—It is believed now that the case of Dr. Howard will be settled and the Doctor released, without the passage of the resolution recently introduced into the House of Representatives.

ORGANIZATION was never more spiritedly begun in this State for a great election contest by the Republicans than it is at present going on. The Republican masses of the Keystone State have resolved to vindicate their intelligent independence while they once more seal their devotion to just principles.—State Journal.

THE man who professes to be friendly to the re-election of Grant and yet labors to stab Gen. Hartranft in the back, is like the man who during the struggle for the national life, claimed to be loyal while he misinterpreted the Constitution for quibbles to show that it was illegal to proceed against traitors with armed force.—State Journal.

"It is curious to see, remarks the New Haven Palladium, "how all parties and factions which desire the overturning of any Republican act or principle look for help and countenance to the "Liberals" and their Cincinatti convention." Even the Kuklux are said to feel its influence, and to look forward to resumption of their infamous work.

THE N. Y. Tribune rejoices over a decision by the Supreme Court which restores Brigham Young to his supremacy in Utah and defeats the efforts to punish polygamy. The Tribune is evidently trying to enlist Brigham and his followers in its new political departure, and desires to be able to marshal the Mormon brigade in the motley organization against Grant and the Republican party.

—Every Democratic journal in the West and the North, and all malcontent Republicans who act as the bobtails of the Democratic party in the liberal movement, are free trade advocates, ready to open our ports to the manufactures of Europe, and thus ensure the pauperism of American labor. Furnacemen, rolling mill men, cotton factory men, miners, and hundreds of thousands engaged directly and indirectly in manufacturing, will remember these facts.

It has been estimated that a vast number of claims of pensions growing out of the rebellion—probably one fourth—are fraudulent. D. D. Addison, an attorney of Washington, has proposed to the Commissioners of Pensions and to the Congressional Committee of Pensions a plan by which that system of fraud could be destroyed, and which would lead to the detection of the fraudulent claims heretofore granted. The proposition is to publish in each county alphabetical lists of all persons to whom pensions have been or shall be granted, giving the residence &c., of each pensioner, and to furnish a copy thereof to each Federal and State officer of the county. This, it is believed, would result in the saving of millions of dollars annually to the Government, and in bringing to punishment all concerned in the frauds, and would enable the Commissioner of Pensions to modify the requirements of his office, so as to render it possible for all honest claimants to comply with them.

A great many persons who want office and other personal favors with Gen Grant's administration could not be gratified, and a number not having philosophy enough to pocket their disappointment are now full pledged sore heads and anxious to go to Cincinnatti or any other place that will let off their accumulating bile. The Democrats pat these grumblers affectionately on the back, and cheer them on their winding way. But was there ever a party successfully built up on disappointed ambition and unreasonable aspirations? Look at Tyler, at Fillmore, at Johnston, at Doolittle, at Cowen, and the score of others who went out in this way into outer darkness of obscurity, and for which the people ever after had no feeling but that of contempt. The masses care nothing about the imaginary grievances of hungry politicians.

Status of the Sorehends.

In alluding to the call put forth by the Sorehends of this State to attend the Cincinnati pow wow, the Pottsville Journal draws the following graphic picture of a few of the gentlemen whose name are appended to the document:

In the list are the names of John Hickman, of Chester county, who made a reputation as a war Democrat, but who of late years has become a wreck through the demon of intemperance; and those of Joseph W. Cake, Henry L. Cake, and Daniel D. Dillman, the first two former residents of Schuylkill county, and the latter now living here. Joseph left the county for reasons best known to himself to take an office under Andrew Johnson. Henry L. departed, because he forfeited by his course the confidence of the people. Whether Mr. Dillman's name was placed to the call with his contest we do not know. If it was, there is no evidence that it will remain there for three successive days, for we remember an occasion when he changed his mind on a matter he had in charge in half a-day's journey. The fact is, that even as we write this we are not sure that by the time the Journal appears, the gentleman referred to may not again have changed his opinion on this subject. The present movement may be little ruse on the part of the gentleman to get his name in print to rescue it from obscurity. Neither the movement nor the converts need cause the friends of President Grant's administration any especial alarm.

