The Bloomfield Eimes. Tuesday, August 25, 1874. LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Bloomfield Academy.-Regular term of ten weeks begins August 31st. Those preparing for examinations will form a special class under charge of the Principal, taking double tasks and thus finishing in five weeks the text books now now in hand. For terms, &c., Address Wm. Grier, Proprietor or Rev. John Edgar, A. M. Principal.

Into the Race. -On Monday of last week, Mr. Samuel Smith living over the ridge, came to Stoke's mill in Madison twp., for flour. After loading up and while talking with Mr. S., the horses, both of which are blind, started on their own account, and fell over the wall into the race. They were rescued after much trouble, but the wagon pole was broken, and much of the flour was prematurely made into dough.

While returning from a funeral in York county last week six persons were injured. The work of a fractious horse in running into a vehicle before him, resulted in the wrecking of three carriages and the throwing out of the occupants. Mrs. Mathias Altland received serious internal injuries and was taken home in an unconscious condition. Five others escaped with less severe injuries. A child was pitched over a fence into the cemetery to save it from being killed.

The People's Freight R. W .- The corporation known as the P. F. R. W., are stirring up some of the citizens in the upper part of the county with a legal stick. Having lost confidence in the Company's intention to spend the money in building a road, many subscribers have declined to pay their assessments as they come due, hence these suits. During the past week some of the managers of the Company have been sending off large numbers of circulars to the west. The contents of these circulars show that the prospects for the final success of the enterprise, rests solely on hope. Hope, that the next Congress will grant a subsidy to enable a through road to be built from the Atlantic to the great west. HOPE, that a Company will be formed to build such a road, and with further hope, that said company will be induced to accept this little piece of road through Perry, as a portion of the great route. What the managers hope to get for their charter and privileges is of course not known. One of the circulars sent reads as follows :

A CONVENTION

Will be held at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, on the SECovn day of SEFTEMBER next, for the purpose of organizing "The People's Freight Railway Co., Ohio Division," and to arrange for or-ganizing the Indiana Division, and for consoli-dating the New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois Divisions into one Company.

Delegates are expected and invited to be present from Wellsville, Uhricksville, Coshocton, Mt. Vernon, Mt. Gilead, Marion, Kenton, Wapakonetta, and Cellna, Ohlo; Portland, Wheeling, Tipton, Frankfort, Crawfordsville, and Newport, Indiana; Tuscola, Sullivan, Taylorsville, Jacksonville, Naples, and Quincy, Taylorsville, Jacksonville, Naples, and Quincy, Illinois; Pittsburg, Greensburg, Bomerset, Bedford, Harrisburg, Lebanon, Raading, and Point Pleasant, Pa.; as well as from such other places as may feel an interest in the con-struction of a Freight Kallway along the route indicated by the above named places. Delegates must be provided with such cre-dentials as will show that they properly repre-sent such portion of their neighboring people as favor the construction of a Freight Raliway near the above indicated line, from New York

ented line. fro Harbor to some central point on the Mississippi River, in the State of Illinois. The main circular sets forth that the company has its office in New Bloomfield. Where that office is, no one in this town knows. The company also puts forth a list of men as directors, one of whom at least says he has no interest in the matter, and never has authorized the use of his name. A company with such great intentions in view, as are set forth in the above " call," ought at least to have directors who know something about the corporation, and who have a money interest in its management.

An Attempted Swindle,--- A few days ago a polished man went in a wholesale jewelry establishment in New York and expressed a desire to make a number of purchases for his alleged father, who he declared was C. A. Aughinbaugh, jeweler, Third and Market streets, Harrisburg. He inspected a number of French clocks and said that his papa had determined to make the sale of fancy wares of this character a speciality. He selected four handsome clocks and ordered them to be sent to Father Aughinbaugh by express. He then asked permission to examine a number of diamond rings whose dazzling brilliancy almost blinded his eyes. Meanwhile a suspicion began to develop itself in the mind of one of the salesman that the customer might be a swindler and no effort was made to sell the rings. The customer's object was doubtless to obtain a number of rings on the strength of having bought the clocks, but probably coming to the conclusion that he was suspected he hurried out without making a purchase. The firm did not send the goods but substituted a letter directed to Mr. Aughinbaugh asking whether his son was in New York buying in stock for him. Each particular hair on the top of Charley's head stood on end like quills on the fretful porcupino when his eyes lit on the paragraph placing him in the category of fathers. Being universally known here as an heirless man he naturally became incignant at the bald imputation and responded in fittingly severe terms. The swindler who attempted to palm himself off as the son of Mr. Aughinbaugh had evidently planned the scheme in this city, as he gave a correct description of the store and spoke intelligently of points of interest in Harrisburg .- Patriot.

