The Bloomfield Cimes.

NEW BLOOMFIELD, PENN'A. Tuesday, June 30, 1874.

POST MASTER GENERAL CRESWELL has resigned. His resignation was accepted by the President who expressed much regret in losing his services. It is well some one regrets his loss. The President has nominated Hon., Eugene Hale, of Maine, as his successor.

Dies of Hydrophobia.

Francis Butler, a well known dog fancier, and regarded as authority on dogs, died at his residence in Brooklyn last week of hydrophobia. He was bitten at his store in that city, six weeks ago, by a small spitz dog, while endeavoring to make it take some medicine. Mr. Butler was a native of Enggland, an accomplished linguist, and has been connected with several educational institutions as professor of languages. Some years ago he went into the business of training, buying and selling dogs, and his ability in controlling and training them was marvellous. He wrote a book entitled "Dog Training." He had no fear of hydrophobia, and often expressed the opinion that it was simply a nervous affection, and that the bite of a dog would not produce disease unless fear supervened and occasioned it.

Terrible Disaster.

An appalling catastrophe occurred at Syracuse, N. Y., on the night of Tuesday last. A strawberry festival was being held at the parlors of the Central Baptist Church when without any premonition the floor gave way, precipitating a room full into the story below.

The parlor was on the second floor, and a room underneath was also full. The fire alarm was immediately given, and firemen hurried to the scene. Some ten thousand people were there, and tremendous excitement prevailed. The following are among the dead bodies recovered: Dr. O. E. Wainwright, Mrs. Wainwright, Miss Minnie Thompson, a child named Ostrander, a little girl named Loenard, a little girl named Horton, Miss Theodore Holmes, and a little girl named Minnie Collins .-Rev. Geo. L. Dowling, Pastor of the church was dangerously injured; also, his wife, who is not expected to live. Rev. H. J. Eddy, seriously injured. Two hundred persons were injured, some dangerously.

Later despatches show that 23 persons were either killed or have since died from their injuries.

Bitten by a Horse.

A Lancaster paper parrates the follow-

"On last Tuesday morning a band of gipsies who had been encamped in a gap at Laurel Hill during the night, while moving to some other quarters passed John Peters' smith shop, in Upper Leacock township, where they stopped to get some horses shod. As one of the men passed in front of one of the horses which was hitched in with another in a large coach, the animal reared up and attempted to cut down the hold of the bridle and attempted to jerk pipe. down the horse, when the animal got the man's thumb and part of the hand in his mouth, and held on to it with a desperate grip, shaking it as a dog would. The man called for the smith to knock the infuriated animal down, which he did with a club, but he still held on to the man's hand .-Peters struck the horse another blow over the head, knocking him over again, but still he held on like a tiger. Another blow behind the ear leveled him again, when he slightly opened his jaw and the man jerked out his hand, which was terribly bruised and crushed, but it is thought no bones are broken. Dr. I. Bushong was sent for, who dressed the wound and injected some morphine into his veins, as he was suffering terribly from the pain.

Turkey and Persia.

The relations between Turkey and Persia are not friendly. It appears that the Persian government has refused to compel the return to the Turkish territory of a tribe numbering 2,000 families, which has gone across the Persian frontier and that a number of Turks have been secured and mal treated by a band of Persian pilgrims. The Turkish government threatens to force Peraia to give up persons who have abused its subjects and to surrender the revolting tribe. Unless a compromise is speedily effeeted, the relations of the two countries

Stolen Property.

An officer of the detective force was last week detailed by the chief of police, at the request of Governor Shepherd, to find and compel the return of furniture and other public property stolen by members of the District legislature upon its disbanding. Most of the property has been recovered, and, upon learning that the officers were searching for it, several members brought back what they had carried off, saying it was only taken in a joke.

Boys Polsoned.

At Providence, R. L., four or five little boys, enroute for school, made a raid upon a doctor's medicine case they found in his carriage. Some kind of poison was taken and distributed among their companions. The result is that one, aged four years, is dead and several others are in peril.

Earthquake Shock.

Salt Lake City, June 23 .- The earthquake of the 17th inst., was quite severe throughout the territory. At some points it was upprecedented. The shock continued one minute, and broke open doors, threw persons out of bed and damaged many

A Water Spout.

Havana, June 21-An immense water spout formed in the harbor to-day and passed through the shipping, causing considerable damage. The Prussian bark Jenny was capsized and several small boats sunk. No lives were lost. The men of war fired blank cartridges, which had the effect of dissolving the column of water.

Miscellaneous News Items.

A storm that uprooted trees a foot in diameter, passed over Oliver township, Mifflin county Friday a week. Much damage was done.

A little son of Mr. Weaver, of Snow Shoe, Centre county, arose in his sleep about twelve o'clock on Monday night of last week, and walked across the room, raised the window and stepped out, falling a distance of over twelve feet. He died shortly after.

New Orleans, June 21 .- Last night when the forms of the Bulletin newspaper were being conveyed to the press room, they were seized by the metropolitan police .-It is not known by whose orders the seizure was made. The Bulletin, however, appeared this morning with six printed and two blank pages.

Last week a Harrisburg boy aged about five years threw a stone at a lad of a larger growth who had provoked him. The stone missed its intended mark and struck the large French plate glass in M. H. Lee's show window, breaking it badly. The glass, which cost $75, will have to be replaced.

New York, June 23 .- At midnight last night in Newark, Jas. H. Huber entered the apartments of his sister and shot her in the head, inflicting fatal wounds, because she refused to discontinue receiving the attention of a suitor whom Huber disliked. He was arrested and while in the cell attempted to commit suicide but was cut down before he could accomplished his designs.

