THE POST.

MIDDLEBURG .....JULY 25, 1872

A Laughable Love Story.

A rich old gentleman had only one daughter, possessed of the highest attractions, moral, personal and pecuniary. She was engaged and devotedly attached to a young man in every respect worthy of her choice. All the marriage preliminaries were arranged, and the wedding was fixed to take place on a certain Thursday. On the Monday preceding the wedding day the bride and groom elect (who was to have received $50,000 down on his wedding day, and a further sum of $100,000 on his father-in-law's death, an event which would probable soon occur) had a little jealous squabble with his intended at an evening party. The "tiff" arose in consequence of his paying more attention than she thought justifiable to a lady with sharkling eyes and inimitable ringlets.

The gentleman retorted, and spoke taunting of a certain cousin whose waist-coat was the admiration of the company, and hinted that it had been embroidered by the fair heiress herself. He added that it would be soon enough for him to be schooled after they were married; and that she adopted the "breeches" a little to soon. After the supper they became reconciled apparently, and the bride-groom elect in taking leave, was kind and affectionate. On the next morning the swain regretted the angry feeling he had exhibited, and the cutting sarcasm with which he had given it vent; and, as a part of the amende honorable, packed up a magnificent satin dress which he had previously bespoke for his beloved (which had been sent home in the interval), and sent it to the lady with the following note:

"Dearest Jane; I having been unable to close my eyes all night, in thinking of our misunderstanding last evening. Pray pardon me; and, in token of your forgiveness, deign to accept the accompanying dress, and wear it for the sake of your most affectionate Henry."

Having written the note, he gave it to his servant to deliver with the parcel.—But, as a pair of pantaloons happened to need repairing, he availed himself of the opportunity (the servant having to pass the tailor's shop) to send them in another package to the tailor. The man made the fatal blunder! left the satin dress with Snip, and took the note and the damaged trowsers to the lady. So exasperated was she at what she considered a determined and deliberate affront, that when her admirer called she ordered the door to be closed in his face, refused to listen to any explanation, and resolutely broke off the match.

The Discovery of Coffee.

Toward the middle of the fifteenth century a poor Arab was traveling in Abyssinia, and finding himself weak and weary from fatigue, he stopped near a grove. Then, being in want of fuel to cook his rice, he cut down a tree which happened to be covered with dead berries. His meal being cooked and eaten, the traveler discovered that the half burnt berries were very fragant. He collected a number of these, and, on crushing them with a stone, he found that their aroma increased to a great extent. While wondering at this, he accidentally let fall substance in a can which contained his scanty supply of water. Lo, what a miracle! The almost putrid liquor was instantly purified. He brought it to his lips; it was fresh, agreeable and in a moment after the traveler had so far recovered his strength and energy as to be able to resume his journey. The lucky Arab gathered as many berries as he could, and, having arrived at Arden, in Arabia, he informed the mufti of his discovery. That worthy divine was an inveterate opium smoker, who had been suffering for years from the influence of that poisonous drug. He tried an infusion of the roasted berries, and was so delighted at the recovery of his own vigor, the in gratitude to the tree he called it cahuah, which in Arabic signifies force. And that is the way that coffee was discovered.

The New York Independent justly remarks that one of the best things which commend General Grant to the Republicans is the fact that he has been true as steel to the principles upon which he was elected, and in this respect he is a fit model for universal imitation. He has not cheated or attempted to cheat those who elected him in 1868. He does not belong to the race of cheating politicians, who say one thing as candidates and do quite another when in office. Not even Senator Sumner himself has thought of charging Gen. Grant with being a traitor to the party that elected him or the principles of the platform which he accepted in 1868.

In five consecutive Democratic county conventions in Georgia, Greeleyism has been emphatically repudiated. It looks as if even Georgia would send an anti-Greeley delegation to Baltimore. Yet the Blair family insist that Greeley is the man to beat Grant.

But never out of sight!

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities or diseases that have lurked in the system for years, soon yield to this powerful antidote, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhœa, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons.

It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless languor of the season. Even where no disorder appears, people feel better, and live longer for cleansing the blood. The system moves on with renewed vigor and a new lease of life.
