

Ingeniousness of Prisoners.

In the Eastern Penitentiary have been added two more names to the list of attempted escapes—Frank Moser, of Syracuse, New York, undergoing a sentence of seven years for burglary committed in Philadelphia, and Jacob Reicholt, of Muncy, Lycoming county, Pa., who is serving a similar term for arson. Within a day or two a break was discovered in the heating room of the Penitentiary. The fact was reported to the Warden, who began an investigation which led to the discovery of the facts given below:

Moser and Reicholt, were employed together in a single cell at shoemaking. It seemed that they some time ago conceived the idea of making their escape by the sewer running underneath the Penitentiary and made saws out of the working knives. They sawed through the floor of the cell, then burrowed down and followed the foundation wall of the structure until they met the heating room, which they cut through; thence gained access to the sewer, along which they moved until the Fairmount avenue entrance was reached. Here they met an insurmountable obstacle in the form of a trap which was closed, it being a rule in the Penitentiary that the sewer traps must be closed after the sewer has been used. The men, fearing they would be suffocated should they attempt to remain in the sewer until the trap should be opened, retraced their steps and returned to their cell, where they washed their clothing and straightened things up so nicely that the authorities of the institution, but for the almost accidental discovery of the break in the wall of the heating room, would have remained in ignorance of the attempted escape, as they would also of a little enterprise of a similar character, which the irrepressible "Brookie George" had in his hand and was vigorously prosecuting.

During the search incited by the discovery of other prisoners' work it was found that "Brookie" had been making pretty fair progress in his endeavor to cut through his cell, the "Dark Dungeon," in which Brookie has been confined since the discovery and frustration of his last attempt. In his latest effort Brookie, it was found, had, with a common spike, which he drew from the dungeon wall in some way, cut down four feet into the solid mason work beneath the floor of his cell.—He had managed to loosen some of the plank of his floor, and after working at the stone work, he would carefully replace the planks and paste up the cracks and splinter holes with a paste made of his bread and water.

Resigns an Office.

John W. Ward, Mayor of the little town of Floreyville, in Mississippi, has tendered his resignation to Gov. Ames by the following letter: "I herewith beg leave respectfully to tender my resignation as Mayor of Floreyville, to which office I was appointed by your high-headed predecessor, which, with the infernal greediness for office so characteristic of the American people, I was green enough to accept. In thus drawing off the judicial ermine I am governed alone by the haunting of being inordinately rich if I continue to hold this lucrative position. Perhaps some other man and brother may be inveigled into the acceptance of this position, but your humble servant prefers to retire to the gushing serenity of private life."

A Singular Complaint.

Complaint is made of a filthy and dangerous practice, long prevalent in New York City, of undertakers throwing unmelted ice, used for preserving the dead, into the street. This is to be stopped by action of the Health officers, who attribute a large percentage of death from contagious disease to children eating the ice, and in many instances taking it home to their parents, who, unconscious of the use having been made of it, enjoy it as a luxury seldom experienced.

The performances of a circus-rider in San Francisco received a queer compliment a short time ago. The performer, whose name is Dockrill, among other things, appears in an Indian act on horseback, in the course of which he leaps down and scalps the clown of his wig. On the particular evening referred to the audience included the band of Warm Spring Indians who acted with the United States forces in the Modoc war. At sight of this familiar exploit, these ingenious savages were quite unable to restrain their enthusiasm. They rose to their feet, drew their scalping-knives, and with their terrific war-whoops were about to rush into the ring to the aid of their pseudo-brother. It was only with the utmost difficulty they could be quieted down, and then they persisted in recalling again and again the counterfeit savage whose performance had so touched their sensibilities.

Dr. William Clough, an eccentric physician of Pittsfield, Mass., died last week. He rarely took an adequate fee, never asked any pay of the poor, and his house was made of marble boulders, which he had taken of the farmers in lieu of fees, while they were cut and laid by the laborer whom he treated. As he grew older, his peculiarities grew upon him, and the most striking feature about his practice was his repugnance to receiving any remuneration whatever for his services.

