The Richmond Calamity.

A dreadful calamity by which Fifty-six persons were instantly killed, and more than two hundred wounded, a number of whom have since died, occurred in Richmond, Va., on Wednesday of last week. The following editorial article we take from the Richmond Dispatch of last Thursday:

Yesterday occurred the greatest calamity that ever afflicted this city save the burning of the theatre in 1811. It was occasioned by the falling of the floor of the old Senate chamber, in the capitol, which is now used for the sessions of the supreme court of appeals in this state.

Eleven o'clock was the hour for the meeting of the court, and it being understood that then would be announced the decision upon the question of the constitutionality of the "enabling act."—otherwise known as the Chahoon Elyson case—which has excited so much interest in this community, a large number of citizens assembled in the gallery and space in front of the bench before the hour appointed. The weight of such a packed mass was too great for the imperfectly constructed flooring and yet more faulty gallery, which was suspended from the upper joists in a most defective manner. The gallery first fell forward, the floor yielding instantly and going down with it, carrying the packed body of men to the floor of the House of Delegates, fully twenty feet below. As fearful and fatal as this was, the heavy ceiling and the timbers which supported it descended along with the mass, greatly increasing the mortality. Fifty-six were killed outright, and others may die from injuries received.

Had the catastrophe occurred ten minutes earlier, possibly half the members of the house of delegates would have been killed by the falling of the mass upon them, for a caucus of the great majority of the body had adjourned probably not ten minutes before the occurrence; or had the hour of the meeting of the court been twelve instead of eleven o'clock, a like destruction of life would have taken place, for the legislature would then have been in session.

The scene cannot be described, nor can it be appreciated by those who did not witness it. The mass of human beings that fell were so mixed up with the heavy timbers and rubbish that they had to be disengaged with great labor. The sight of the dead and wounded as they were slowly let down from the House of Delegates (the door of which was blocked up by the ruins) was heartrending. So covered with dust and blood were they that it was difficult to recognize them. The great body of people outside swayed with anxiety and grief. Many hundreds watched eagerly for friends and relatives who were known to have been in the court room, and each body that appeared in the hands of the indefatigable men who worked for the relief of those buried with the ruins was scanned with the closest scrutiny by a thousand eyes.

This calamity has filled the city with gloom, and bowed the public spirit to that providential dispensation which it is not for us to criticise, but which it is our duty to turn to our own good by the practice of the public and private virtues which affliction teaches all intelligent and wise communities.

The disaster has swept through all classes of the community. None escape. Some of our best and most distinguished citizens have perished in it. Legislators, lawyers, citizens, state and municipal officers, a journalist and private citizens, are all numbered in the list of dead and wounded. Richmond is chief mourner; but nearly every section of the state shares in the immediate results of the calamity, while we know that the people of the entire commonwealth will feel the affliction as their own.

The Indian Troubles.

CHEYENNE, May 2.—A private letter from Fort Laramie, dated April 29, says the Indians attacked Ben Mills' cattle herds on the Clingwater, and slaughtered several cattle. Two men who were with the herd are missing. Large numbers of men are daily arriving from the East to join the Big Horn Association. Over a hundred turned out to day and paraded the streets. The expedition will start May 10.

CHICAGO, May 2.—A person who arrived at Sioux, City yesterday from Fort Sully, reports that the Cheyenne agency has been taken possession of by Indians, and that in attempting to land they were ordered back by the savages, who fired over their heads; that Major Kendall and comrades are prisoners, and that the Indians had killed a large number of cattle, the carcases of which are seen along the river banks and on the sand bars.

AND still the good work goes on! The Secretary of the Treasury reports for this month a reduction in the public debt of nearly twelve millions of dollars, being at the rate of almost a hundred and fifty millions a year! Nothing should more strengthen the

A Political Calm.

We take from Harper's Weekly of the 30th the following views of general politics. They are calm, impartial and discriminating:

If parties where wholly arbitrary organizations, or if they were formed merely to accomplish certain results, they would disappear when those results were attained. If the Republican party had been only a union for the overthrow of the ascendency of slavery in the national policy, the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment would be the signal of its dissolution. But as the Democratic party, which for a generation was merely a conspiracy to perpetuate and extend slavery, survives the extinction of slavery, so does the Republican party. Total defeat does not end the one, nor absolute victory the other. They each continue as representatives and organs of a certain general tendency in our political development. A hearty faith in the great principles of popular government, a generous hospitality toward new views and constant progress, a practical perception of the close relation between morals and politics, a deep conviction of the vital necessity of intelligence to a true republic, will generally lead a man to act with the Republican party, and the policy of that party upon any specific question that may arise will naturally be determined by the same characteristics.

