The U. B. Mutual Aid Society of Pennsylvania, Present the following plan for consideration to such persons who wish to become members:

The payment of SIX DOLLARS on application, FIVE DOLLARS annually for FOUR YEARS, and thereafter TWO DOLLARS annually during life, with pro-rata mortality assessment at the death of each member, which for the FIRST CLASS is as follows:

Table with 4 columns: Age, Assessment, and two unlabeled columns. Rows show data for ages 15 to 72.

Will entitle a member to a certificate of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS, to be paid at his death to his legal heirs or assigns, whenever such death may occur.

A member, or his heirs, may name a successor; but if notice of the death of a member to the Secretary is not accompanied with the name of a successor, then the Society will put in a successor and fill the vacancy, according to the Constitution of the Society.

Should the member die before his four payments of five dollars are made, the remaining unpaid part will be deducted from the one Thousand Dollars due his heirs; his successor will then pay only two dollars annually during his lifetime, and the mortality assessments.

Male and Female from fifteen to sixty-five years of age, of good moral habits, in good health, hale, and sound of mind, irrespective of creed, or race, may become members. Bidding Good-By Under Difficulties.

'Where were you going, sir, yesterday afternoon, when I met you?' 'I was going down to de river, massa, to see a young lady off dat I used to pay my distresses to.'

'Why didn't you accompany her?' 'I was goin', but I didn't hab de price ob de fare wid me. She was goin' to leab de United States.'

'To what country was she going?' 'To Jersey. She was on the hurrah-deck when I got down dar.'

'You mean on the hurricane deck.' 'Yes, and she waved me a-jesus wid her pocketsnickersting.'

'She waved you an adieu with her handkerchief.'

'So I got on de top ob a barrel dat had lard in it, and when I was up dar wavin' a-jesus, and jist as de steamer was goin' off, de head ob de barrel caved in, and I went ker-chunk up to my neck in de lard.'

'Then you were in a nice predicament, 'No, I wasn't—for I was in a nice grace.'

'What did you say when you found yourself there?' 'I didn't say much, only "Lard have mercy on me."'

I remember once going to a real old-fashioned Methodist "dipping." Among those who got washed was a damsel of some thirty summers, who had a cork leg. She was rather sensitive regarding the possession of that appendage, and as, in getting religion, did not get rid of that desirer strong in every female heart, to look her best, she kept that said cork leg on. You may imagine the result. I feel sornow to think how I laughed. Every time they undertook to plunge her under, pop up in the air would go the cork appendage. They had to give it up, and to this day that leg is "unregenerated."

Said an Irishman to the telegraph operator, "Do ye ever charge anybody for the address of a message?" "No," replied the operator. "And do ye charge for signing his name, sir?" said the customer. "No, sir?" "Well, then, will ye please send this? I just want my brother to know I am here," handing the following: "To John McFlinn—at New York—(signed)—Patrick McFlinn." It was sent as a tribute to Patrick's shrewdness.

As a fashionable young lady, fresh from boarding-school, came to her honest old father's breakfast-table, instead of speaking English, and saying, "Good morning," she spoke French, and said, "Bon jour."

"Of course the bone's yours, if you say so," responded the practical old gentleman, as he handed her the ossified portion of a beef-steak.

Two Milesians were standing at the Fairmount water-works in Philadelphia, watching the big wheels splashing the water in every direction, when one of them remarked: Mike, isn't this a quare country where they have to grind their water before they can use it.

"Yes, take her and welcome," responded an Illinois farmer, when a young man asked for his blushing daughter. "She's run away with a school-master, eloped with a showman, shot a wildcat, and whipped her mother, and the sooner you take her the better."

A professor, in explaining to a class of young ladies the entire theory, according to which the body is renewed every seven years, said: "Thus, Miss B., in seven years you will in reality be no longer Miss B." "I really hope I shan't" demurely responded the girl, casting down her eyes.

A New England advertiser wants "a woman who fears the Lord and weighs two hundred pounds," and the editor of the sheet in which the advertisement appears, remarks that a woman who weighs 200 pounds never fears the Lord or anybody else."

Two Titusville lawyers have entered into solemn compact not to drink intoxicating liquors, except when out duck shooting, for a year under a forfeit of $100. One of them keeps a duck in his back yard and shoots at it every time he is thirsty. His fellow contestant has just bought a duck too.

Thomas Ruth, near Centerville, Indiana, allowed a tree to fall upon him. He didn't get up again. His little cemetery residence with marble trimmings, looks well with the inscription: "T. Ruth, crushed to earth, will rise again."

An old lady, hearing some one reading about a Congressman-at-large, rushed to the kitchen door, shouting: Sarah Jane, Sarah Jane! don't you leave the clothes out all night, mind I tell you; for there's a Congressman at large!"

The home circuit—walking about with a baby at night.
