NEW BLOOMFIELD, PENN'A. Tuesday, July 22, 1873.

Messrs. E. P. Bowman & Co., No. 30 North 5th street, are our daily authorized advertising agents for Philadelphia. Advertisers can make contracts with them at our lowest rates.

MAJOR KIRK HAINES is announced as a candidate for State Senator from this district.

Jacob Thompson, formerly Secretary of the interior, prints a long letter denying the statements, implicating him in the alleged frauds in that department under his administration, and refers to the fact that a congressional committee entirely exonerated him from any complicity in the alleged discrepancies.

The Senatorial Conference from Blair, Somerset, Bedford and Fulton counties elected D. W. Mullin delegate to the State Convention. Bedford and Fulton elected John J. Cromer Representative delegate. Both were unanimously instructed for Hon. Samuel Henry for State Treasurer, and both are friends of Hon. Wm. M. Hall, for Supreme Judge.

TWO STEAMSHIPS have been lost this season, as is claimed by carelessness of the officers. The investigation in each case most have convinced the investigating board that the charges were well founded, as the Captains were both punished, by suspending them, from command. Suspension by the neck in such cases would we think have a tendency to make such accidents less frequent, and be a punishment better suited to the crime.

Curious Libel Case.

The Paris correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette writing on the 3d of July, tells as follows the story of the libel suit against James Gordon Bennett, proprietor of the New York Herald, just decided in the French courts:

A curious case was tried here yesterday, and terminated in a decision which will no doubt rather surprise the American press. The facts of the case are as follows: In the year 1868 Miss Perriman, a young American lady of wealth, fortune and intelligence, married M. de Brimont, a nobleman of the champagne country, and a gentleman well known in fashionable life. A year after the marriage Madame de Brimont died, leaving a daughter. M. de Brimont, who had no fortune when he married and whose tastes were most extravagant, soon became aware of the painful fact that Mr. Perriman had no intention of supporting him in idleness. M. de Brimont brought an action against his father-in-law, and in accordance with French law Mr. Perriman was condemned to make him an allowance of 18,000 francs a year, or 12,000 for his daughter and 6,000 francs for himself. Mr. Perriman, being an irritable and obstinate gentleman, disposed of his house and furniture here and returned to New York to avoid paying. M. de Brimont pursued his relative across the Atlantic and attacked him in the American courts, getting considerably the worse of the action. In fact, the tribunal of New York not only refused to confirm the judgment of the French court, but it censured the conduct of the plaintiff very severely.

The New York Herald and other American papers also condemned the conduct of M. de Brimont in the language of the country, and one of these articles was copied into the American Register, published here. For this offence the editor of the Register was sentenced to one month's imprisonment, a fine of 1,000 francs and 30,000 francs damages. On appeal this sentence was reduced to a fine of 1,000 francs and 5,000 francs damages. M. de Brimont having heard that Mr. James Gordon Bennett has just taken an apartment in Paris, attacked that gentleman also; and the editor of the New York Herald was condemned to the same fine as Mr. Kremer and 8,000 francs damages. It is said the proceedings were highly interesting, but no account of them has been published in the papers, which are forbidden by law to report press trials. Newspapers are generally prosecuted for the abuse of the government or libel; and if the proceedings in Court were published, every journal in France would be at liberty to reproduce the actionable article.

About one hundred persons who partook of ice-cream at a festival held at Tuckerton, N. J., on the 14th ult., were taken violently ill at about 9 o'clock on the following morning. One person died and several persons are not expected to recover. The symptoms were similar to cholera morbus. The gentleman who furnished the ice-cream took some of it to Philadelphia to have it analyzed.

Sewing Machine Sales.

The sales of sewing machines in 1873, reported, show, the following remarkable results:

Table with 2 columns: Company Name and Sales Figures. Includes Singer Manufacturing Company, Howe Machine Company, Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company, etc.

A Curious Will Case.

The Troy Times relates the following concerning a well known citizen of that place who in 1845, married an estimable lady there: For a while they lived happily together, but on account of family dissensions in 1848 they signed an agreement that they would live apart. The fruit of their union was a daughter, who remained with the mother. Some time after the husband, presuming he had been legally divorced, married again, and shortly thereafter his wife followed his example. In time the gentleman's second wife died, leaving him a son, and a few years ago he married again. The first and third wives are still living, but a few days ago the gentleman died, leaving the bulk of his property, amounting to, $35,000, to his last wife and family, consisting of two children. Since the death of the gentleman it has transpired that, not having been divorced from his first wife, he committed bigamy in marrying again. The first wife will now bring an action, through counsel, to break the will, which has not yet been presented for probate. She claims that when the will was made her first husband was not in his sound mind, and that undue influence was exerted over him. She will claim dower in all real estate transactions, and has engaged counsel to prosecute her claim in behalf of herself and daughter, the latter being also married. All the persons are of the greatest respectability, and the case is a very hard one for all concerned.