Upon such immediate topics of public discussion as the general financial policy and the tariff, neither of the great parties is harmonious within its own ranks.—There are tariff Democrats and free-trade Republicans; and neither party, as a party, is directly committed to protection or to free trade. Meanwhile, the financial measures of the Secretary of the Treasury are severely criticised by many Republicans, while the Democrats have no consistent policy than the inconsistant cry that the Republicans caused the heavy taxation, and that taxes ought to be reduced. Upon the foreign policy there is the same disagreement upon all sides. The Administration, during the Cuban troubles, has faithfully enforced the laws of 1818, while Administration Senators and journals have virtually condemned its position, and Democratic journals have sustained its action. Upon the Alabama question little has been recently said. The Republicans are, however generally united upon the truth of the statement made in Parliament of Mr. Gorden in May, 1864, that England carried on war from her shores with the United States, violated international law, and flagrantly disregarded her neutral duties. The Democrats will take still higher ground upon the same side, if necessary to conciliate the "Irish vote" in the Presidential election.

But in the political lull of which we speak there is no doubt of a very general profound confidence in the sagacity and integrity of the Administration. It has as little respect for the celebrated constituency of Buncombe as any Administration that we can recall. If the St. Domingo crotchet were out of the way, and a few appointments had been different, there could be nothing left but praise for the general conduct of affairs. It is a quiet, steady, working Administration, which is precisely what the exigency following the war demands. In view of what the Democratic party offered at the election, the general situation of the country is such as to occasion the sincerest satisfaction and congratulation. The Union is about being fully restored, and with its restoration political distinctions of class have ceased. If the great party to which this inestimable consummation is due is as wise as it is powerful, its power will indefinitely endure.

The Oneida Orphans.

The Secretary of the Navy has addressed the following letter to Mrs. Fremont in response to a communication from that lady, announcing that the managers of the Union Home and School for Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans will take charge of and educate the children of those who were lost on the Oneida:

WASHINGTON, May 2, 1870.

MY DEAR MADAM: I have received your letter enclosing the announcement that the managers of the Union Home for Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans, New York, are prepared to take charge of and educate the children who have been left fatherless by the fatal collision of the British steamer Bombay with the United States ship Oneida in the Bay of Yeddo. I beg that you will allow me to express to you and your associates, for myself and for the whole naval service, the high appreciation that will be felt for this act of generous charity.

The fate of the officers and men of the Oneida and the circumstances under which it was met were such an appeal for sympathy to every heart, and presents to the world an example of courage and discipline of which the men and women of our country may well be proud. To provide for the orphans of those who died so suddenly, yet so bravely is an act worthy of your noble charity—an act noble in itself and which will have an effect for good beyond the present.

There is no stronger sorrow than that which comes with the thought of those who are left unprovided behind; and death, whatever form it takes, will be met with less regret, if not with more courage, by every sailor as he realizes that the hearts of his country women are open and warm towards them.

In the name of the officers and men of the navy I thank the managers and members of your institution, and assure you of a grateful remembrance of your kindness by them and their children, and of the higher reward which will come to you with the consciousness of giving joy to so many hearts.

Very respectfully,
GEORGE M ROBESON,
Secretary of Navy.

Fighting in Cuba.

The war in Cuba still continues, with varying success on either side. It is difficult to get at the true state of affairs in the island. One day we have the Spaniards claiming that the revolution is morally if not actually subdued, the rebel armies disbanded, and their leaders escaping out of the country; and next day we hear, from Cuban sources, that the revolution is stronger than ever, the the Spaniards have been defeated and driven back at every point, and will soon be compelled to abandon the contest. We suspect both stories have a basis of truth. The insurrectionary distraicts of Cuba are mountainious, covered with forest, destitute of good roads, and exceedingly difficut for regular military operations. The only war is a desultory, guerrilla style of fighting, in which the insurgent has always a great advantage over the regular soldier. The insurgents may be driven from their camp, only to gather somewhere else; the Spaniards may be repulsed, only to fall back upon their own lines, where the poorly-armed and ill-disciplined insurgent can not follow them, and prepare for a renewal of the attack. This sort of warfare may go on for years.

Militia Service.

It may be of interest to many of our readers to learn that previous to adjournment the Legistature passed an act relating to the militia organization of the State and militia tax. The bill provides as follows:

"Each and every person not now, or who shall not hereafter become a member of some military organization, shall pay to the collector of taxes in the city, county, borough or township in which he may reside, the sum of fifty cents annually; the payment of which sum shall exempt him from liability to perform military service except under orders to prevent or repel invasion, or to suppress insurrection, tumult or riot; the proceeds to be applied to sustaining volunteer military organizations; and in any county where there shall be no volunteer military organizations the money received into the brigade fund, as aforesaid, shall be paid by the county treasurer of said county at the close of each year to the School Board of the several school districts in said county, in proportion to the number of taxable inhabitants in said district, to be used for school purposes.

