THE POST.

Middleburg, August 26, 1875.

Local News, &c.

—Apples and cider will be scarce next winter.

—Cool evenings have practically set in for the season.

—The Marines recently took their departure for other climes.

—The Selinsgrove Times will hereafter be issued on the good day of publication.

—The swallows are beginning to gather on the telegraph wires and fences preparatory to making their "leaves" westward flight.

—Samuel Bowers says he sold Bonsall plums at ten cents a quart, respectively during September and October. No wonder he is a good leader with people all kinds of fruit.

Good breeding is not exception to interruption of another, because others' pleasures depends that each will the person speaking has concluded. If any be the exception are rude enough to talk on, they be those of other breeding, the company are not to their need to talk.

—The potato bug season is on in Chicago in force. It is beginning its journey eastward by another passenger train. Be cautious and careful, if possible. It is dangerous to long and run to fight it, unless it and it could of mature in the potato fields in season.

To Get Rid of Ants.—Lay a of sponges saturated with sugar and water where they must be, and while taking away every thing else from that locality. When these are black with them or the sponges popular with them over during boiling scalding water. It is simply to take ons, but it is effective. Can any one give a better way of destroying them?

A Library of Valuable Information.—Webster's Unabridged Dictionary can only be appreciated by those who spend a few moments in careful examination. It is a library of valuable information in itself, containing an immense number of subjects, the thousands of which are illustrated by excellent cuts. It costs $12, while whatever could the same amount of space on the same subjects would cost hundreds of dollars. It is the cheapest reference in the English language except the Bible.

Camp-meeting.—The Evangelical camp-meeting in Center township is well attended, in fact during last Sunday and Sunday it was an immense gathering of people. Considering the number of people present and camping on all there was tolerably good order. No accidents have occurred as far as we have heard of. There are over thirty tents erected, quite a number of ministers are present who speak interest to conduct the services, all of which have proved very able sermons during the progress of the meeting.

Public Notice.—Notice is hereby given that the officers and soldiers of the county of Snyder, are requested to meet at the office of A. K. Gift, in Middleburg, on Saturday, August the 28th, at 1 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of holding a Soldiers Reunion, during the fall, in Middleburg, and appointing Committees of arrangements &c.

By order of Capt. Lewis Maser,
Capt. David Mitchell,
Capt. J. W. Thompson,
Adj. A. K. Gift.
and many others.

Taxes Not Voters.—We commend the attention of voters to the following. The new constitution forbids all persons from voting unless they have been assessed at least two months and paid their taxes at least one month before the day of the election. No one of foreign birth can vote unless he has been for and had a month previous to the election.

The date of holding the next election is Tuesday, November 2d.

Wednesday, September 15, the last day in which voters can register.

Friday, October 1st, the last day on which they can pay taxes.

Friday, October 15, is the last day for taking out naturalization papers.

Gigantic Cucumber.—Walter Lesher, of Philadelphia, Pa., writes to the Farmer, advising inland growers of celery to plant in trenches, and gives some very good reasons for the advice. Fall planting will do near the sea coast, but will not answer in the hotter, drier atmosphere inland. Celery delights in moist loam, and wherever possible young plants should be shaded during the heat of summer. Many trenches or furrows cut and kept, not too deep, for the roots of the crop as will afford better shade. Another care should be taken

Celery needs very rich soil, but it is better to enrich it with well composted manure rather than that under active decomposition, as the latter only injures and dries the roots which may need to be kept cool and moist. By following these suggestions, inland growers of celery may greatly increase the value of their crop.

Alderney and Ayrshire Cattle Offered.—The Upper Dauphin Agricultural Association, at Millersburg, Pa., will hold their fourth annual fair in that place on Tuesday, 7th of September 1875, to continue four days, and offer as awards by lot to the one dollar season ticket holders as a free gift, six head of the choicest thoroughbred Alderney and Ayrshire cattle, together with the finest varieties of Michigan red wheat.

Such interprise and liberality is a new departure and in the right direction, and should be the means of drawing to their beautiful grounds one of the most immense gatherings of the finest yeomanry of the country ever assembled together at a country fair.

Numbered tickets and such only will be represented in the awards, and can be had until day of fair from J. W. Reese, their local agent in this place.

Game.—Important to Those Interested in the Protection, Preservation and Telling of Game and Fish.—Almost every State in the Union has an organization composed of gentlemen interested in the proper protection of game, fish, &c. Our own State has, so far, neglected this very important matter. But now it is proposed to organize a State game association, to be composed of delegates from each county in the State. In order to accomplish this it is suggested and recommended that those interested in this matter proceed at once to form associations or clubs in each county, and [illegible] (say one or two from each county) represent them at a meeting to be held at Harrisburg on or about [illegible] 1875. Any information as to [illegible] &c., can be had [illegible] B. Spiese, attorney at law, [illegible] street, Harrisburg, Pa.

—Mr. J. B. Hall, with pleasure we would have inserted your notice, but would not receive it until the paper of the last week was out.

Subscribers Here.—The following are some of the names of persons in this county who have subscribed for the Weekly Times, published at Selinsgrove, Snyder county, Pa., and who will receive their paper regularly after the first issue of the paper, which will be issued on the 1st day of September next. If you do not receive your paper regularly after that date, please notify the publisher, and he will see that the matter is attended to. Please remember that the Weekly Times is published every Wednesday morning, and that the subscription price is only $1.50 per year, payable in advance. Address all communications to the Weekly Times, Selinsgrove, Pa.

[illegible]

Notice.—Persons indebted to the undersigned are requested to call and settle their accounts on or before the 1st day of September next, as I am compelled to have my money at that time. Those who do not call will find their accounts in the hands of a Justice for collection. Those who have accounts against me will present them for settlement
