

The Bloomfield Times.

Tuesday, December 8, 1874. LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

NO CUTS INSERTED. No Cut or Stereotype will be inserted in this paper, unless light face and on metal base.

Blank Deeds, Blank constable sales, blank warrants and other blanks for sale at this office, also at the office of Wm. M. Sutch, Esq.

A Mistake.—The Rev. J. B. Shoup will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday, December 20th, and not on the 6th as reported in last week's TIMES.

A New Story.—On the 1st of January we shall commence the publication of a new story, which will probably be completed in four weeks. We have no hesitation in saying that our readers will find it a story of great interest. During the year we shall publish several shorter stories by the same contributor.

Tells Everything.—We have received a book entitled "Dr. Chase's Receipts." If this book don't tell everything it comes nearer to it than any we ever had, and is an invaluable book to every family. We advise every reader to send for a copy. Address Dr. Chase, Ann Arbor, Mich., and enclose $2.

Perry County Ore.—We learn from Reading that the iron ore shipped from Darius Long's farm, in Centre township, has been tested and proves to be a superior quality, well adapted for the purpose of manufacturing steel. It is different from any other ore in the State, and from present appearances will prove a valuable addition to the mineral wealth of this commonwealth.

Who Eat that Butter?—A few days since a woman living within 4 miles of this borough, lost a fine comb, and after a long search gave it up as gone. On Thursday last she churned, and in taking the butter out of the churn, the comb made its appearance, being found in the butter. And what troubles that family now, is to know whether the comb was in the cream-crook, or in the churn. The marketing from that farm does not come to Bloomfield, as that woman considers Newport a better market.

The New Postal Laws are causing the newspaper publishers generally, to give their subscribers notice to pay in advance if they reside out of the county in which the paper is published. As postage must be prepaid after January 1st, publishers decline giving credit and advancing the money for postage too. This change will no doubt be a stepping stone towards the adoption of a rule for advance payment on all subscriptions, which would be to the advantage of both printer and subscriber.

Horse Thief.—On Saturday a week, a young fellow hired a horse and buggy of Mr. D. P. Souloff, at Millintown, for the purpose of going to Perryville, with the understanding he was to return in the afternoon. Instead of returning, he sent a dispatch saying he could not return till Sunday morning, and then drove on to Newport. At that place he left the buggy and borrowing a saddle rode away in the direction of Bloomfield. On Tuesday Mr. Souloff was here looking after his property, and from his description of the animal and the thief, there is no doubt that he was in this place, about 4 o'clock on Sunday, and left from here on the road leading towards Carlisle. Previous to hiring the horse he had been employed as a painter on the Court House at Millintown.

A Hard Case.—The Sunbury Daily says: An employee of the Pennsylvania iron company having been idle for some time and his family suffering for the necessities of life, made application at the office for an order on the steam mill owned by the company for a bag of flour. It being refused, the man proceeded to the mill and deliberately shouldered a sack of flour and attempted to walk off with it. The miller interposed, and inquired what he meant by such conduct as that. He informed the miller that the company was still owing him, and that he had applied for an order for flour, that he might procure it in the regular way, but was refused. That his family were suffering for the necessities of life, and that he meant to have the flour cooly drawing a pistol, warned the miller not to interfere with him. The miller seeing that it was a desperate case concluded that it was best not to interfere further and the man was allowed to depart in peace.

Church Notices.

Presbyterian Church.—Preaching every Sabbath until further notice, at 11 a. m., and 6 p. m. Prayer meeting on Wednesday evening.

Freaching in the Reformed Church next Sunday at 10 a. m. Prayer meeting on Thursday evening.

Lutheran Service.—Preaching in the Lutheran church next Sabbath at 2 o'clock p. m.

Lippincott's Illustrated Magazine for December has been received, and contains its usual variety of choice reading. Among its contributors will be found some of the most popular writers of the day. A Premium to every subscriber. Send 30 cents for a Specimen copy and the Premium List. J. B. Lippincott & Co., Publishers, Philadelphia.

Brief Items.

The Teachers' Institute is in session in the Court House, as we go to press.

Singing class meets every Saturday evening in Elliottsburg. The singing will be led by Mr. S. P. Stambaugh.

The Bloomfield Fur Company has commenced to pile up the skins and scalps.—"Major" Geo. Swartz one day last week brought home a very large red fox.

The Reformed Sunday School, in this borough, have refitted and greatly improved their rooms, and occupied them for the first time since the change, on Sunday last.

Ten cents is the amount required to become a member of the Excelsior Literary Society, held every Monday evening in the School House at Elliottsburg.

The Rev. Mr. Jones of Landisburg, commenced a protracted meeting in the German Bethel, Dec. 6th, which is to continue during the present week.

The protracted meeting at Lackey's Church, held by the Methodists, was closed on Saturday. The results of the meeting were very satisfactory.

It is said that Mr. James McCrea of Philadelphia, will succeed Mr. Black as Superintendent of the Middle division of the P. R. R. on January 1st.