Great Speeches—A Telling Record.

We subjoin for public information, says the Harrisburg Telegraph, a list of thrilling "campaign speeches" made by General Hartranft during the eventful years 1861-2-3-4-5. What a glorious record of services rendered it presents. It is only necessary to glance at it to be convinced that the Republican Convention has selected a standard bearer worthy of the party—one whose name (coupled with his deeds) is a tower of strength, which no Democratic thunder can shake. We have the "right man in the right place," and the word now is "Advance!" Read the record:

—General O. O. Howard, now on a mission to the Indians in the northwest, has sent a dispatch to the Interior Department, saying that he has made arrangements for a meeting with some of the friendly tribes and expects good results.

—A letter was recently received at the post-office in Portsmouth, N. H., directed as follows: "Patrick Flynn, works in the mill of the same name of the steamer that sunk the Alabama—I forgot the name—United States of America." It reached the right man.

Communicated.

[For THE POST.]

1 State Supt. Wickersham in his official Department of the Penna. School Journal, April No., with reference to the election of county Superintendents, says: "If directors can find in a county, a person who advocates common schools, who, like Richter 'loves God and little children,' who, in short is something of an enthusiast in his work—he in all probability is the man to make a superintendent, even though he has not been to college."

2 It is provided by an Act that Co., Supt's. shall have the power of drawing from the County Treasury $200 annually for County Institute—To the credit of Wm. Moyer County Supt., be it said, that he saved the tax payers of Snyder county the sum of $500 in three years.

Snyder county Sabbath School Association.

The next annual convention of the Snyder County S S Association, will take place at Beavertown on the 16th (third Thursday) of May, 1872.

The following subjects will be discussed, viz: 1. What constitutes a successful Sabbath school? 2. Best methods of conducting teachers' meetings, and the helps necessary to their success. 3. What constitutes success in teaching? 4. Best methods of interesting the parents in the Sabbath school cause. 5. Best methods of conducting the singing. 6. What should be the character of the words and music? 7. Should the school hold two sessions a Sabbath? 8. Should the Sabbath school be kept open the whole year? 9. May unconverted persons be teachers? 10. What proportion of the present Sunday school literature is fit for the young to read? Other subjects besides these may be suggested for discussion. A question box will be used.

All the Sabbath school workers in the county are not only expected, but earnestly requested, to be present and take part in the exercises.

A pleasant and interesting time may be expected. Rev. G. A Peltz of Philadelphia, and, probably, Rev. J H Vincent of New York, author of Berean Series of S. S. Lessons, will be present.

The convention will remain in session until Saturday noon.

THE RUSSELL
MOWER & REAPER.

Manufactured by

C. Russell & Co.
CANTON, O.

Weight and Strength,

There must be a certain amount of weight, for the reason that all the power that can be brought to bear upon the knife is derived from the gravity or weight of the machine upon the ground. That it must combine strength enough to do well the work for which it is intended.

Durability and Utility,

It is important that a machine should be durable, for no matter how excellent it may be in all its parts, if not durable it will prove useless. Utility is the great object in our combined Reaper and Mower to be useful is the desired aim.

The mower cuts a four foot swarth and the Reaper a swarth of six feet.

Rear Cut vs Front Cut.

For the finest cut it has been claimed that it was the more easily handled; that it was safer for driver and machine; that there is not the same liability to injury, by falling or being thrown off, the driver would fall behind the cutters. The Rear Cut machine is more easily handled, because the horses are hitched nearer to the main axle, than in the Front Cut. No weight or sawing on the necks of the horses. The driver can see obstructions, thus saving himself and machine from injury.

Draft and Flexibility,

It is meritously claimed for the Russell to have as little side draft as any machine in use; and its flexibility adopts it to the inequalities of the ground over which it may be drawn.
