I wouldn't have run as fast as I did.

The enunciation of texts of sermons sometimes occasions a quiet smile from the hearer. We remember one occasion of this sort when we could not restrain our risibles. A small preacher, whose head only rose a little above the front of the pulpit, once rose and with a squeaking voice said, "It is I. Be not afraid."

"I am a self-made man," said a native of Stonington the other day, to a New York gentleman, with whom he had been driving a sharp bargain. "Glad to hear you say so," responded the New Yorker, who had been worsted in the bargain, "for it relieves the Lord of a great responsibility."

"I met an old friend in Philadelphia named Bartlett. Says I, 'What's the news?' Says he, 'My wife had twins yesterday.' Says I, 'You're raising Bartlett pairs, ain't you?'"

A rural gentleman standing over a register in one of our stores, says the Danbury News, attracted general attention to himself by observing to his wife: "Mariat, I guess I'm going to have a fever, I feel such hot streaks a runin' up my legs."

A Scotchman asked an Irishman why farthings were coined in England, and Pat's answer was: "To give Scotchmen an opportunity to subscribe for charitable institutions."

A king's fool who condemned to die was allowed chose the form of death, chose old age.—An Iowa girl being asked the same question, remarked that if she must die she preferred to be smothered—with kisses.

"Now, Johnny Wells, can you tell me what's meant by a miracle?" "Yes, Teacher, mother says if you don't marry the new deputy sheriff, it will be a miracle."

A strong all the ratifications of society, pious hack drivers are scarcer than plaid zebars, and plaid zebars are scarcer than toad-stools with cane bottoms.