Agents Wanted For "Tell It All."

By Mrs. T. B. H. Stehous, for 25 years wife of a Mormon High Priest, with an introduction by Harriet Beecher Stowe. Two years ago the author wrote a pamphlet on Polygamy which excited the Mormon newspapers to sneeringly invite her to write a book and "TELL IT ALL." Eminent men and women urged her to accept the challenge, and "Tell It All" is the result. It is the only book on this subject ever written by a REAL Mormon Woman, and is superbly illustrated and bound. It outsells all other books three to one. It takes like wildfire. 100,000 will be sold. Agents, now is your opportunity. Our Descriptive Pamphlet, terms, &c., sent free to all.—Address, A. D. WORTHINGTON & CO., Hartford, Conn. 22d 4 w

THE CHEAPEST BOOK EVER PUBLISHED

THE PRICE OF JULES VERNE'S SUMMER BOOK, ADVENTURES IN THE Land of the Behemoth, COPYRIGHTED EDITION. Square 8vo, tinted paper, fully illustrated, and elegantly bound, has been reduced to ONE DOLLAR. At which price it will be kept, but we have in press the uncopied, and inferior edition of above work, entitled MERIDIANA.

The price of this edition will be kept the same as that of the rival edition, published in contradiction of the courtesies of the trade, which is now one dollar.

IN PREPARATION:

From the Earth to the Moon, By JULES VERNE. Illustrated. Cloth, $1.00. HENRY L. SHEPARD & CO., (Successors to Shepard & Gill.) BOSTON: NEW YORK: CHICAGO: 31 Hawley Street, 24 Bond Street, 92 Market Street.

THE AMENITIES OF LITERATURE

It may not be known to the general reader that the absence of an International copyright, the American publisher, who first announces and issues a foreign book is by common consent of the trade allowed an undivided right to publish said book as though he held a copyright. This excellent rule is sometimes broken, however, and then rival publishers are "set by the ears" and retaliation is the order of the day. Just now, the book trade is exercised over the falling out between Scribner, Armstrong & Co., of New York, and Henry L. Shepard & Co., successors to Shepard & Gill of Boston. The cause of their misunderstanding is set forth in the following letter from the Boston to the New York house.

BOSTON, May 25, 1874. Messrs. Scribner, Armstrong & Co.: GENTLEMEN:—We were surprised to see the papers, this morning, that you had announced a $1.00 edition of "The Three Russians and Three Englishmen," by Jules Verne. We say surprised, for we had supposed that no house in the trade so carefully observed its courtesies. "Three Englishmen," etc., which our translator calls "Adventures in the Land of the Behemoth," and which yours entitles "Meridiana," was undertaken by us after careful inquiry of the leading jobbing houses and of publishers. We found that no one had issued or announced it. No lack of care or courtesy can therefore be charged to us. We have proceeded in good faith, and if you will withdraw your announcement and thereby respect the courtesy which we publishers have agreed to, because like brother Osgood's author, we wish to lead a "life under glass." Please reply by return mail. Respectfully, HENRY L. SHEPARD & CO.

The New York house having taken no notice of this letter, Messrs. H. S. & Co., make belligerent announcement in our columns, and everything promises a vigorous "battle of books."—Boston Daily Globe.

SAMUEL SMITH

Manhood: How Lost, HOW RESTORED!

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhoea or Seminal Weakness, Involutionary Senility, Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Debility, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also Consumption, Epilepsy and Piles, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance; Piles, &c. Price, in a small envelope, only six cents. The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates from thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, by following his own directions may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically. This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. Sent under seal in a small envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents or two postage stamps. Also, DR. HILLS' BLOOD PURIFIER FOR PILES. Sent for circular. Address the Publishers, CHAS. J. CLINE & CO., Post Office Box, 426, 127 Bowry, New York.
