The U. B. Mutual Aid Society of Pennsylvania,

Present the following plan for consideration to uch persons who wish to become members: The payment of SIX DOLLARS on application. FIVE DOLLARS annually for Four YEARS, and thereafter TWO DOLLARS annually during life with pro-rata mortality assessment at the death of each member, which for the First Class is a follows:

Age	Assess- ment	Age	Assess ment	Age	Assess- ment	Age	Assess- ment
15	60	28	73	41	92	54	1 70
16	61	29	74	42	94	56	1 80
18	63	81	77	44	98	57	2 04
19	64	32	79	45	1 00	58	2 16
20	65	33	81	46	1 06	59	2 28
21	66	34	83	47	1 12	60	2 40
22	68	36	86	49	1 24	62	2 50
24	69	37	87	50	1 30	63	2 55
25	70	88	88	51	1 40	64	2 60
26	71	39	89	52	1 50	65	2 65

Will entitle a member to a certificate of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS, to be paid at his death to his legal heirs or assigns, whenever such death may occur.

A member, or his heirs, may name a successor; but if notice of the death of a member to the Secretary is not accompanied with the name of a successor, then the Society will put in a successor and fill the vacancy, according to the Constitution of the Society.

Should the member die before his four payments of fice dollars are made, the remaining unpaid part will be deducted from the one Thousand Dollars due his heirs; his successor will then pay only two dollars annually during his lifetime, and the mortality assessments.

33. Male and Female from fifteen to sixty-five the mortality assessments.

**B. Male and Female from fifteen to sixty-five years of age, of good moralhabits, in good health, hale, and sound of mind, irrespective of creed, or race, may become members. For further infomation, address (See'y U. B. Mutual Aid Society,)

"Oh, yes I can," said Charlie.

"Well, who made it?" "Why," said Charlie, "it was the same feller as made you." 13 Says a London letter : "The moneytaker being unavoidably absent, was temporarly replaced in the exhibition of the bearded lady and other natural phenomena by a pretty, bright-eyed girl of about fourteen. "Haw, I suppose the the er bearded lady is your mother," observed a swell, as he paid his money. "No, sir," said the extempore money taker, naively,

"she's my father." On one of the trips of a California, steamer, the stearage passengers were so numerous as to make them uncomfortable. The sleeping accommodations were aptly described by a Californian, who approached the captain and said: "I should like to have a sleeping birth, if you please." "Why where have you been sleeping these last two nights since we left?" "Wa'al, I've been sleeping on top of a sick man, but he's got better now, and won't stand it no longer." A lot of minstrels went to a town not far away and advertised to give a performance for the benefit of the poor, tickets reduced to ten cents." The hall was crammed full. The next morning a committee for the poor called upon the concern for the amount said benefit had netted. The treasurer expressed astonishment at the demand. "I thought," said the chairman of the committee, "you advertised this concert for the benefit of the poor." Replied the treasurer: "Did't we put the tickets down to ten cents, so that the poor could all come ?" The committee vanished. Perhaps the following from a foreign paper will serve to "tickle" some of our readers: A lawyer, a celebrated wit, was pleading before a Scotch Judge, with whom he was on the most intimate terms, happening to have a client (a female by the name of Ticle) defendant in an action, he commenced his speech in the following humorous strain : "Ticle, my client, the defendant, my lord." The auditors, amused with the oddity of the speech, were almost driven into hysterics by the judge replying : "Tickle her yourself, Harry ;

you are just as able to do it as I."

An amusing anecdote is told in connection with one of the Arundel owls. On one occasion at a dinner at Arundel Castle, the butler caused great merriment by coming into the room and saying in a solemn voice: "May it please your grace, Lord Thurlow has laid an egg" The late Duke of Norfolk was asked if the story was true. His grace said : "Yes, we have always believed it in the family; but do you know why the bird was called Lord Thurlow? That's almost the best part of the story. Lord Thurlow and his daughter were once staying at the castle, and the young lady went to see the owls. On passing one of them she stopped suddenly and exclaimed: "Oh! how like papa!" and the bird was ever afterwards called Lord Thurlow." It must have been a very wise looking bird, for Lord Thurlow looked exceptionally wise, even for a judge. Fox, the statesman, once said : "I suppose no man was ever so wise as Thurlow looks."

The learned and popular Judge B. now in the Supreme Bench of California, was recently trying a case where a farmer claimed damages against a mining company for blowing vailings on the farmer's land.
