The Directors of the Company urge upon the citizens of the County, the importance of prompt action so that the work of grading the road can be commenced this season.

C. J. T. McINTIRE, Secretary. F. MORTIMER, President. WM. A. SPONSLER, Treasurer.

Bloomfield, May 27, 1873.

O. K.—Your communication in reply to "Upper End," was received too late for insertion. It will be published next week.

Fire in Liverpool Twp.—On Wednesday last, the house of Lewis Myers in Liverpool township, was totally destroyed by fire. Nearly all his household goods were consumed with it. The fire originated through a defective stove pipe. No insurance.

Amos Watts of Blain, Pa., will offer at public sale, on Saturday, June 21st., a Tract of Land situated near Sandy Hill Store, containing 43 acres, having thereon erected a good house, barn, shop and other outbuildings. Terms easy.

Frozen Corn.—Many of the farmers in this county have had to re-plant their corn, the seed failing to sprout. This was undoubtedly caused by the freezing of the grain during the excessive cold winter. Persons who had put their seed in the house in the fall where it was protected have had much less replanting to do than those who planted corn from the crib.

Fire in Duncannon.—On Monday of last week, shortly after noon a fire was discovered on the roof of the building known as the "Mansion House" situated near the iron works. By great exertions the flames were confined mostly to the roof, and were extinguished before the building was very seriously damaged. The fire probably originated from a freight engine which passed shortly before the fire broke out.

Went Up.—The Huntingdon Monitor of last week says: An unexpected ascension took place at the Lutheran Church, Jackson township, last Sabbath. After morning services and while the congregation was leaving the church, Mrs. John Miller of Petersburg, of Huntingdon county, was suddenly deprived of her wedding veil. A gust of wind lifted it from her head and carried it in regions above. It was a beautiful sight to all except Mrs. Miller, to see it sailing upward, until wholly lost to the view.

Accident at Middletown.—Between eight and nine o'clock, on Monday evening, directly after the audience had left Smith's Hall, on Main street, Middletown, at the close of an entertainment of some kind, the heavy chandelier in the centre of the hall, fell upon the floor with a crash, and the lamps being filled with coal oil, there was great danger for a time of the building being set on fire. The prompt action of a few gentlemen present, who threw out of the second story windows several benches which had taken fire, and scattered some ashes or coal dust upon the burning oil on the floor, the mischief was soon overcome. Had the accident occurred when the audience was still in the hall, a panic would unquestionably have followed, and in the rush from the hall to the street, down a steep flight of stairs, many persons doubtless would have been severely injured.

Suicide.—The Harrisburg State Journal of the 28th ult., says: Between 9 and 10 o'clock last evening Mrs. Jennie Dennis, aged nineteen years, wife of Mr. Wm. Dennis, lock-keeper at the Pennsylvania lock, foot of Walnut street, committed suicide by jumping into the canal, about a hundred yards above the lock, on the tow-path side. It appears that Mrs. Dennis had been ill for the past four months, and was laboring under a fit of melancholy. She was heard screaming after she plunged into the water, by Mr. Patrick Lynch, who had charge of the lock, in the absence of her husband. She was fished out of the water by three colored men named Wm. H. Gray, Geo. Snyder, and George Thompson, in about half an hour after she was drowned. The men used an ordinary boat hook, which caught a portion of her garments. Coroner Porter was immediately summoned and the following persons sworn as jurors: A. H. Baum, J. Lybrand, E. R. S. Boyd, Theodore Plets, Abram Roat, and Frank Baker, who after examining a number of witnesses, rendered the following verdict: That the said Jennie Dennis came to her death by voluntary drowning, while laboring under an attack of melancholy, produced by continued illness.

Scythe Stones.—I have a large lot of superior Scythe Stones for sale at low prices. A liberal discount to the trade. F. MORTIMER.

A Spunky Customer.—A Lewistown paper of last week says: On Monday of last week John Winn was formally dispossessed of his household goods and dwelling, the latter situated upon the long disputed lands in Licking Creek Valley, which, by a recent decree of the county Court, were declared to belong to Wheeler & West. Sheriff Mutterbaugh and Constable Hughes of this place; accompanied by J. English West, Esq., and probably several other persons, proceeded to Winn's residence, and, under authority of an execution, levied upon and removed all his personal effects, with a view to their sale, in order to make good a portion, at least, of bills of costs entered against him, amounting to over $700. After the household goods had been removed, Mr. West fired the house and burnt it to the ground; but, sympathizing with Winn's children, he, by personal efforts, secured employment for the two boys, and also gave the daughter money to pay her way to her sister's home, whither she desired to go. He also made Winn several offers of assistance, if he would keep away from the lands from which he had been legally ejected, and hereafter give the owners no further trouble. But, Winn is imperturbable as well as inexorable. He now makes his home in a pen or cabin on the premises, and swears he will shoot dead any man who shall dare to again disturb him.

Row in a Circus.—A correspondent from Lancaster sends the following:

Howe's London Circus exhibited in this place on Monday last. After evening entertainment at which some dispute arose with the employees, two of them became so enraged as to attempt to murder each other. The one sustained several very dangerous and almost fatal wounds from a knife used on him by his antagonist. When the affray was noticed by other employees, they immediately ran to the spot, and learning that the injured man had been imposed on while doing certain duty about the cauvass, they at once seized the man in possession of the knife, regardless of his weapon and defiance and were in the act of swinging him by the neck to the centre pole, when their intentions were foiled by the interference of the city blue coats. Nevertheless, they had already so mortally beaten and kicked the man about, previous to their decision to lynch him, that he has since died of the abuse inflicted on him, whilst the man he so brutally stabbed has partially recovered.

