Farming as a Business.

A man who is not smart enough to run a farm, is not smart enough to run a store. Farmers are not to be made out of what is left after lawyers, doctors, ministers and merchants are sorted and picked out. And if a man fails on a good farm, he will not succeed in a store, for it requires more talent to be a thriving farmer than to be an average merchant. The one cause of greatest failure is the disproportion between a man's farm and his capital. A farmer's capital is his skilled labor and his money. If he has little cash, he must have more land than he can thoroughly well manage by his own personal labor. Every acre beyond that is an encumbrance. One acre well worked is more profitable than twenty acres skimmed over. It is this greed of land by farmers that have not the capital to work it that keeps so many poor. Small farms are better than large ones simply because they are better suited to the average capital of common farmers. Large farms with large capital are better than small ones.

But, two hundred acres of land, in the possession of a man who has only enough capital to stock and develop ten acres, leads to one of two things, either that he pay taxes on one hundred and ninety acres which he does not use, or, as more commonly the case, that he spreads his small capital out over the whole two hundred; and so this is it, that it is like a spoonful of guano on a Grand Prairie.

Farming is a good business for all men who conduct it on business principles and have capital according to the size of their farms. If a man does not understand his business, he will fail, whether he be farmer, lawyer, minister or merchant. If a man attempts to run a mine, a manufactory, a bank, or a farm, without capital, he will fail alike in all or any of them, but no sooner in one than another of them.

Farming for amusement is another and entirely different thing. Some men prefer dogs and horses; some men pictures; some men landscapes, gardens and fancy greenhouses, and others fancy farms, as a means of agreeably spending their money and occupying their leisure. A farm may be a rich man's plaything. He does not live from his ground. His ground lives from him.—H. W. Becker, in Christian Union.

TO KEEP CHICKENS HEALTHY.—We have published much on this subject, but the following from a correspondent of the Rural New Yorker is opportune:—"The way I keep my fowls in health, I clean out the house once a week; put wood ashes under the roost; have iron basins for them to drink from; whitewash inside of henhouses with hot lime; put a little kerosene oil on the roosts once a month. The main food is oats and corn or corn and clover. I never feed but once a day at noon, or when I shut them up at four or five in the afternoon. When they run out then give them all they will eat. In my experience there is no easier way to get diseased fowls than to keep them stuffed; it makes them lazy, and they won't work as much as they ought to, to keep them in healthy condition. I never had any cures in chickens. When fowls begin to drop I give them three large pills of common hard yellow soap; it is the best thing to cleanse a fowl I know of. I follow it for three days; give them nothing to eat, and plenty of pure water to drink. In desperate cases give a half teaspoonful of tincture of lobelia.

EFFECT OF PUMPKIN SEEDS ON MILK COWS.—A correspondent writes to the New England Farmer in regard to the subject as follows:—"First, I feed my cows one week with one large or two small pumpkins to each cow twice a day. Their milk decreased two or three quarts to each cow a day from what they gave the week previous. I then fed them with the same quantity of pumpkins as before, and took out the seeds. They increased in a greater proportion of milk than they decreased the week previous. I then fed them alternately three or four weeks, and they varied in their milk very much, as the first week." The diuretic quality of pumpkin seeds is well known, and they will always prove injurious to animals if fed in a large quantity. Fowls have sometimes eaten of them so largely as to produce death.

TO DESTROY CATERPILLERS ON TREES.—Take common soft-soap, and thin it with water so that it will not slip off the brush, and a person may stand upon the ground and apply it to the nest with a common painter's brush, inserted in a hole bored through one end of a long strip saved from a pine or other light board, and all it touches it will instantly kill. If applied while the nests are small, very few will escape the first application. After the worms are large, it is equally efficacious, but much more difficult to apply thoroughly. Any thin oil, or oil mixed with spirits of turpentine, is equally destructive to the worms; but the soap is less injurious to the trees.

A FARMER having ploughed the land about his apple trees for the first time, was surprised by a second blossoming about two weeks after the first bloom had disappeared.

PEACH-LEAVES, bruised, it is said, are a specific for any fresh cut. Lock-joy is prevented by bandaging the leaves on twice a day.

APPLYING liquid manure is like feeding cooked food; more is used, growth is more rapid, and returns quicker and larger.

POTATOES mashed fine and mixed with hot water and an equal bulk of meal, is the best of all puddings for fattening chickens fast.

It is proposed to make sugar from pumpkins, which contain about four per cent of the saccharine quality.

ORILLARD'S "EUREKA" Smoking Tobacco is an excellent article of granulated, Virginia; wherever introduced it is universally admired. It is put up in handsome tin-lined bags, in which orders for Meerschaum Pipes are daily packed.

ORILLARD'S Yacht Club Smoking Tobacco is the choice of the best smokers in the world. It is made of the choicest leaf grown; it is anti-nervous in its effects, as the Nicotines has been extracted; it leaves no disagreeable taste after smoking; it is very mild, light in color and weight, hence one pound will last as long as 2 of ordinary tobacco. In this brand we also pack orders every day for first quality Meerschaum Pipes. Try it and convince yourselves it is all it claims to be, "THE FINEST OF ALL."

ORILLARD'S CENTURY Chewing Tobacco is a brand of Fine Cut chewing tobacco no one has equal or superior anywhere. It is without doubt the best chewing tobacco in the country.

ORILLARD'S SNUFFS have now been in general use in the United States over the 100 years, and still acknowledged "the best" wherever used. If your stockkeeper does not have these articles for sale, ask him to get them; they are sold by respectable jobbers almost everywhere. Circular of prices forwarded on application. P. Ayer's Cathartic Pills, For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this infallible, efficient, purgative. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and for more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it know that it cures them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of its remarkable course of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity. They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their regular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease. Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which most of the human race are afflicted with: For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Flatulency, Langor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action. For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bileous Colic and Bileous Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it. For Dysentery or Diarrhoea, but one mild dose is generally required. For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pains in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear. For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to reduce the effect of their diuretic power. For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy. As a Diaper Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach. An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus. DR. J. C.
