LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

The Bloomfield Times Calendar FOR 1874.

Calendar for 1874 showing days of the week and dates for each month from January to December.

Terms to Clubs.

Our terms to clubs will be the same as they were last year viz: Ten copies will be sent for $11.00, Twenty copies for $20.00.

Public Sales.—Bills for the following sales have been printed at this office:

On Thursday, March 5th, John Dum will sell at his residence, one half mile east of Ellipticburg, horses, cows, colts, hogs, wagons and other farming implements.

On the 10th of March in Madison township, the Administrators of John Hech, deceased, will sell cattle, horses, wagons and a great variety of other personal property.

A Change.—We learn that Mr. Henry Swager, of this borough, is to remove to Carlisle, where he will take charge of the "Perry Exchange Hotel," having leased the premises and purchased the fixtures and good will of Mr. Thudiam.

Adjourned Court.—As we go to press, an adjourned Court is being held in the Court House, for argument cases only. But little business will be done. A special term of Court is to be held for jury trials, commencing Monday, March 2nd.

Killed.—At an early hour on Wednesday morning, a fatal accident happened at Bridgeport. Mr. Adam Grove, an engineer on the N. C. R. W., was under his engine oiling a hot box when a car shifted from another track came down and struck the engine causing the wheel to pass over Mr. Grove, breaking his back and killing him almost instantly.

Found.—It is reported that Mrs. Kessler, the woman of Middlecreek township, who so mysteriously disappeared in August last, has been lately discovered at a hotel in Millheim, Centre county, where she is employed as a servant. This fact came to light through a revolving hostler who had been living at the same hotel where Mrs. Kessler, stayed. He left there and came to the hotel at Kremer in Middlecreek twp., this county, where, incidentally he overheard persons talking about a missing woman, and when he heard a description of her and saw her photograph, he at once said it was the same woman. Her children went up to see her, and found her at the hotel. She expressed no desire to return at present, but, said she might do so at some future time.—Selinsgrove Times.

Line Fences.—A case involving the question, "What is a sufficient fence to afford protection against live stock?" was recently tried before Judge Elwell, in Wyoming county. The plaintiff sought to recover damages alleged to have been done to his corn crop in 1870 by the stock of the defendant. The judge in charging the jury made the following remarks: "It is a maxim of law that every man must so use and take of his own as not to injure his neighbors. At common law the owner of the cattle was liable for the damage done, although the land had not been fenced. This was understood to be the law of the state until a decision of the supreme court, in which the act of assembly was construed to change the common law. By this decision, if the owner of improved land has no fence around it he cannot recover for injuries done by roving cattle. In a decision by Judge Addison, seventy-five years since, it was held that if a fence, though not lawful, be what is called neighborly, and sufficient to restrain ordinary cattle, that trespass will lie for injury by the cattle of another. This view is substantially correct. If, therefore, the fence was such as farmers of practical knowledge and experience would consider a sufficient protection against ordinary cattle, then the plaintiff would be entitled to recover, though the fence was not of any given height or composed of any particular material."

For the Bloomfield Times. BLAIN, Jan. 23, 1874. Mr. Editor.—In the Advocate, of the 21st inst., is an account of a "bear" being captured by a Mr. Beistline, in one of the mountains of Madison township. It was a "Bear," one that was easily captured, however, and one who, I suppose did not "struggle" with its captor, as Miss Bair was a very quiet lady.

We have some great hunters in our twp. I will make mention of two only. Mr. Amos Watt, has shot this fall, six or seven wild turkeys and two deer, the latter he shot in or near Black Log, besides plenty of other small game.

Mr. R. H. Kell, shot six wild turkeys and wounded several others, one deer, and plenty of rabbits, squirrels, pheasants, &c. I have known him to shoot eighteen gray squirrels in a half-hay's hunt.

A READER. Juniata County.—From the Millintown papers of last week we copy the following:

Mr. Shellenberger has sold his steam tannery at Evandale, to a party of Eastern capitalists. The new firm are erecting new buildings, and increasing the capacity of the motive power almost double. When the improvements are completed this will be the largest and most extensive tanning establishment in the county.

