

THE POST.

MIDDLEBURG, PA., MARCH 14, 1873.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

Personal Sales.—Isaac Lankter will sell personal property, consisting of Farm Stock and Implements, on Friday, March 15th, 1873.

John S. Hassinger will sell Farm Stock and Implements, on Wednesday, March 13th, 1873.

George Street, of West Beaver Town, will offer at public sale, March 12, 1873, valuable personal property, such as harness, carriage, farm implements, &c.

Heavy Phlegmatica.—A Division of the S. & L. R. R., fell from a high car on Tuesday morning, and one of the wheels passing over his neck he received injuries that may prove fatal, though slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Since the case of small-pox in which we have before alluded, came to Shamokin Dam, we learn that the disease has been spreading, and that there are now no less than five cases of it. The patients have been closed.—Selling Times.

The Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company, who have lately negotiated for the D. H. & W. R. R., took charge of the latter road on Thursday last week.

A report is current that Mr. D. H. D. of Union county, had a wife who was a sister to that which lived in the west at Susquehanna, Pa. Last winter in crossing over to Susquehanna on the line he hit two horses, wagon and produce, and very nearly lost his own life. Again, it is reported that Mr. D. H. D. has a wife who was a sister to that which lived in the west at Susquehanna, Pa. Last winter in crossing over to Susquehanna on the line he hit two horses, wagon and produce, and very nearly lost his own life.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.—Present, Hon. J. C. Bucher, President Judge and Associates Hons. Geo. C. Moyer and J. G. L. Shindel.

In the Orphan's Court the usual number of Guardians appointed. Administrators and Executors' accounts confirmed, &c.

In the Common Pleas all the cases at issue were either continued or settled.

In the Quarter Sessions the usual number of amalgam cases were disposed of.

A lengthy Argument List was disposed of in a short particular meter.

Road through the Ice.—Mr. Jacob Hokeverl, of Holliston, Union county, met with an accident in crossing the ice on the river between this place and Newburgh, about noon on Tuesday last.

Mr. Hokeverl is engaged in the lumber business and was on his way to Ash land with a load of logs, butter and eggs. He drove on the ice from Lewisburg, and when he got on the ice of the West Branch bridge he noticed a clear opening in the ice, which he supposed to be a hole, and he drove on the road, and as soon as he came up on the clear ice he drove through, wagon and horse going down together.

Mr. Hokeverl was in a hurry, and was not prepared to stop, and he drove on the ice, and when he got on the ice of the West Branch bridge he noticed a clear opening in the ice, which he supposed to be a hole, and he drove on the road, and as soon as he came up on the clear ice he drove through, wagon and horse going down together.
