Early Marriages.

There have been so many articles puplished in the newspapers illustrative of the advantages always arising from early marriag s that we are tempted to give the following, on the other side of the question:

The practice of early marriages, so common in the United States, is one of the wort features of society. Under the most favorable circumstances, involves too many considerations, and entails too many liabilities to be entered into without deep and serious reflection. It is well enough when young people love each other to think that they cannot live apart; but it is not well enough for them to marry without some good provision for the future. The common saying that it costs no more to maintain two than one is a fallacy, which is every day disposed to the satisfaction of its deluded dupes. Besides, the bodies and minds of the young need development in the school of experience. What would be lightly borne at thirty would be their ruin at eighteen. Nature, at that age has not ripened us, mentally or physically, and all premature developments must be fearfully atoned for in after years. Youth does not know its own weakness. Lacking depth and sound judgment, what it adores to-day, it is often indifferent to on the morrow. Men have married on the strength of first affections and awakened from the dream to find themselves utterly and irretrievably miserable. There is a halo about youth it is not well to trust over much. Better mistrust it altogether and depend upon manhood in the future. The affection that cannot "learn to labor and to wait," can never endure for any length of time.

Above all others the poor should avoid early marriages. In a single state, poverty is hard enough to endure; but the double proverty of marriage is next to beyond endurance. Occasionally when robust health and industry are vouch-safed these difficulties may be surmounted: but when this is not the case—& how frequently is it so in early marriages—want and distress soon rob love of its charm and life of its bloom. Affection will not make the pot boil, neither will it pay the house rent and buy new dresses. What was irksome to be borne also, becomes doubly so when the law has bound its victim to another for life. Then there are the innocents, who should not suffer, but who do suffer, for the folly of their parents. The thousands of ragged, idle and vicious children in our streets and poor houses are the fruits of early and improvident marriages, and half the misery of the poorer classes results from the same cause. But rich or poor, the generality of early marriages are unhappy, and should serve as warnings to the young and ardent who contemplate such folly.

CARD PLAYING.—The Christian Union, in reply to a querist upon the morality of card playing, says:

Cards are no more sinful in their nature than jack straws. Under some circumstances we should reprobate card playing as leading to waste of time, to association with bad men—and always when one plays for stakes. On the other hand, no one should judge the conscience of those who never gamble, who play at home, have been brought up to regard the game as a lawful amusement, whose reason does not condemn it. Paul's formula is eminently applicable here: "Let not him that eateth despise him that eateth not, and let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth."

—If a man deceives you trust him not again. If he insults you, go away from him, and if he strikes you, thrash him within an inch of his life—if you are man enough.

DR. FAHRNEY'S

Celebrated Blood Cleanser or Panacea.

The Panacea will not only cure old standing and malignant complaints, but is one of the best preventatives of such disorders ever offered to the world. You can avoid severe attacks of acute diseases, such as Cholera, Small Pox, Typhoid, Bilious, Spotted and Intermittent Fevers, by keeping your blood purified. The different degrees of all such diseases depend altogether upon the condition of the blood; for if this vital fluid is deranged you will take a disease much more readily than otherwise, and the suffering will be in proportion to the amount of foreign matter in the blood. This is so reasonable that we need not here make any illustrations.

Remember the name and don't be put off with anything else which druggists may say is just as good as the BLOOD CLEANSER. Because they make more profits on cheaper articles.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Among the great discoveries of modern science, few are of more real value to mankind than this effectual remedy for all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. A vast trial of its virtues, throughout this and other countries, has shown that it does surely and effectually control them. The testimony of our best citizens, of all classes, establishes the fact, that CHERRY PECTORAL will and does relieve and cure the afflicting disorders of the Throat and Lungs beyond any other medicine. The most dangerous affections of the Pulmonary Organs yield to its power; and cases of Consumption, cured by this preparation, are publicly known, so remarkable as hardly to be believed, were they not proven beyond dispute. As a remedy it is adequate, on which the public may rely for full protection. By curing Coughs, the forerunners of more serious disease, it saves innumbered lives, and an amount of suffering not to be computed. It challenges trial, and convinces the most sceptical. Every family should keep it on hand as a protection against the early and unperceived attack of Pulmonary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incurable, and too often fatal, if neglected. Tender lungs need this defence; and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of childhood, CHERRY PECTORAL is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts speedily and surely against ordinary colds, securing sound and health-restoring sleep. No one will suffer troublesome Influenza and painful Bronchitis, when they know how easily they can be cured.

Originally the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, no cost or toil is spared in making every bottle in the utmost possible perfection. It may be confidently relied upon as possessing all the virtues it has ever exhibited, and capable of producing cures as memorable as the greatest it has ever effected.