About 3 o'clock, on Friday morning last, the stone-house, in Walker township, owned by Joseph Wetzel, and occupied by Ira T. Kepler, was discovered to be on fire. Mrs. Kepler on awakening discovered smoke in the bed room, and upon an examination, the room adjoining and the kitchen immediately below, were discovered to be on fire. The family had difficulty in getting down the stairway, the stair-door being already on fire, and only escaped in their night clothes. By this time W. W. Crimmel, Cyrus McFarland and a number of others arrived, and the fire was extinguished without doing any serious damage. Loss about $75. It is supposed the fire originated by the chimney taken fire from the cook-stove, and burning soot falling against the fire-board.—Register.

"A rather singular occurrence took place in a stone quarry near Thompson-town, belonging to David Smith, Sr. Two men named J. B. Fry and Isaac Yoder, were engaged quarrying stone for J. Loudenslager. They had drilled a hole in the rock 4 1/2 feet deep, and half filled it with powder, inserted the fuse and filled the balance of the hole, in the manner known to men acquainted with blasting rocks. All things being ready the fuse was lit, but because of some unknown defect the fire in it went out. After a lapse of time deemed necessary to warrant a safe approach, the men went to the unexploded charge and immediately began to re-drill the hole, all the while using water freely. The work progressed finely, six inches only of the charge remained to be removed, when suddenly an explosion took place making an opening in the rock above six feet long and three inches wide. The men received a terrible shock, and were nearly knocked off their feet. Their faces were blackened with powder and bespattered with mud, and their eyes filled with dirt. A glove on the hand of one of the men was blown quite a distance away. The drill was not entirely raised out of the hole. If the explosion had taken place sooner, or when more powder was in the hole, it would most probably have resulted in the death of both of the men. It seems strange that an explosion should take place under the amount of water that they applied. This should stand as a warning to those who may have this kind of work to do.—Sentinel.

Cumberland County.—From the Cumberland county papers of last week, we copy the following:

A Miss McCachran, of Newville, we are informed, has been suffering for a long time from an internal tumor, and recently it became evident that death must ensue unless it was removed, and even the latter was looked upon as certain death. However, on Friday last, the operation was successful performed by Dr. Pancoast, of Philadelphia, and at last accounts the lady was rapidly recovering. The tumor weighed twelve pounds when removed. Some seventeen of the neighboring physicians witnessed the operation, and we understand that this is the thirty-fifth case of this kind treated by Dr. Pancoast, he being successful in all but seven.—Enterprise.

Among the cases tried at court in Carlisle last week was the case of Miss Fanny Graham vs. the First National Bank, of Carlisle. By consent of the parties, it was taken up on Saturday last, and on Tuesday morning after hearing the charge of the court the jury retired, returning into court on the afternoon of the same day with a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $4,700. This case elicited a very general interest, the court room being at times quite crowded. The plaintiff in this case several years ago deposited with the First National Bank several thousand dollars in U. S. Bonds for safe keeping. In the year 1871 the defendants alleged that in some unaccountable manner those bonds were stolen from the bank vault and held that as the bank received no compensation for the safe keeping of these valuables, consequently the bank was not responsible unless the plaintiff proved gross negligence on the part of the officers of the institution. His Honor Judge Junkin, in his charge clearly held that such was the law. The question of the liability of banks so fully discussed during the progress of this trial is one of great importance to parties having bonds and other valuables in the vaults of the different banks for safe keeping. It being the law that where no compensation is received the bank is only required to exercise the same care that a prudent man would under like circumstances. There were other features, however, connected with this case and given in evidence that had their weight with the jury. The verdict we believe meets the general approval of our people. Court is still in session with a large number of cases down for trial. Evening sessions are being held. The Judge is evidently anxious to dispose of the entire list.—Sentinel.

On Sunday night last, the residence of Mr. Amos Mumma, near Churchtown, was entered by a burglar during the absence of the family, and about one hundred dollars in money taken therefrom. Suspicion rests on an individual who resides in the neighborhood.—Volunteer.

Brief Items.

Some scamps have passed a large number of spurious $5 green-backs, in Madison township. Their method was to purchase farm produce, such as butter, eggs &c., and pay in that kind of money. The bills are a very poor imitation, and are not calculated to deceive any one who takes any notice of the money.