Van Amburg will exhibit here next Monday, June 2nd, which together with the observance of Whitsuntide by the Menon of the city and surrounding country, will, it is supposed create more general excitement and attract more people than any 4th of July, Lancaster has ever experienced.

A Good Regulation.—The general manager of the P. R. R., A. J. Cassett, Esq., has issued the following order which will perhaps help abate the car peddling nuisance:

"It having been alleged that news agents have offered for sale in the cars of this company, without the knowledge of their employers, immoral and obscene publications, passenger conductors are directed to see that such publications are not sold, and which might soil or injure the upholstery of the cars or the clothing of the passengers.

The sale of prize portfolios, gift confections, or similar devices partaking of the nature of lotteries, is forbidden on the cars of this company.

Passengers are respectfully requested to report to the division superintendents or to the general superintendent, any violation of these regulations which may be under their notice.

Cumberland County.—From the Cumberland County papers of last week, we copy the following:

A negro named Young, in the employ of Mr. Isaac Parker, of Carlisle, while attempting to get on the night freight near the depot, on last Friday a week, missed his hold and fell, the train passing over his toes. He was taken to his home when a physician was called in, who considered it necessary to amputate the toes, which was accordingly done.

One of the workmen in an ore bank, on the line of the South Mountain Railroad, near Hunter's Run, was instantly killed on Tuesday afternoon by the sudden caving in of the earth. We have not been able to learn the name of the unfortunate man, nor the particulars of the sad accident.

As a little daughter of Mr. John Cameron's, who resides on the Chambersburg pike, was on her way from school about ten days since, with a little companion, she was ruthlessly attacked by a large dog and bitten severely. The little girl's injuries were speedily attended to, and she is improving rapidly. The following morning the report of a gun was heard in the neighborhood, and that dog don't disturb innocent children much any more. He has gone to the country where all bad dogs go.

On last Friday a week Messrs Ahl of Newville purchased of Messrs Brindle and Webber, a tract of land containing about 700 acres. This land is located in the South Mountain in Monroe township, and is said to contain a large quantity of valuable iron ore.

Bark, Bark.—500 cords bark wanted at the Bloomfield Tannery. SAMUEL A. PEALE.

Brief Items.

An up-country editor has been presented with a "patent hold-back"—whatever that may be.

We know an editor who ought to be presented with a patent "go ahead," as he holds back too much now.

The axe manufactory in East Towanda, made their first axe on Wednesday last.

There is a three-legged sow in Pine Brook, Luzerne county, which recently gave birth to a litter of three pigs, having each but three legs.

A man of eighty-nine, at Rushfield, N. Y., was going to marry a girl of fifteen, when his friends soused him in the river and brought about a change of mind.

Duncannon is improving quite rapidly. While on a visit there last week, we noticed a number of new buildings going up.

Dr. Jos. Swartz and Wm. King are putting up very fine residences and should the D. B. & L. Road terminate in the upper portion of the town, it would be only a short time before that section of the place would be the most populous.

A man at the Lewistown end of the river bridge manages a gate at the Station side of the bridge, to keep teams from entering about car-time. His machine is a wire that traverses the entire length of the bridge, from the gate, along the roof, to the town side, where it is brought down and fastened to a cylinder with a crank, which the man winds and unwinds just as it is needed to close or open the gate.

The Juniata Republican says "there are no less than twenty-one candidates for Sheriff in the Democratic ranks in this county, and the contest for that nomination is getting fast and furious. As many as five are candidates in one township."

Persons living in that county must be careful how they throw stones then or they might hit the future sheriff.

Espy S. Miller, whose arrest for robbing the mails on the Southern Penn. railroad we noticed some time ago, had a trial last week, was found guilty and sentenced to three years imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Quite a number of shad were caught last week in the Juniata, between Duncannon and the Acqueduct.

Cut in a Fight.—On Saturday last, during a dispute, which originated about some cigars in the store of David McCoy at Roseburg, John Wesley Reed was so seriously cut by a butcher knife in the hands of Tom McCoy, that there are small hopes of his recovery. Our informant says that Reed first made an attack upon young McCoy, and that the injury was inflicted in self defense. Reed received a severe gash in the throat—and another on the side of the face.

THE ALDINE for June shows what the landscape painters of America can do, when they have a mind to work, in black and white. They paint pictures which are seen for a short time in their studios, and then are seen no more, except by their purchasers; being, in fact as much removed from the actual world of art as if they did not exist. It is otherwise with them when they are drawn on wood, and seen by the thousands of readers of THE ALDINE, in every section of the country, who constitute a powerful art constituency, and in a certain sense represents Posterity. Mr. Kruseman Van Eiten's oil pictures are well known to connoisseurs of art; his "View near Granby, Conn.," in the June ALDINE, makes his talent known throughout the United States. It is a delicious drawing—as picturesque as Nature herself, when she tries to be—full of light and life and beauty—"a song without words." Mr. R. W. Hubbard's "Distant View of Mount Mansfield" is one of the most delightful landscapes we have ever seen. It possesses all the characteristics of his old paintings, their grace, tenderness, and subtle beauty, and so thoroughly, that we have no wish to have it translated into color. These two drawings are the gems of the number, as regards landscapes. There are also figure-pieces of beautiful design and the usual quantity of interesting and instructive reading matter, with some choice poetical contributions. Subscription price $5, including Chromos "Village Belle" and "Crossing the Moor." James Sutton & Co., publishers, 58 Maiden Lane, New York.
