A Dreadful Finding.

The Pittsburg Evening Telegraph, of Saturday, narrates the following sickening story : Yesterday an elderly lady, thoroughly respectable in her appearance, and evidently in great affliction, came to this city in search of her daughter. She was conducted to the Mayor's office and there stated that she lived in Altoona. Some two or three weeks ago her daughter, a young girl of about eighteen years, left home with the deliberate intention, it would appear, of entering upon a life of disgrace. The mother found, at length, that the girl had come to Pittsburg, and came here to find her, as stated.

The police took the matter in hand, and yesterday afternoon found that the girl was stopping at a house of ill repute on the hill, and had been there almost ever since she left home. The mother procured a carriage and, accompanied by detective Wilmont, proceeded to the place to seek an interview with the daughter. She found her child, but had no interview with her. The girl was dead drunk !

The broken hearted mother desided at once to take her daughter home, in the desperate hope of effecting a reformation. Help was summoned, and as if she were a dead body, the young lady was carried to the carriage, and with her mother weeping beside her, was driven to the depot. There she was carried a dead, shameful weight, from the carriage to the sleeping car, and the sorrowful journey homeward commenced.

Bankruptcy.

The question of what constitutes a bankrupt has just been settled by Judge Drummond of the United States Circuit Court of Illinois. In a case just concluded, Judge Drummond decided that any man who, without any legal reason, refuses payment on his part for two weeks, may be under the law adjudged a bankrupt. He must satisfy the court that he is justified in withholding payment. His mere caprice or unwillingness to pay will not prevent his being adjudged insolvent if the refusal to honor his promise to redeem extends over fourteen days. This decision, if concurred in by other authorities, will have the effect of hastening settlements in time to come. We have some accounts which we propose to place in this list if this decision holds ernment last year of several hundred thousand dollars, and also several Credit Mobelier politicians. The public would have more faith in the good to come from this gathering were such pious frauds and political tricksters given a back seat or kept out altogether.

TO-DAY, will be a busy day among the politicians. General elections will be held in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Iowa and Wisconsin, and an election in Washington for members of the House of Delegates. In Ohio and Iowa, Governors are to be elected. The respective Republican majorities in the three States at the last state elections were: Pennsylvania, 35,627; Ohio, 14,159, and Iowa, 57, 862,

These are the majorities for the leading officers on the State ticket voted for in 1873 that of Pennsylvania being Governor, and in Ohio and Iowa Secretary of State. In each State last year the majorities for President Grant were larger, being 137,748 in Pennsylvania, 37,531 in Ohio, and 60,370 in Iowa. The Democrats and Patrons of Husbandry in Iowa have this year coalesced in the support of a candidate for Governor.

THE Supreme Court last Tuesday morning granted a rule on Auditor General Al-Ien compelling him to show the accounts of State Treasurer Mackey and the report of each bank, corporation or individual having any of the state deposits, to a committee of citizens of Harrisburg. Judge Reed made the rule returnable in ten days. The writ was granted on the petition of citizens of Harrisburg, who had been refused access to these papers. It is probable that the funds of the State, are not in such hands as they should be, or why should any concealment be attempted ?

The assertion that the application was made for political effect is no excuse for denying this examination, for was every thing as it should be, the showing instead of being a damage to the present Treasurer would be positive refutation of all the charges which have been made against him. This objection to an examination only strengthens the belief that there is something that needs to be concealed, and shows the necessity of having some change made in the official management in the State Treasury.

Stokes again on Trial.

Last Wednesday, Stokes was placed on trial for the third time for the murder of Col. Fisk.

The prisoner's counsel stated he was willing to proceed with the trial, if the District Attorney would allow him to read the testimony of three witnesses who were absent and could not attend. The judge overruled the application and ordered the trial to proceed.

The first juror was called when Stokes' counsel objected to the whole array of jurors, on the ground they were illegally drawn and were selected from bankers and brokers, excluding mechanics and others, to the damage of the defendant.

The District Attorney not being prepared the Court adjourned to one o'clock, to give the prosecution time to prepare to oppose the motion.

The Graphic Balloon,

The balloon which had been completed and equipped for the Trans-Atlantic trip by the Graphic company, was successfully inflated and started on Monday last. It sailed out over the Sound and after passing New Haven, took a more Northerly course across the State of Connecticut. When near Canaan in the north east corner of that State, it was caught in a terrible storm and rapidly descended to within thirty feet of the ground, when Mr. Donaldson and Mr. Ford, jumped out. The other passen-ger Mr. Lunt, was carried a short distance worker when the and the ballow mode further when he and the balloon made a successful descent. So ends the second attempt to start the balloon to Europe.

A Great Cyclone.

Telegrams received October 10, at the signal office from its observers at Key West and Punta Rossa, Florida, state that a most destructive cyclone swept over those stations on the 6th inst. At Key West the wind reached a velocity of nearly sixty miles per hour and at Punta Rossa of ninety miles. The barometer fell at the latter station to 28:40 and the sea rose fourteen feet above meantide level, overflowing the land and washing away everything movable. The few inhabitants of Punta Rossa are entirely without drinking water, as the supply on hand was carried away by the storm and none can be obtained in the immediate vicinity.

127" An unknown German laid his head on a track rail in Luzerne county a few days ago with a view to decapitation. A gentleman noticing his precarious situation and thinking him asleep attempted to drag him from the track. At this movement the German became greatly incensed, drawing a large knife and threatened death to the sympathizing Samaritan. Assistance was then procured and the would be suicide forcibly removed from the track.

137" Mrs. Eliza H. Hill, has been held in $5,000 bail in the Municipal Court of Worcester, Mass., for trial for having shot her husband, Enoch Hill. Mr. Hill has re covered sufficiently to appear in Court. The defense was alleged threats of the husband, who was jealous.

137" Reports of a brutal murder have been 'received from Polk township, one of the back towns of Monroe county. It seems that a boy aged ten years named James Muffley was visiting at his grandmother's a Mrs. Hawk, in Polk township. The old lady, going out into the field at some distance from the house to dig potatoes, left the lad in charge of the house. When she returned towards evening she found the house locked up, and looking through the window saw that the house had evidently been ransacked. She procured assistance, the door was forced open and a brief search discovered the body of the little boy laying in the cellar in a pool of blood, with the throat cut from ear to ear. A further search through the house revealed to Mrs. Hawk, that a sum of money, amounting to forty or fifty dollars, was gone from a bureau drawer, and also that a quantity of clothing was missing. The contents of the bureau drawers were thrown about the floor, and the whole house had been ransacked. It is supposed that the crime was committed by two tramps, who had been about some days. Search has been made for them but without success.