An old lady named Catharine Witmoyer lived alone in a house in East Hanover. On Monday the house was discovered to be on fire by the neighbors, but by the time they arrived at it the flames had ly moral, if not a christian. made such progress as to discourage all efforts to arrest them. The body of the old lady could be seen in the flames. It is supposed that she was lying on the bed smokgipsy with his fore feet. The gipsy caught ing, and that the fire was kindled from her

A genuine Cuban centipede, one of the most poisonous tropical enemies of man, was found snugly "stowed away" in a bunch of bananas at the new market, Petersburg, Va., the other day. It had traveled a long way to find its end, but was saved a part of its mission by one knowing something of its habits, and who saved a more curious than wise individual from "interviewing" it between thumb and finger.

A remarkable escape from death by lightning occurred in Rockingham county, Va., last Wednesday. Mr. John Donovan went out with a one-horse wagon on a ridge to haul some rails. When he had his load nearly on a shower of rain came up, and he stopped under a walnut tree for shelter, leaning with his shoulder against the tree. In a few minutes the lightning struck the tree, and coming down its trunk, atruck his shoulders, passed down his arm to his elbow, ripping open his coat sleeve as if it had been done with a sharp knife, passed across his breast burning blisters as large as a man's hand, and passed down his leg and out at his shoes, cutting off his shoestring, and then entered the root of the tree, which it tore up for several feet. Strange to say he was not knocked senseless or speechless, but not knocked senseless or speechless, but the Gibson Champion Washer.—J. W. says when his horse started he halloed Gotwalt has secured the power of Attorney "whoa" to him, but his limbs became of the State of Pa., for this great inven-"whoa" to him, but his limbs became

The people along the mail route between Bethel and Middlebury, Vt., who have been losing letters for the past three months, find that Mrs. Farnie A. Jewett, wife of the postmaster at Hancock, has been helping herself to any that she thought might be valuable. Special Agent Camp, of Boston, started for that part of the country about a fortnight ago, and assuming the role of a railroad conductor who was taking a vacation he put into the mails letters containing marked pieces of money, and having power to open the mails he finally traced the robbery to the Hancock office.

The money of Mr. Jewett, the postmaster, was examined, and it was all right, but his wife was finally induced to produce an old wallet, which was found to contain four pieces of scrip that Camp had marked. She confessed having burned four letters that she had rifled, and her thefts are estimated at $200 or $300. The post office has been turned over to one of the Jewett's sureties, but Mrs. Jewett is allowed to live with her husband for the present, though under a bond.

A melancholy accident has just occurred in Switzerland. Mr. and Mrs. Liskeard, a young English pair on their wedding tour, set out with a party of friends to make an ascent of Mont Blanc. When they had reached the summit of the Corridor, the ladies felt the cold so severely that the guides advised the party to return. All were fastened together with ropes, and the bride set out leaning upon the arm of a guide.

Hardly had they taken a hundred paces when Mrs. Liskeard and her companion suddenly disappeared down a crevasse, covered with a slight layer of frozen snow. Unhappily, the rope by which they were connected with the others broke, and they were seen no more. The husband at once procured extra assistance from the Grands Chalets, but the bodies could not be recovered, and it is thought they are some thousand feet down in the mountain. The death of the two unfortunate persons must have been instantaneous.

At Windsor, Va., recently, a Mr. James M. Vaughan and his wife were seated in an apartment of their residence when the latter rose to look at a clock in an adjoining room. A thunder storm was raging at the time, and the moment after Mrs. Vaughan left the room a sharp flash and a heavy report came. A few minutes afterward Mr. Vaughan followed his wife to see what detained her, when he found her dead on the floor, having been killed by the lightning.

For the Bloomfield Times. A Word to School Directors.

The time is rapidly approaching when Gentlemen and Ladies of different disposi-tions, qualifications and belief, will apply for schools. Whether you consider the importance in the selection of school teachimportance in the selection of school teachers or not, I do not know, but let me say to you that it is of great importance, that the right kind of teachers be employed in teaching our children. Do you want your child to be an infidel? then send it to an infidel teacher. Do you want your child to be immoral? then send it to an immoral acacher. teacher. Do you want your child to be a fop or flirt, then send it to a fop or flirt of a

But if you want your child to become a man or woman, that is worthy the name, send it to a teacher that is a man or woman in the strictest sense of the term—not an infidel—not an immoralist, etc. But of sound mind, temperate, God-fearing, strict-

Sad experience has proven the above assertion to be true—what a responsibility is resting on the school directors. But they reply. How can we get the right kind of teachers. Let me answer their questions by asking a few more questions.

1st. Is it not true that our schools at present differ greatly from the schools at thirty years ago, in their text books, &c. 2nd. Is it not also true that many teachers who taught thirty years ago, could not teach our present schools with their text

3d. How did you succeed in securing

3d. How did you succeed in securing teachers so far in advance of our aged teachers. Let me tell you, you succeeded by making it a test of qualification, this enlisted talent into the army of teachers.

Now if you as Directors will make temperance, God-fearing, strict morality or Christianity, (which I should prefer.) A test of qualification in connection with the present test of qualifications to teach, you will not only enlist talent, but principle and piety to meet the present want, confer upon the rising generation ableasing that will tell favorably in time and eternity. May the spirit of inspiration awaken the May the spirit of inspiration awaken the school directors to see to their duty, and parents to urge them to discharge it. And heaven will smile on our schools, and crown them with success.
