The U. B. Mutual Aid Society of Pennsylvania, Present the following plan for consideration to such persons who wish to become members:

The payment of SIX DOLLARS on application, FIVE DOLLARS annually for FOUR YEARS, and thereafter TWO DOLLARS annually during life, with pro-rata mortality assessment at the death of each member, which for the First Class is as follows:

Table with columns: Age, Assessment, Age, Assessment, Age, Assessment, Age, Assessment. Rows 15-27.

Will entitle a member to a certificate of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS, to be paid at his death to his legal heirs or assigns, whenever such death may occur.

A member, or his heirs, may name a successor; but if notice of the death of a member to the Secretary is not accompanied with the name of a successor, then the Society will put in a successor and fill the vacancy, according to the Constitution of the Society.

Should the member die before his four payments of five dollars are made, the remaining unpaid part will be deducted from the one Thousand Dollars due his heirs; his successor will then pay only two dollars annually during his lifetime, and the mortality assessments.

Male and Female from fifteen to sixty-five years of age, of good moral habits, in good health, hale, and sound of mind, irrespective of creed, or race, may become members. For further information, address L. W. CRAUMER, (See U. B. Mutual Aid Society.)

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.—Notice is hereby given, that Letters of Administration of m. et. l. on the estate of John Baker late of Spring township, Perry county, Pa., deceased, have been granted to the undersigned, pending in said township. July 22, 1873.—6t

At a late sitting of the Cork Assizes, a case was brought before the court, in which the principal witness for the defence was a tanner, well known in the surrounding country by the sobriquet of "Crazy Pat."

Upon Crazy Pat being called for his evidence, the attorney for the prosecution exerted to the most possible extent his knowledge of legal chicanery, in the endeavor to force the witness into some slight inconsistency, upon which he might build a point; but he was excessively annoyed to find that Crazy Pat's evidence was consistent throughout.

Perceiving that acute questioning failed to answer his purpose, the disciple of Coke and Blackstone betook himself to that oftentimes successful resource of lawyers, ridicule.

"What did you say your name was?" he inquired flippantly.

"Folks call me Crazy Pat, but—" "Crazy Pat, eh? A very euphonious title; quite romantic, eh?"

"Romantic or not, sur, it wudn't be a bad idea if the parliament wud give it to yourself an' leave me to chuse another."

This caused a slight laugh in the court room and the presiding judge peeped over his spectacles at the attorney, as much as to say, "You have your match now."

"And what did you say your trade was?" continued the disconcerted barrister, with an angry look at the witness.

"I'm a tanner, sur."

"A tanner, eh! And how long do you think it would take to tan an ox hide?"

"Well, sur, that's owin' to circumstances."

"Did you ever tan the hide of an ass?" "An ass? No, sur; but if you'll just step down the lane, after Coort, I'll show ye I cud tan the hide of an ass in the shortest end of three minutes."

Curious Epitaphs. A stone-cutter received the following epitaph from a German, to be cut upon the tombstone of his wife:

"Mine wife Susan is dead, if she had life till nex friday she'd been dead shust two weeks. As a tree falls so must it stan, all tings is impossible mit God."

Any one who visits Childwall, England, can read in the cemetery there, the following epitaph:

"Here lies me, and my three daughters. Brought here by using Selditz-waters. If we had stuck to Epsom salts, We wudn't have been in these here vaults."

In a town in Connecticut a man died, who had a large wen on top of his head, and his tombstone bore the following tribute to his memory, and also to the wen:

"Our father lies beneath the sod, His spirit's gone unto his God, We never more shall hear his tread, Nor see the wen upon his head."

Robert Kemp ordered the following lines to be placed on the tombstone of his beloved partner:

"She once was mine, But now, oh, Lord I her to Thee resign, and remain your obedient, humble servant, Robert Kemp."

A man in Whitehall kicked another man and was arrested for so doing. When brought before a justice of the peace, he informed His honor that the man he had kicked was a lightning-rod man. The justice at once discharged him with the remark: "The man who wouldn't kick a lightning-rod man wherever he finds one, is unfit to enjoy the liberties for which Washington fought, and Thomas Paine wrote." That justice had paid five hundred dollars for lightning rods on his house last spring.

A modest young man at a dinner party, the other evening, put the following conundrum: "Why are most people who eat turkey, like babies?" No reply. The young man blushed and would have backed out, but finally gave the reason: "Because they are fond of breast." Two middle-aged ladies here fainting and the remains of the young man were carried out by the coroner on a shutter.

Elder sister, to her brother of about six summers: "Oh you wicked, bad boy! put down that pipe directly, sir, or I'll box your ears for you!" Junior brother, who has been smoking: "Box my ears if you dare! I'll go and tell papa you let cousin Jack kiss you behind the door yesterday."

N. B.—A truce was agreed upon.

Two young ladies and Mr. Thaddeus O'Grady, were conversing on age, when one of them put the home question: "Which of us do you think the elder, Mr. O'Grady?"

"Sure," replied the gallant Irishman, "you both look younger than each other."

Visitor: "How long has your master been away?" Irish footman: "Well, sorr, if he'd come home yesterday, he'd been gone a week to-morrow; but ev he doesn't return the day after, shture he'll been away a fort-night next Thursday."