A horse belonging to Peter Wox, took fright near Markleville, at a table cloth flapping in the wind on Friday last, and ran away tipping over the wagon and breaking the harness and both shafts. Fortunately no one was hurt, though the boy who was driving was dragged a little distance by the lines.

On Wednesday last, George Eckert, son of George Eckert, Sr., in Centre twp., had both bones of his leg fractured when wrestling. Boys should take warning from this accident. The affair took place at the Camp School house, during the afternoon recess.

Temporary quarters have been provided for the Advocate, by the erection of a shanty on the lot formerly occupied by the Democrat office. This building it is stated, is only to stand until—well we think it best not to state the time.

Among the hotel changes, which will take place this Spring, is the change of landlords at the Perry House in this borough, Mr. Sutch, having leased his hotel to Mr. Wm. Grier.

On Tuesday last, more wheat was received at the Newport warehouses, than was received on any previous day in many years. The roads were in good condition, and wagons were passing through town almost constantly.

We mention it as something remarkable that the Huntington Co. Globe and Journal, came out last week without either paper "blackguarding" the editor of the other.

Persons wanting the celebrated "Stellar Oil," an article that not only burns clear and bright, but is perfectly safe, can get it of F. Mortimer.

The Millfin county treasury is depleted, and for the first time in many years, orders issued by the commissioners are offered on the streets at a discount.

On Monday afternoon a horse ran off in Duncannon, bringing up in front of the company office, throwing out the driver, Thomas Weldon, injuring him slightly and breaking up the wagon pretty badly.

One of our best lawyers says that since the passage of the New Constitution, there is not a single man or woman in the State legally married.

The Rev. Selheimer will preach on Baptism by immersion, in the German Bethel on Sunday morning, Feb. 1st.

H. C. Demming, Esq., of Harrisburg, has been appointed Deputy of the State Grange Patrons of Husbandry, to institute sub-Granges in Dauphin and Perry counties.

We notice among the recent deaths, that of Jacob Stambaugh, formerly a resident of this borough, but who for some years past has resided at Millintown. Mr. Stambaugh, at the time of his death, was at Santa Barbara, Cal., where he had gone for his health.

Some thief who had iron plated heels on his boots, and who took the road leading towards Perry Furnace, stole all of Mrs. Cornigable's chickens, on last Wednesday night.

A subscriber thinks a preacher who cannot preach without a chew of tobacco in his mouth, has his religion in the stomach. How is it?

There is so much of beauty and artistic excellence in the February number of the Atlas, no lover of the fine arts can well afford to allow it to remain a closed book. The promise held out for the New Year, in the January number, of a volume of surpassing worth and taste, is sustained in this issue. A dozen beautiful pictures embellish its pages, more than half of which are original American views.

The literary contents of this number of the Atlas are choice, varied, and original. A poem never before published, called "The Scythians and the Sillphids," is from the pen of Richard Adams Locke, now dead, but who will be remembered as the author of the famous "Moon Hoax" of years ago. Joseph Watson, a Shakspearean scholar, has a readable paper on "Sir Joshua Reynolds." H. Emily Baker contributes some interesting "Sketches in Old Newport." Chondos Fulton writes a satirical story of "Cloud Pictures." Mrs. M. F. Butts has a pretty poem, or song, called "When the World gets Green." Frances Lee tells a capital story of Yankee life, under the title of "Faking It for Granted." There are also many other articles of worth. We can safely say no other American publication ever offered its readers so many art and literary attractions. Subscription price, $5, including chromos "The East" and "The West." James Sutton & Co., publishers, 58 Maiden Lane, New York City.

Have you a Cough, Cold, Pain in the Chest, or Bronchitis? In fact, have you the precursory symptoms of the "insalubrious archer," consumption? If so, know that relief is within your reach in the shape of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which, in many cases where hope has fled, has snatched the victim from the yawning grave.

We were pleased to see, not long since, in one of our exchanges, some pretty severe remarks addressed to several persons who, during an interesting lecture by Rev. Jno. S. C. Abbott, kept a continuous coughing, which prevented many from hearing. People who cannot refrain from coughing, had better stay away from such places, or else take a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment with them.

The importance of giving Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders to horses that have been out in the cold rain, stood in cold winds, or drank too much cold water, cannot be over estimated; no man should be without them who owns a good horse.
