

Local News, &c.

Advertisements, and communications for this paper should be handed in by Saturday evening, to insure insertion in next issue.

Sale Registry.

We will insert short notices, like the following, free of charge, until day of sale, provided we print the bills or advertise the sale:

Saturday Jan. 22. Sale of Real Estate, on the premises in Centreville, by the estate of Daniel Decker, late of Centreville, Decd.

Wednesday Feb. 2. Public Sale of a large lot of Valuable Personal Property, in Franklin township, in the estate of John Swengel, decd.

Thursday Feb. 10. Administration Sale of personal property, in Centreville, about 3 miles west of Centreville, at the late residence of Nathan Klingler, decd.

Friday Feb. 12. Public Sale of Horses, Mules, Cows, and a very large quantity of valuable household and farm furniture, in Jackson township, in the estate of John Swengel, decd.

Saturday Feb. 13. Sheriff's Sale of the Court-house in this town, in the estate of Jacob Coleman, late of Centreville.

Saturday Feb. 13. Sheriff's Sale of the Court-house in this town, a certain tract of land in the township of George Hastings, in Adams township.

How is your good resolution by this time?

The squeak of the dying porker has ceased.

Petty thieves are at work all over the country.

A mild winter is believed to be ahead.

Next holiday—Washington's birthday, Feb. 22.

The roads are getting smooth and in good order again.

The usual quiet, following the holiday season is upon us.

Eggs are selling for 75 cents per dozen at Austin, Nevada.

Day-light is increasing. It has already gained 20 minutes.

The swelling buds have done their best until the Spring time comes.

Selling at cost at the N. Y. Fancy store, Selingsgrove, All the Winter goods.

Revival meetings are in progress in a number of churches throughout the country.

The man who predicted twenty-six snow storms this winter will probably turn out false prophet.

There has been more plowing done this winter in this country than ever before in the same months.

If money had been as plenty this winter as mud, there is no doubt but that everybody would be sticking fast in it.

Highest cash prices paid for Mink and Muskrat skins at Weis & Oppenheimer's Clothing store, Selingsgrove.

See that your smoke house is properly locked and bolted, for you know, it's singular how seldom it disappears.

S. Weis, of Selingsgrove, will remove his N. Y. Fancy store, into Adams' new building opposite the Keystone Hotel, in a short time.

Ice dealers are growing anxious to know something about how the weather is going to conduct itself. The usual time for gathering ice is growing short.

Habbits are now the only game that can be hunted, and that hunt only on the 31st of January. The possession of any other game is prima facie evidence against a party having it.

The Northampton County grand jury, in their report last week, say that the jail "is the worst constructed, ill ventilated and most insecure jail in Pennsylvania, if not in the United States."

"Charles," said a young wife to her husband as they sat at the window watching fashionable on their way to church, "when you die I get hold of the insurance money I intend to have a fur cap and muff just like that lady has on over there."

The Lewistown Democrat says: A few weeks ago Mr. Geo. Hornby, a gentleman of Logan, kill a snake two feet in length, which was lying upon the road near that place; and weeks before last one was killed at Grantsville. Snakes out in the winter season are an exceedingly rare thing.

S. Weis of the N. Y. Fancy Store Selingsgrove, is selling all his winter goods such as, FURS, Shawls, woolen hose, gloves, etc., strictly at cost: Also made a general reduction in prices of all his goods, in order to reduce his large stock before removing into his new store room, Hulme's building.

Those who can give employment of any kind to persons, male or female, young or old, out of work at this time, should not fail to do so. There are people who are very much in need of something to do, and who will not ask unreasonable remuneration for their services.—It is better to furnish work than to give gratuities.

Last week Judge Rockefeller sentenced James Mahan, of Sunbury, to pay a fine of $50 for selling liquor without license, and for selling liquor on Sunday a fine of $250, to stand committed in both cases till the costs and fines are paid. James will probably come to the conclusion that that judge is a rocky fellow to fool with.