A Dutchman's Lottery.

A German went into the lottery office in Louisville the other day and inquired for ticket No. 9. He either wanted 9, or 99, or 999, or 99,999. But no other number would satisfy him. On inquiry as to his reasons for this particular number, the following facts in his life were learned: He came to this country when 9 years old. After he had been here 9 years he got married. Nine months after the wedding his wife gave him a child. The baby, when 9 days old was christened. He lived with his wife 9 years and during that period his wife presented him with 9 children. Then he had a fuss with her, and she banged him over the head 9 times with the staff of a beer keg, from the effects of which he lay in bed nine days. He left that wife then, and had been a grass widower just 9 years on the day he applied for the ticket. He hoped with ticket No. 9 to draw money enough to recuperate his finances, which were reduced to $9 which he offered for the ticket. On being informed that there was no ticket remaining the number of which was composed entirely of 9's, he looked dejected, but immediately went out and drank 9 glasses of beer. Then he returned and said he would wait until only 9 tickets were left, and then take them all.

A Bold Robbery.

At Maysville City a bold attempt was made by three men to rob the bank of Decker & Jewett. Frank Whipple, one of the robbers, entered the bank and presented a pistol at Mr. Jewett's head. Mr. Jewett fell down and made his way to the desk where Mr. Bingham, the chief clerk was writing. Whipple leaped over the counter, followed by Mr. Bingham, who instantly shot Whipple in the neck. A desperate and general fight then ensued. Several shots were fired, when the combatants clubbed their pistols. Finally Whipple turned to run out of the bank, when Bingham and Jewett simultaneously fired upon him with double-barreled shot guns, and he fell mortally wounded, to the sidewalk. Whipple says he had two confederates, named John Toney and W. P. Winklesy. They escaped and officers and citizens are pursuing them. Whipple is shot through the body in many places.

Wm. E. Udderzook, charged with the murder near Penningtonville, was arrested in Baltimore, on Tuesday last, while at work in a Planing Mill. He was at once delivered to Sheriff Gill, of Chester county.

The murdered man has been recognized as W. S. Goss of Baltimore. Udderzook was a prominent member of the "Mechanics," and was one of the officers of the Grand Lodge.

Miscellaneous News Items.

A single flash of lightning recently killed sixty-six head of sheep for a Michigan farmer.

Louisville, Ky., July 18.—Last Sunday at Shiloh church, near Hopkinsville, Mrs. Emily Owen dropped dead at the altar while in the act of partaking of communion.

Mr. Benjamin Lougeneker, of Woodbury, Bedford county, fell dead on Monday evening, July 14th, while walking through a pasture field to which he had gone for his cows. He was about 70 years of age, and well known and highly respected in the community.

During a heavy hail-storm a passenger train on the Erie railroad from Hornellsville ran into a gravel train near Cheektowaga station, four miles from Buffalo, seriously injuring four laborers on the gravel train, and cutting and bruising several other persons.

A Johnstown youth named George Mullen, created considerable excitement the other day, by choking his girl and threatening to commit suicide, because she went back on him. But a short time in the lockup has "taken the starch right out of him."

Mrs. M'Arthur, of Los Angeles, because her husband scolded her about the character of their breakfast, took a large dose of strychnine, and died soon after. An official investigation into the conduct of the husband is demanded.

Columbus, O., July 17.—There has been seven deaths from cholera in the penitentiary since last night. The average time of the sickness of the patients was eight hours. The guards and outside attendants, who are not shut up in the cells at night, have been entirely free from disease.

While a pious couple of Momence, Ill., were at church one recent Sunday their house was entered by a party of desperadoes, who hanged the sole remaining occupant, an old lady relation. Moral: Either the old lady ought to have gone to church regularly, or the rest of the family oughtn't.

Some Michigan boys feeling the need of some wholesome recreation, stuffed a suit of clothes with straw, and buried it, killed a couple of chickens, and strewed the blood around the grave, and trampled the ground so that it gave evidence of a fearful struggle. The horrified citizens soon discovered the grave, summoned the coroner, and impelled a jury, dug up the body, and—adjourned in a hurry.

A fire broke out in the building occupied by the Navy Department on Tuesday morning last. The building was seriously damaged, and quite a number of papers and documents, of value to the government were destroyed. It is supposed the fire was lighted by rats getting among matches. Most people will naturally want to know why matches were allowed around loose among valuable papers.

The miners employed at the Empire Colliery, in the Lehigh region, operated by the Lehigh coal and navigation company, dissatisfied with the scale of wages, have struck for an advance. The company have determined not to accede to their demand. It is feared that if the advance prices are not paid by the company that there will be a general strike among the miners of the Wilkesbarre region to compel other operators to pay a higher basis. As it is there seems to be an extended dissatisfaction throughout the region.