Pennsylvania State Sunday School Convention.

The annual Convention for the year 1870, will be held at Harrisburg, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 14, 15 and 16. George H. Stuart, Esq., is expected to preside. Each Sunday School in the State is invited to send two or more delegates. Pastors of Churches, Superintendents of Sunday Schools, and prominent Sunday School workers from all parts of the State are invited to attend and participate.

Our Sunday School brethren from other States are cordially welcomed. It is requested that the names of those who expect to attend shall be sent to Rev. Thos. H. Robinson, or John M Sayford, Secretary, on or before the first day of June, as it WILL BE NECESSARY for those who would avail themselves of a reduction of fare on the railroads, to procure excursion tickets before leaving their homes for Harrisburg. The committee of arrangements will secure orders for tickets for all who notify them in time to do so and forward them.

Places of entertainment will be provided for all who give due notice of their coming.

T. H. ROBINSON, Chairman.
J. M. SAYFORD, Secretary.

GEN. O. O. HOWARD is fortunate in his calumniators. Years ago, it was Andrew Johnson who maligned him in long and frequent veto messages on the Freedmen's Bureau bill. Afterward, it was Gen. Gordan Granger who went spying among the subordinates that he might find matter on which to ground indefinite and general abuse of the Chief of the Bureau, which it will be remembered was subsequently delivered in a long report, which read very much like the effort of an amateur correspondent of a fourth-class newspaper. Now it is Fernando Wood who impeaches the honesty of his administration of the affairs of the Freedmen. If the witnesses who are to sustain these charges have no better standing with the public than the accusers, the prosecution will prove contemptible persecution. But there is little doubt that the result of the case, which some one has aptly termed "Mackerelville versus Havelock," will be the complete vindication of Gen. Howard.—[N. Y. Tribune.

THE DANVILLE ASYLUM.—The Intelligencer says that work was commenced on the Asylum on the 14th. It says further: In company with the Superintendent, we paid a visit to the locality the early part of the week. We found everything prepared to commence operations; thousands of perches of stone, and millions of brick are "lying around loose," preparatory to being piled up in the proper shape and form in the new building. Work men have been engaged all winter in dressing the lintels, sills, etc., out of a beautiful red stone brought from York Co. The foundation and cellar walls built last year don't appear to have been affected in the least by the frost during the winter months, but look staunch, solid and enduring. It is intended to run the walls up during this season of sufficient height for the roof, which will necessitate the employment of a very large number of mechanics and laborers. A well has been sunk on the premises, in the rear of the asylum, to the depth of sixty-five feet, which yields an unlimited supply of pure spring water.—$100,000 has been appropriated by the Legislature to continue the work this year, a very large sum of money, which distributed here, cash, among

CANDIDATES' CARDS.

ASSOCIATE JUDGE.

EDS. POST:—The election of candidates to be voted for at the ensuing primary election, is surely an act requiring thought and honesty of purpose; we should select none but honest, intelligent, and reliable men as candidates. For the office of Associate Judge, especially, we should have men of integrity, sound judgement and honest convictions. In the person of H. L. RAUDENBUSH, a citizen of Beaver, we have these qualities combined; and it is with pleasure that we recommend him as a candidate for the office of Associate Judge. He has always been an active Republican, and now we request that the Republicans of this county do an act of justice by nominating and electing him to this important office. CITIZENS OF THE BEAVERS.

EDITORS POST:—Permit us, through your columns, to recommend HON. A. J. MIDDLESWARTH for re-nomination as Associate Judge. He has served the people of Snyder county in that capacity, for one term, with fidelity to the people, credit to himself and honor to the position. He has demeaned himself as a faithful and efficient officer, as an affable and courteous gentleman, as a sound and purely orthodox Republican. He has contributed largely to the success of our party of which he has been a life-long member and justly merits a re-election.

MANY REPUBLICANS.

TO THE VOTERS OF SNYDER COUNTY:—Being solicited by a number of my friends, I hereby offer myself as a candidate for Associate Judge at the coming primary election of the Republican party. Should I receive the nomination and be elected, I pledge myself to perform the duties of the office with fidelity.

HENRY D. MITCHELL.

SENATOR.