This is a favorable winter for the genus tramp. He can house himself at night almost any place, and console himself with the pleasing reflection that he will not be taken out to death for morning. The tramp has a great attachment for the county jail; he insists upon enjoying its hospitality; and falling in every other way, will sometimes purposely commit a breach of the peace in order to be committed to it by a magistrate. The average tramp is a hard case.

The society for the prevention of Cruelty to Animals has decided that its agents shall prosecute all persons who bring chickens, turkeys, or ducks to market tied together, as has been the practice from time out of memory by our farmers. These agents exist in every town in the State, and are constantly on the watch for offenders. The object of the Society is to prevent needless cruelty to animals of all kinds, and its members think that chickens when transported with their legs tied together are hurt beyond all possibility.

FOR CHAPPED HANDS.—For the benefit of those who may suffer from chapped hands, we append a receipt which is said to be beneficial:

Take sweet oil, three ounces; spermaceti, four ounces; and pulverized camphor, one ounce. Mix them together in a clean earthen vessel, by the aid of a gentle heat, and apply it warm to the hands night and morning. Another very good ointment for chapped hands is made with a little fresh, newly churned butter and honey.

—St. Valentine's day comes on the 14th of February.

—Spring election on the third Tuesday in February this year.

—If the parents of the first "Centennial baby" in town, will hand in its name, we will publish it without charge.

—S. Weis of the N. Y. Fancy store, Selingsgrove, proposes to sell his stock of ladies and misses Furs, positively at cost. Call and secure a bargain.

—Good PLACE TO STOP AT.—The Allegheny House, Nos. 812 & 814 is one of the best places to stop at in Philad. The Prop. Mr. Beck, is the right man and knows how to run a first-class hotel, as all will testify who have stopped at his House. Terms reasonable.

—Emma Britton, of Lewisburg, better known as "Johnny" Britton, an erratic and eccentric young woman, and a great favorite in sporting circles, recently visited Philadelphia on her wedding trip, was converted by Mr. Moody, so she says, and is now laboring with her old friends and companions for their conversion.

—On Tuesday a week the following Directors of the First National Bank of Selingsgrove for the ensuing year, were elected, being the same as last year:

Geo. Schmaur, Col. H. C. Eyer, Jas. K. Davis, Col. Wm. F. Wagonseller, S. R. Yearick, P. Born, Wm. F. Eck, Paet, Geo. C. Moyer and John B. Becker. Geo. Schmaur was re-elected President.

—Weis & Oppenheimer, Selingsgrove, are selling off their Overcoats, underclothing, blankets, gloves, etc., at cost. Now gentlemen is your time if you wish bargains in Overcoats. 4w —SHOT AT.—Last Friday night Henry Smith of this place heard something at his corn-crib, so he loaded his shot gun and went to see what it was, but before he came close to the crib, he saw a person emerging from it and without detaining himself any made his legs do rapid duty. Harry took his gun and sent a lot of leaden messengers after him, but whether they overtook him or not he is as yet unable to tell. He knows who the chap is.

—LAMP EXPLOSION AND FIRE.—On Wednesday morning a fire occurred in the store of Mrs. Ickes, at Newport, caused by the explosion of a lamp. Mrs. I. had lighted her fire and then set the lamp down, when it almost immediately exploded, throwing the burning oil around the room. She at once threw water on the flames, which only had the tendency to spread the burning oil over more surface, and in a short time the contents of her Millinery Shop were mostly destroyed. The fire was extinguished before the building was seriously damaged. Her loss is nearly covered by insurance.—Bloomfield Times, Jan. 11.

—SALE BILLS.—We are prepared to print sale bills at the shortest notice and at most reasonable terms. Our stock of display type is full, and embraces many styles. Persons contemplating making sale at any time are invited to call and examine our specimens and prices.

Persons who live at a distance can have their bills printed by sending a list of articles to be sold, date, name, place, time, and (if wanted) conditions of sale, and the bills will be printed in good style, and sent to them.

—THE PROVIDENTIAL LEAGUE.—A Word to the Thoughtful.—If you wish to learn of the broadest, most comprehensive, and most practicable plan for guarding against the vicissitudes of Health, the consequences of Death, the necessities of Old Age, the results of Accident, and to provide other benefits resulting from organized union of effort.

