THE ILLUSTRATED ANNUAL OF PHRENOLOGY AND PHYSIOGNOMY FOR 1874, contains 30 large octavo pages, with more than fifty engravings, representing Heads, Faces, Signs, Complexions, good and bad, with "Mouths of Character," especially the "Mouths of the Criminals," also, My Schoolmates, and what became of them; A Good Memory; The "Loak"; a Hole in a pocket through bad habits; and how to save money! One Thousand Boys Wanted; Bad Breath; What the Nurses are doing for Mental Science, etc. The book is published at 25 cents per pair, by first post, for 25 cents, by S. R. WELLS, Publisher, 329 Broadway, New York.

PUTTING WRITING.—The first of April rapidly approaching, an epoch that more productive of law suits and business than any other period of the year is very simple. This is the time for entering into new business arrangements and remodeling old ones. A great many difficulties arise from the fact that business matters are talked over, and when each party puts his own construction on the conversation, the matter is dismissed by each with the words: "All right, all right." Frequently it turns out all wrong, and becomes a question for lawyers and courts, more than three-fourths of the litigation of the country would be saved if the people would put down their agreement writing and sign their names to it in plain, unambiguous language, having its plain meaning as its motto. It may be a change of its position in content, but it is an entirely different idea from what is intended. When once reduced to plain ideas are fixed, and expensive law suits avoided.

A GREAT CURE.—Last week, Mrs. Mary Kline of Jullata township, was afflicted with a very severe case of rheumatism, which was accompanied by a very bad case of the complaint. Her sufferings were such that she could not get up, and she was unable to do any of her usual household duties. She had been suffering for several weeks, and had consulted several of the best physicians in the county, but without any benefit. Her friends were all around her, but she was unable to get any relief. At length, she was advised to try a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. She bought a box, and began to take it. The first effect was that she was able to get up, and she was able to do some of her usual household duties. She continued to take the pills, and in a few days she was able to get about as usual. She was much surprised at the result, and she was glad to find that she was able to get about as usual. She has since taken a second course of the pills, and she is now as well as ever.

"B"—Your other examination will be published as soon as possible.

We were shown a petrified tortle the other day. It was found embedded in iron ore. Its eyes, mouth and nose are as plainly seen as in a live one.

THUNDER.—The first thunder shower of the season passed over us on Wednesday last—the rain was gentle, the thunder very tame, and the electric flashes rather thin.

PLANT TREES.—The season of the year is now here when those who wish to set out fruit or shade trees, should make arrangements to have it attended to. There is no more economical way of beautifying one's premises—and we may say of adding value to them—than by planting trees that afford pleasant shade or yield fine fruit.

Just So.—An exchange correctly remarks that when a man gets mad and stops his paper, he always borrows the next number from his neighbor, to see if his withdrawal of his subscription has not killed the editor, and if he has not dressed the columns of his paper in mourning. Such men imagine that the world rests on their shoulders.

FINGER CUT OFF.—We are sorry to learn that our friend David Kersetter of the Union House, in this borough, last Thursday, while quarrying stones, for building purposes, one was thrown on his right hand, cutting off the second finger, at the second joint. He says it has pained very little so far and that he is getting along finely.