A clerical gentleman, in examining a Sunday school, asked the class before him if any of them could tell him anything about the apostle Peter. A little girl raised her hand, much to the gratification of the examiner. "Come up here, my good little girl," said he, "I am glad you remember your Bible lesson so well. Now, tell the other boys and girls what you know of St. Peter." The girl was quite willing and commenced, "Peter, Peter, pumpkin-eater, had a wife and couldn't keep her: he put her in a—," but before she could get to "pumpkin shell" the school was in a roar.

Singular Death of a Clergyman.

On Saturday afternoon, during the terrible storm that prevailed, the Rev. Edward Snyder, who lives near Millport, this county, was struck and killed by lightning. Mr. Snyder, with Owen Schoneberger, had been mowing when the storm commenced, and at once started for shelter. On the way Mr. Snyder was struck and Owens badly stunned, but he managed to get into a barn near by. Mr. Snyder was found dead in the road where he fell. His hat was badly torn, and half of the back part of his shoe was entirely gone. There was a hole through the leather heel of the shoe the size of a small bullet, also in the heel of his foot corresponding precisely with that in the shoe. The shoe on the left foot was but slightly torn. Otherwise there were no marks upon the deceased person or his clothing, except a bruise on the face, which was caused by a fall. The electricity apparently entered the upper part of his body, and was discharged through his feet to the earth. There were no marks of the lightning where Mr. Snyder was struck, nor had he anything with him which would be likely to attract the fluid.—Mauch Chunk Gazette.

A Crippled Child's Matinee.

The Cleveland Plaindealer says that P. T. Barnum's love for children is proverbial. In Cleveland a little five year old cripple at a friend's house has become quite a favorite with the veteran showman, and the child has learned to expect a visit from his kind-hearted patron immediately upon his arrival in the city, and Wednesday, Barnum called at the house. The usual greetings followed, but a shadow came over the little invalid's countenance as he remembered his inability to attend the menagerie. "Never mind," said Mr. Barnum, "if you can't go to the show, we must bring the show to you," and then departed. Presently, the child, and indeed the whole household, was startled at seeing a procession of elephants, camels and dromedaries walk quietly past the house and halt in the back yard. The performing elephants gave a matinee, and the beautiful child, bolstered up at the window, gave his orders with the air of a prince. In half an hour the procession reformed and, under the charge of their keeper, the docile but ungainly animals marched back to the menagerie.

A Terrible Fall.

A terrible disaster happened at Ionia, Mich., a few days since by which Professor LaMontaine, the well known aeronaut of Michigan, who advertised a balloon ascension, met his death. The Professor, who was a daring man, advertised to ascend from Ionia, in the afternoon. An immense concourse of people assembled to witness the ascension. The balloon ascended about five hundred feet, when to the horror of the shuddering spectators, it collapsed, the ropes dropped down from under the basket, and Professor LaMontaine fell within a short distance of the point from which he ascended. Where the body struck it made a hole in the ground nearly a foot deep.

Murder and Suicide.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 13.—Great excitement prevails here over a terrible tragedy enacted at Harmony, Pa. A young man named John Frazier some time since eloped with Kate Foolstick, a girl seventeen years of age, from this city where they both resided. They went to Pittsburg and thence to Harmony, where they stopped at a hotel. While the girl was in bed Frazier shot her in the head with a revolver and then shot himself. He lived but a few moments. The girl is still living but cannot recover. No definite cause is assigned for the deed, but it is supposed Frazier was jealous.

Wells' Carbolic Tablets

Are a sure cure for all diseases of the Respiratory Organs, Sore Throat, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, Catarrh, Hoarseness, Dryness of the Throat, Windpipe, or Bronchial Tubes, and all Diseases of the Lungs. In all cases of sudden cold, however taken, these TABLETS should be promptly and freely used. They equalize the circulation of the blood, mitigate the severity of the attack, and will, in a very short time, restore healthy action to the affected organs. WELLS' CARBOLIC TABLETS are put up only in blue boxes. Take no substitutes. If they can't be found at your druggist's send at once to the agents in New York, who will forward them by return mail. Don't be deceived by imitations. Sold by druggists. Price 25 cents a box. JOHN Q. KELLOGG, 18 Platt St., N. Y. Sole Agent for the United States. Send for Circular.

IS THE MOST POWERFUL CLEANSER, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica. IT IS SPECIALLY ADAPTED to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from the sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blisters, Boils, Fustules, Scrofula, etc., etc. WHEN WEARY AND LANGUID from overwork and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power. IN THE HEAT OF SUMMER, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

Dr. Wells' Extract of Jurubera

IS PREPARED DIRECTLY from the South American Plant, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the Vitiated Blood, strengthen the Liver and Spleen, and remove all Obstructions and Impaired and Enfeebled Organs. IT SHOULD BE FREELY TAKEN, as Jurubera is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient Purifier, Tonic and Deobstruent known in the whole range of medicinal plants. JOHN Q. KELLOGG, 18 Platt St., New York. Sole Agent for the United States. Price One Dollar per Bottle. Send for Circular. 25
