The special attention of the afflicted is invited to E. F. Kunkel's Bitter Wine of Iron, advertised in this issue—this article is one of his specialties, long established and favorably known for its Medical properties. Try it.

There are probably a hundred or more persons in this and neighboring towns, who daily suffer from the distressing effects of kidney troubles, who do not know that Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is almost a certain cure. In severe cases, great relief may be obtained, if not a perfect cure.

We notice that the Agricultural papers all over the country recommend the use of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, Exchange.

Farmers and others in this section have long known and appreciated the advantage of these powders over all others.

Two New Serials have just been commenced in the "Saturday Evening Post," which now justly claims to be the largest and Cheapest of the literary Weeklies. They are entitled as follows:—"Mark Jarrett's Daily: The Flower of Hartland," by George Eliot. The second Serial commenced in this Post is entitled "Pemberton; or, One Hundred Years Ago," and is by the Publisher, Mr. Henry Petersen. The commencement of these Serials is an excellent time to commence subscription for this Paper. Price, $2.00 a year. Four copies $5.00. Single numbers for 50¢ by the publishers and newsdealers, price 6 cents.

Extracts from the Selinsgrove Times: The thieves who stole a blanket, a robe, a buffalo robe, two overcoats and a whip at Weymouth's hotel, in Lewistown on Feb. 15th, not summary punishment at Union Co., court last week, as will be seen below.

On Monday afternoon an accident occurred on the canal a few miles below Selinsgrove, by the laying in of a frosty overhanging embankment whilst the men were at work under below. A man named Lester was covered with four feet depth of ground and was cut considerably over here. It took some time and great care to get him out.

As an evidence of the great extent of danger of the fire on the night of the 1st ult., we will state that fires were kindled on the Isle of Que, by flying sparks, probably no less than twenty to thirty different places.

A Nice Office.—By invitation of Dr. G. De Graff, we were shown through his library, in Clement's Building, and must say it is fitted up in good shape. The lawyer's reception room is situated on the right, fronting Third Street. It is nicely carpeted and furnished. The piece of furniture that most attracted our attention was a writing desk, in which is a glass case containing enough instruments, we should suppose, to do any kind of cutting on a large or small scale; suffice to say it is the largest collection of instruments we ever saw, and from what cutting we have seen the doctor does, he understands how to handle them. On the opposite side is the gentleman's reception room, and between the two is the operating room, with a great many more instruments, which he uses. Off the operating room is the Doctor's cabinet and dispensary, where he is and amidst a great quantity of medicines. The rooms are carpeted and furnished elegantly. The Doctor has a large practice, and increases rapidly.—Saturday Guard.

POCKET DICTIONARY.—We have received from the publishers, 128 and 140 Grand Street, a copy of Webster's Pocket Dictionary, which is a great improvement over former editions and all similar works. In the first place it is neatly printed and bound in morocco, a fine red color. Then it contains 200 pictorial illustrations, which give much clearer idea of meaning of many words than could possibly be conveyed by the usual definitions. The little volume, while being no larger than an ordinary pocket book, contains all the words and meanings of all the words in the vocabulary, a careful selection of over 18,000 of the most important words of the language, with definitions clearly and concisely given, so as to meet the ordinary wants of any person desiring its use. Prefixed to the book is a table of money, weight and measure, conversions, words and phrases in foreign languages, rules for reading, explanations, etc. It is in fact a valuable little book, and is doubtless worth the dollar it costs. The Publishers, Messrs. Blakeman, Taylor & Co., 128 & 140 Broad Street, New York, will forward it on receipt of One Dollar, or it can be bought at almost any book store.

Dead men tell no tales! If they did, another against the depiting honest, the drastic purge, and the terrible salves of the medical modes, would arise from every grave. The motto of modern medical science is, "Preserve and protect, Destroy," and no remedy of any sort is so entirely in harmony with this philanthropic logic as Dr. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS. In this powerful, yet harmless restorative, dyspepsia, bilious complaints, and all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and nerves, encounter an irresistible antidote.

DENTIST BEATENS.—Arron Bonner.—From the day that the famous horse "Dexter" became the property of Mr. Bonner, the name of the renowned tarter, has been used to a great extent in advertising the Leprosy. But "Goldsmith Maid" has beaten Dexter's time, and a literary enterprise has just been started called "Cleopatra's Cabinet," which indicates a determination on the part of the projectors and publishers to eclipse Donnella, the bold of journalism.

WATERS, EBERTS & CO., 780 State St., Chicago, are issuing "Our Friends FRIEND," a very handsome, illustrated eight page, literary and juvenile weekly.

Instead of expending a hundred thousand dollars in horse flesh they will distribute that amount among their subscriber for 1872, in the way of premiums. Their capital premium is $20,000 in Cash. Stated in their prospectus, that they will give to their subscribers, in addition to an increasing circulation for their paper, and it is no less probable that when such inducements in the way of premiums—in connection with a readable and first-class journal—are offered, the enterprise will prove a grand success. The premium list is large and varied. Specimen copies of the Paper, Premium List, &c., sent free to any address.

PARASOLS AND WHITE GOODS.

TO GO WEST.

Four years ago, Illinois was as far West as most people wished to go and journeys were made in the legendary "Prairie Schooner," but in those days of progress and Improvement, the word West has come to mean Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, California and the Territories, and the Traveller reaches almost any point therein by a splendid Line of Rail-road.

This Line of Railroad is the Burlington Route, which starts from Chicago over the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R. R., from Indianapolis over the Indianapolis, Cincinnati & Western Short Line and Peoria, Springfield, over the Toledo, Peoria & Western R. R., and running through Burlington, Iowa, reaching the Line of the Illinois Central, Joseph, Alton, Leavenworth and Kansas City, connecting with the Union Pacific, Kansas Pacific and other railroads running from those cities.

Always by "Way of Burlington" and you will be sure to be right.

The Burlington Route has already answered the question, "How to go West" by the publication of a truthful and interesting document, filled with facts regarding rates of Fare, and other interesting items and illustrated by a large number of photographs showing the West, which they distribute for charge. Capilis, and additional information, can be obtained by addressing General Passenger Agent, B. & M. R. R., Burlington, Iowa.