A Queer Steal .- The Hollidaysburg Register says : "One of the boldest and most remarkable cases of stealing we ever heard of was perpetrated near this place on Wednesday night a week, the article being nothing more or less than a mowing machine. The machine belonged to Martin Baird, and, as is customary with farmers, had been left standing in the field of Patrick McCloskey, where it had been in use the day previous to the theft. The machine was loaded on a wagon, the tracks of which could be distinctly traced to the road and turning southward, where all further trace of it was lost. Our farmer friends will doubtless hereafter be a little more cautious about leaving their mowers and reapers "laying around loose," and as Policeman Barr suggests, it might perhaps be well enough for brickmakers and limeburners to house their yards and kilns at night, as nothing seems to be safe these theiving times." We would not be surprised if the chap that did this stealing would be back some night after the farm.

Horse Choked .- On Friday a week Mr. Henry Lecron, of the Marsh, had a horse, a very valuable brown mare, to choke while eating oats. To relieve the animal he wrapped with callco a stick and forced it into her throat, but in the effort to remove the stick it was broken, a piece about eighteen inches long remained in her throat. In this situation the mare was brought to Dr. Bowls in this place. He first tried to remove the stick with a pair of pinchers, but failing he forced his arm down her throat beyond his elbow, and finally succeeded in getting a sufficient hold upon it to draw it out. The Dr. thus saved the life of a valuable animal, but in the

We are glad to see that the old fence around the grave yard in this borough has been replaced by a good substantial pale fence which now needs a coat of whitewash or paint to make it a complete job. Those parties who have subscribed and not paid, and others who have subscribed and not paid, and others who have done neither should at once contribute what they can afford. Mr. Henry Rice is the treasurer of this fund.

On Thursday morning while a man was hauling brick to J. L. Gantt's new building the driver happened to come a little too close to a well which had been walled up close to a well which had been walled up within five feet of the top, and the well left open; the off-side horse stepped close to the well been to the well when the ground gave away and he went down backward into the well, stripping off the harness. A number of men collected and put a rope under him by which he was drawn up without having sustained any serious injury .- News,

Cumberland County .- From the Cumberland county papers of last week, wo copy the following :

A most distressing accident occurred at Mr. John Stouffer's, in North Middleton township, on Wednesday a week. Mr. Renben Albright, the owner of a steam threshing machine, was threshing Mr. Stouffer's crop, when one of the belts came off the pully, and in attempting to put it on his right arm was caught in the belting and broken in two places and the flesh terand broken in two places and the flesh terribly lacerated so as to render amputation necessary.

On Monday last a sad occurrence took place at Ahl's oro banks, a few miles South of Boiling Springs. Two young men named George Esterline and — War-ner were wrestling when Warner threw Esterline, and in falling broke a blood ves-sel in the region of his heart. He was sel in the region of his heart. He was taken to his boarding place near the mines and a physician called in who rendered the necessary medical attention, but without effect. He gradually grew worse and exbired on Tuesday morning, Young War-pired on Tuesday morning, Young War-ner was a single man, about 25 years of age, a native of Cecil county, Md., where his parents now reside. His remains were interred in the burying ground at Boiling Surjung  $E^{i}da$ Springs.-Echo.

The Oakville Enterprise says : The Printers' Picnic, suggested by us two weeks ago, has been arranged,—Williams' Grove has been selected as the place where it will be held, -and SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 12th, as the day. Several bands of music and Widner's celebrated orchestra, of Carlisle, will be in attendance; the best of railroad accommodations will be furnished; an ex-cursion over the H. & P. Railroad is contemplated, and every arrangement will be made to render it an enjoyable affair and the crowning success of the season.