If a plan whereby the members may form their own local councils, meeting once a month for business and social purposes, paying their dues in convenient monthly installments, and being assisted:

1st. That in the event of the Death of a member, his family shall receive not less than one Thousand dollars, and from that upward in proportion to his payments.

2nd. If overtaken by Sickness, a compensation of from $7 to $35.

3rd. If disabled by Accident, the receipt of a substantial sum.

4th. A Deposit definitely expressed in the Policy and to be drawn out by the member as it provides.

5th. A Cash Dividend pledged to be paid from surplus earnings, &c. &c.

If a plan whereby men of moderate means may secure a protection for their dependent families. Call on our address

A. M. PFAHLER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Middleburg, Pa. Jan. 20, 76.

—In Memorium.—At a meeting of the surviving members of Company "G" 14th P. V. I., held on the 28th ult., the following action expressive of the sentiments of the comrades of the late W. S. Keller, upon his death, were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in His wisdom to remove from our midst, our beloved comrade WILLIAM S. KELLER, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That we wearily bow our heads in obedience to the will of Him, who "doeth all things well," and recognize in His decree the wisdom, justice and mercy of a kind parent, believing, that he has taken our comrade from this world of sin, to dwell with Him, in the regions of eternal day, where pain and sorrow are felt no more. Therefore be it

Resolved, That we sympathize with the wife and little ones, as well as the father and other relatives who were called upon to follow him to the grave, and we point them with pride to his soldier record, which was without blot or blemish, and endeavor to cheer them in the consolation that he has fought the good fight, has overcome the last foe, and that he has now gone to receive his final reward for duty, well and nobly performed. And be it further

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the County papers, and that our deeply beloved friends of our company be furnished with a copy of the same.

J. A. Lumbard, B. T. Parks, Harris Bowser, M. S. Schroyer, S. Deabler, Committee.

—Large and attentive audiences have been attending the protracted meeting in this place.

—The Academy of Music, at Lewisburg, Union county, was destroyed, together with nearly all its contents, by fire, last Thursday night.

—Those who delight in skating, should know when and where to go to skate. Many sad, drowning accidents might be prevented, by not going on ice where the water is deep.

—Where did you get those large, fat, fresh oysters? Why don't you know of G. C. Gutelius, the cheap clothier.

—Henry S. Freed, of Beavertown, butchered, during the past fall, 110 hogs, 18 hives in 43 days. Who can beat that?

—The profits on the sale of sleigh bells, this winter, have been remarkably moderate. We don't remember of seeing a pair of runners out yet.

—The Dutch Gap Canal completed in this Borough during the past summer, turns out to be a grand total failure. As a matter of necessity the tax payers will soon be called upon for a special tax, to further reduce the expenses in building it.

—For THE POST.

West Beaver Schools.

Mr. Estlin:—I do not want to trouble you with a lengthy communication, for I know you want everything short and to the point. Be careful however that the point is not reached too soon, that it will be too blunt. There is such a thing as pressing a thing too much. If the juice has been extracted out of a substance, the residue is something too dry to be palatable. Do not forget that.

You receive communications from our teachers in reference to their Institute, and I find no fault with them for telling you what they do, but I do find fault with our citizens for not saying a word of encouragement about our teachers. I feel proud in telling you that we have the term the most enthusiastic, industrious, and well qualified teachers that we ever have had. You would naturally now ask, "And how are your schools?" To which I reply (with perhaps a few exceptions) better than ever before. We never before had a band of teachers that took such an interest in the improvement of their schools as the present ones do; and the consequence of that is the children are learning very fast. The schools to go to school. They like the way they are taught. Mr. Estlin, if you and I had had such teaching how much more we would have learned. Most of the teaching is from the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster they learn than by the old way! Indeed it is a pleasure to visit the schools. We used to read the a. b. c.'s and spelling first, and afterwards read the black-board. We do not need to buy so many books as formerly. Some classes are taught without any books at all, and you should see how the children like it, and how much faster