An unusual number of "tramps" were accommodated with quarters in the jail last week. Most of them were able bodied young men, who ought to be made work for their living.

Mr. James Wilson, of Upper Horse Valley, shot a large buck on Friday morning, the 4th inst. It was the largest deer that has been shot in these parts for years. It weighed when dressed, one hundred and ninety pounds.

"The Enterprise" heretofore published at Oakville, Cumberland county, is to remove this week to Newville. We hope Messrs. Fosnot & Bro. will find the change of base, to be an advantage to them in all respects.

A German aged about 65 years is traveling around this county with a bundle of grape cuttings, which he offers to sell at fifteen and 20 cents apiece; he also sells receipts to cure the chicken disease for $1.00, both worth "dix."

On Friday evening, a horse belonging to Mr. Jos. Miller, broke loose while hitched at the Log Church, and came home with the carriage to which he was attached. Nothing was broken, and only the whip and cushions were missing.

Correspondents should remember that correspondence not accompanied with the proper signature, is sure to go into the waste paper basket, and that when paper is written upon both sides, it is very apt to take the same course.

On Saturday night, Jim Flynn undertook to pass a buggy belonging to Mr. Sanderson, while near Comp's school house, and not being in good driving condition, tore the spokes all out of one of the hind wheels of the buggy belonging to Mr. Sanderson. Unfortunately the careless driver was not hurt.

The Gettysburg Compiler says: "About forty geese were stolen in Mummaburg and vicinity one night last week. John Hartman lost twenty-three, Peter Leher seven, Albert Vondyke and others the balance. It is supposed that the stolen property was taken across the mountain in a covered spring wagon seen in the early part of the evening."

Cumberland County.—From the Cumberland county papers of last week, we copy the following:

A most disgraceful fight occurred near Kramer's corner on last Wednesday night. John Hays, Esq., has been elected President of the Carlisle Deposit Bank, in place of Henry Saxton, resigned.

Harry C. Bomberger, of Newburg, had a valuable horse to die for him one night last week. The horse showed no symptoms of illness the evening previous, but was found dead in the stable the next morning.

We learn that the barn of W. P. Eckles, Esq., near New Kingston, in Silver Spring township, was entirely destroyed by fire on last Monday morning, the 30th ult. The particulars, as near as we can ascertain them, are that Mr. R. Lightenberger, who resides on the farm, got up early in the morning, fed and harnessed up his team, and went to the mountain for a load of rails before daylight. About seven or eight o'clock his daughter went to the barn to let out the cattle, and after having got all out of one stable, went to another stable on a similar errand, when she discovered fire falling from the hay mow above her. Becoming alarmed, she immediately ran to the house to inform her mother and some neighbors; but before any assistance arrived, the flames had enveloped the entire barn, consuming four head of cattle, nine hogs, the entire crop of grain, straw, hay and fodder, and all the farming implements excepting one wagon and a carriage. The fire burned so rapidly, and the heat was so great, that it was with difficulty that the dwelling house was saved.

The barn was insured to the amount of $3500, but Mr. Eckles thinks $6000 would hardly cover the loss. The origin of the fire is not definitely known, but it is supposed to have been caused by a tramp, who had lodged in the barn during the night. The barn was nearly new, having been built about two years, and was considered the handsomest in that section of the county.

Great sympathy is felt for Mr. Eckles, the owner, and especially for Mr. Lightenberger, the tenant, as he has not grain or hay enough left to feed his remaining stock with, and his hard labor of the year is gone.—Volunteer.

Juniata County.—From the Millintown papers we copy the following:

We learn that Jacob W. Muthersbaugh has purchased Mrs. Gallaher her property, on South Main Street for $4200.

Henry J. Shellenberger, of Beale township, lost a valuable horse by death, one day last week.

A. J. Weaver, residing in Port Royal, killed a hog, on Tuesday of last week, which weighed 495 pounds. Who can beat that?

On Wednesday night of last week, Samuel B. Kepner, residing in Tarbett twp., had a beef which had been slaughtered the day previous, stolen out of his spring house.

On Wednesday evening of last week, William Hamlin, a clerk in Banks & Hamlin's store, on Main Street, thought he heard something like oil running from a barrel in the cellar, and, on going down, he struck a match, which immediately ignited the gas arising from the oil, and almost instantly communicated to a barrel of oil. By the arrival of timely assistance the barrel was rolled into the back yard, and thus averted what would have proved a disastrous conflagration. Henry Hawk had his coat badly burned while assisting in removing the barrel of burning oil.—Independent.

Dedication.—The Evangelical Lutheran Church of Newport, Pa., built during the past summer, will be dedicated to the worship of the Triune God, on December the 27th, 1874. Services to commence at 10 o'clock A. M. Sermon by Rev. F. W. Conrad, D. D., of Philadelphia. All the neighboring ministers and friends generally, are cordially invited to be present. A. H. AGONE, Pastor.
