

Reasons for Strikes.

A labor strike is said to be impending. The carpenters say they don't get enough to pay their board. Shoemakers, that it takes their skill to keep them at work, and their sole dependence is often in their last job.

Painters complain that they have become literally line-ers of wood. Upholsters complain that hangings have gone out of fashion. Boiler makers aver that Congress has kept the country in hot water to such a degree that they have no chance.

Blacksmiths complain that all the forging is done in Wall street, and there is no chance. Tailors say they are going to give their customers fits.

The batters have kept ahead. The gas fitters will be in for a fight. Printers say they are tired, and can't 'set up' any longer. Bakers say the bread more, and don't like to see so many rich loafers.

Wheelwrights say that all the spokesmen in Congress voted more pay before retiring, and they expect to do as well as their fellows. The paper makers say their business is such that it brings them to tears.

And, finally, the plumbers propose to have their customers to do the work, and charge double price for seeing it done. Each superintendent will have a tender, one to fill his pipe, another to hold his hat, and a third to get a substitute when he goes out to see a man.

Working Woman in Vienna. Mr. C. C. Fallon, of the Baltimore American, who is in Vienna, writes as follows concerning the hard labor imposed on women in that country.

I have before me, printed in the last of laboring work in Germany, but was not prepared for the details in America. In my view, the hard work is considered such hard work that few white men can do it at the present day. An immense building near our hotel, occupying a whole block, is in course of erection, on which not less than four hundred persons are employed, fully two hundred of whom are women.

All the hard laboring work is done by women, such as mending and carrying mortar in buckets on their heads to the workmen and handling the brick. They are not allowed a moment's leisure, several overseers being on guard to keep them constantly in motion. We found the same proportion of women at work on all new buildings, and there must be thousands of laboring work in Vienna.

They are both young, middle-aged and old, but all seem to be strong and healthy. At dinner time they swarm into the shops to purchase a piece of brown bread and fat bacon and a mug of beer, and sit their dimmers sitting on the cushions. Their wages are four, or forty-eight cents per day, and I am assured by a gentleman resident here that most of them sleep about the buildings on stoves, or in barns or sheds, having no homes.

Amidst all the splendor and wealth of this great city, with its million of inhabitants, there is, perhaps, more destitution, want and suffering than in all the cities of America. Still we frequently hear some of our countrymen prating and preferring the governments of Europe. Whilst viewing this scene, the Emperor and Empress, with his staff and attendants, gliding in gold and precious stones, dashed along the Ringstrasse, on the way to the place, whilst a short distance off stands the royal stable, a magnificent structure, covering at least four blocks of ground, as large as Franklin Square, the meanest animal in which is better cared for than those women.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

It is widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contaminations, eruptions, or discharges of the skin, or of the nose, or of the eyes, or of the ears, or of the mouth, or of the throat, or of the lungs, or of the stomach, or of the bowels, or of the bladder, or of the uterus, or of the vagina, or of the prostate, or of the rectum, or of the anus, or of the urethra