EDITORS POST.—Republicans of Snyder county, in a few weeks you will be called upon to select standard bearers, from your number, for the approaching campaign, and we recommend to your favorable consideration, COL. WM. G. HARNOLD as a suitable person to represent this Senatorial District in the Senate of Pennsylvania. Col. Herrold's party fealty, integrity, ability and fitness will not admit of question or doubt; and he justly merits the nomination. He will carefully guard and promote the interests of his constituency, and make us a representative of whom we may justly be proud. We venture the assurance that he will exercise every effort to advance every popular and feasible project which will enhance the interest of the people.

REPUBLICANS OF FRANKLIN.

ASSEMBLYMAN.

EDITORS POST.—We take pleasure in recommending to the Republican party of Snyder county, CAPT. WILLIAM H. HAMMOND, as a suitable person to represent us in Legislature of Pennsylvania. Fired with the zeal of the patriot, his pure ideas of equal rights and equal justice, he was among the first to offer his life a willing sacrifice on his country's alter in the late struggle for national life. Possessing every qualification to make a good Representative, it would only be a merited tribute to his service and heroic conduct to nominate him by an overwhelming majority. Our candidate for Legislative honors, Capt. Harding, is eminently qualified for and justly deserving of the public trust for which we recommend him. CITIZENS OF BEAVER.

EDITORS POST:—I noticed in your last issue that you have several recommendations for suitable persons for offices to be filled at the election next fall. Believing it to be to our interest as a party to nominate the best men for the respective offices, I would present the name of IRVIN SMITH, Esq., as a suitable person to represent the people of our county in the Legislature. Mr. Smith is a young man of more than ordinary ability, a staunch Republican; has served the party long and well, and heretofore has never asked anything within their power to bestow. If the Republican party of Snyder county place Mr. Smith in nomination, he will represent their interests at Harrisburg with honor and fidelity. Let us nominate the best men presented for our choice, and victory will perch upon our banner.

CENTRE.

REGISTER AND RECORDER.

EDITORS POST:—During the war, when soldiers were needed to protect our homes and guard the national honor, we said to our noble volunteers "Go, boys, and we will see that you are provided for should you be wounded." As a general thing our promises have been remembered, and many wounded soldiers are now holding offices of trust and honor. Believing that our citizens are ever willing to honor those who imperilled their lives for us, we would urge the nomination of JAMES M VANZANDT, a citizen of your town, for the office of Register and Recorder, at the ensuing primary election. Mr. VanZandt served faithfully in our army nearly four years, and in that time was so severely wounded as to unfit him for hard manual labor. Therefore we think that he should be nominated and elected. If elected we are satisfied that he will be an efficient officer. PENNS.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Permit me, a subscriber, to suggest through the columns of your paper the name of S. R. Schuck, of Middleburg, (formerly of Monroe township) as a suitable and worthy candidate for re-nomination for Register and Recorder of this county. He has proved himself capable, efficient, industrious and obliging. No one who has had occasion to enter the office can bear witness to the contrary. An excellent penman, a good accountant, a sound Republican deserving of success. Let us renominate him BEAVER.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Allow me to urge upon the Republicans of our county the propriety of re-nominating B. F. PARKS, Esq., for the office of District Attorney. Mr. Parks' brief official career has proven him to be an efficient and an obliging officer, and we can see no good reason why he should not be re-elected. At the breaking out of the rebellion, "Barney" was among the first to respond to the call for volunteers—served his country faithfully as a soldier nearly four years, in that time received wounds from which he will never fully recover, and now we think that it would be but a small return for the gratitude we owe an honorable soldier and an efficient officer to re-elect him. OLD BEAVER.

COMMISSIONER.

THINKING that our township is entitled to a Commissioner this fall, allow me to present the name of ADAM J. FISHER to the Republican voters of our county in connection with that office. Mr. Fisher has always been an active and zealous Republican and has never heretofore asked for anything in the power of the party to bestow. We think it would be but simple justice to place him in nomination at the ensuing primary election. Should he be nominated and elected, we will have an honest and competent Commissioner. PENNS.

THE office of County Commissioner is one of the most important offices to the tax-payers of a county, and to fill it we should have men of undoubted honesty and integrity. In connection with many Republicans, allow me to present the claims of CAPTAIN PHILIP KINNEY, of Beaver, for this important office. He is a man of sound judgement, honest and reliable, and if nominated and elected, will make a faithful officer. FRANKLIN.

EDITORS POST.—Please announce that JOHN ROMIG, of Penns twp., will be a candidate for County Commissioner, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the ensuing Primary Election. Mr. Romig is well qualified to fill the office; is a good sound Republican, and will, if elected, make a good officer. J.