On Tuesday last, Mrs. Julia Peffer, re-siding with her son J. A. Peffer, near Barnitz's mill, met with a painful but not serious accident. In attempting to climb a board fence, she accidentally fell, breaking two of her ribs on her left side. Dr. Harman, of Carlisle, attended to her injuries. Mrs. Peffer is about 55 years of age and is doing as well as can be expected.

Quite a number of indictments for violations of the local option law will occupy the attention of Court next week.

Albert Houser, a young man, crippled with rheumatism, and said to belong to Harrisburg, was arrested in this place, by Sheriff Totton, on the charge of stealing a horse and buggy, the property of Mrs. Over-dere, of Mechanicsburg.

The employees of the Shoe Factory, with few exceptions, are working at night. ders for the fall trade are coming in rapidly.

We regret to announce the death of Geo. Bentz, son of the proprietor of the Bentz house, which took place on Wednesday night of last week.- Volunteer.

Juniata County .-- From the Mifflintown papers we copy the following :

On Friday last, at the M. E. Sunday school celebration, at Macedonia, Stanton, son of H. H. Wilson, of this borough, fell into the canal at that place, and would have drowned had it not been for Alonza Fasic, of Patterson, who heard the splash and jumped into the canal and rescued

"HONEYMOON,"

"HONEYMOON," REMEMBRANCES OF A BRIDAL TOUR THEOUSE SCOTLAND, is the title of a new and highly in-teresting work lately issued by the firm of J. B. Lippincott & Co., of Philadelphia. The author is the Count de Medina Pomar, an Italian writer, some of whose works of a semi-religious character have been beretorore trasla-ted into English. In the present instance he has used the novel as a means of advancing his views of religion, the result being a most extraordinary compound of catholicism, seni-ment, psychology, philosophy and orthodoxy, with a very liberal spice of fiction and narra-tive. To lovers of speculation it will prove an attractive work. Many of the chapters are in effect detached tales of more or less interest.— It comprises two volumes, printed on fine white effect detached tales of more or less interest. It comprises two volumes, printed on fine white paper, neat muslin binding. Price $3. Ad-dress J. B. Lippincott & Co., 715 and 717 Mar-ket Street, Philadelphia.

"We have received No. 9 of the above pub-lication, and find the selections unusually good, the type large and distinct, the paper clear white, and of excellent quality. We would advise musical people to send on their subscriptions at once, foeling sure that in no other manner can so large an amount of first-class music be purchased for so little money.

Last Saturday evening, the mail train east, due here about 6 o'clock, struck a man who was walking on the track between Patterson and Lewistown. Fortunately, the unfortunate man was caught and held on the "cow-catcher," till the train was stopped. He was then put on board and brought to Patterson. He had an arm broken and a hand cut off, and was severe-ly hurt in other parts of his body. He is an Irishman. Before coming to this country he lost an eye and a thumb by an explosion .- Sentinel.

On Monday last, Drs. Banks and Miller administered chloroform to Mr. John Hayes' black horse Shoo-Fly, and removed from his left hind leg a large lump which has here-tofore greatly impaired his speed. The operation was a success in every particular, and Shoo Fly is doing well.-Independent.

A Valuable Book .- A digest of the "Game Laws" has been issued by J. B. Speise, of Harrisburg, in book form.

This little book (containing 36 pages) has been carefully compiled, after an exhaustive research among the "Acts of Legislature" (running through the past fifteen years) re-lating to the taking as well as the preserva-tion of Game and Fish. All acts or parts of acts that have been repealed have been strictly accorded.

repealed have been strictly excluded, so that the laws therein published form a correct and reliable "digest" or "resume" of the "Game" and "Fish" laws as they atand to-day upon the statute books. They are well worth the perusal of every farmer, mechanic, sportsman—in fact every ons—whether land owner or not—interested in the proper protection and preservation of "Game" and "Game Fish."

The retail price of this work is (single copies,) fifty cents. Liberal terms offered to agents.
