Petty thieves are again at work all over the country. Keep a shot gun.

REPORTER.—You must be brief with your Institute proceedings, or we will.

—Tickets for the spring election will be printed at this office at short notice. They will be printed for fifty cents per hundred slips and forwarded by mail, pre-paid.

'Tis said that for every fog in January there will be a frost in May. If this prediction proves correct this year, we can safely expect some frost next May.

The recent spring-like weather started vegetation in some sections of the country, and full bloom dandelion flowers were to be seen here and there in the fields.

Farmers tell us that fruit trees have begun to bud, owing to the recent warm weather.—If this be the case, then lookout for a scarcity of fruit next season.

If you don't want your wife to bother you every day with the remark, "Don't forget that worsted," just mention to her the pretty girl who tends the worsted counter where you got the last.

It took Sir Isaac Newton less than three years to thoroughly digest the principles of gravitation, while one of our farmers has spent eleven years trying to find out why a cow never kicks until the pail is two-thirds full.

—Elias Steininger and his son John were cutting wood in the woods, a few miles from town, last week when a red fox approached them so close that John was able to kill it with his axe. Singular conduct for Reynard, nevertheless true.

BARN BURNED.—The barn on Peter Hartman's farm above Centreville was consumed by fire one night last week. The cattle was all turned out before it was fired, clearly proving that it was the work of an incendiary. We do not know at what he estimates his loss, nor do we know whether the building was insured.

TO KILL A TOWN.—An exchange tellingly puts it in this way: "Underrate every present and prospective enterprise; speak ill of the churches, and schools, tell everybody the hotels are 'bad,' enlarge the vices of the people, especially the young people; withhold the patronage from your merchants and tradesmen, and buy your goods and groceries at some other place, and such like, never subscribe for the local papers, and if you are in business, refuse to advertise.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.—It has been suggested that inasmuch as the present year's associations are so intimately connected with the name of George Washington, the central figure of the Revolution, the birthday of the immortal patriot should be observed in a manner indicative of our love for his character, reverence for his memory, and thanks for the services which he rendered in behalf of freedom and justice. The centennial year was ushered in with rejoicing and festivities, and it seems nothing more than right that the day on which our Washington had birth should also be properly observed.

INTERESTING TO SCHOOL DIRECTORS.—State Superintendent Wickersham in his report submitted to the Legislature at its present session, says that section 7, of the act of April 20, 1874, applies to school directors, and it is their duty to comply with its provisions. We quote from the section as follows: "The corporate authorities of every such municipality or district shall annually in the month of January, prepare and publish in at least two newspapers of said municipality or of the county in which the same is situate, if so many be printed therein, a statement showing in detail the actual indebtedness, the amount of the floating debt thereof, the valuation of taxable property therein, the assets of the corporation, with the character and nature thereof, and a neglect or failure so to do shall be considered a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars.

ROBBERY AT THE UPPER END.—On Monday night of last week, two men stole a horse from Wm. Forseman, of White Deer Valley, and coming on this way stole another horse, with wagon and harness from John Marsh. Then they went to John Haines' barn, on Mr. Griffy's farm, and took forty-seven bushels of cloverseed. Mr. Hames happened to get up early on Tuesday morning and discovered what had been done, gave the alarm and set out in pursuit of the thieves. They had lost one bag of seed along the road which made it easy to follow them. At New Columbia, Mr. Haines took one road and sent two boys on the road leading to West Milton. The boys soon came across the thieves, near West Milton, and yelling at them, they jumped from the wagon and fled. They were not pursued immediately and thus managed to escape. We are informed the same chaps had taken dinner with Mr. Haines the day before the theft was committed.

On Tuesday evening the same chaps stole two horses from Henry Schooley, near Spring Mills, and were putting off with them when they were discovered by Mr. Schooley's brother, while passing his house. Mr. S. fired at them, when they again abandoned their plunder.

It is believed the parties belonged to Lycoming county.—Lewisburg Journal

West Beaver---District Institute.

Pursuant to announcement the West Beaver Teachers' Association met at John Ulsh's Schoolhouse, Jan. 8, 1876.

Exercises opened by reading a portion of Scripture, and prayer by the Pres.

The call of the roll was responded to by T. A. Wagner, J. M. Lepley, D. B. Wetzel, D. O. Shoop, J. O. Wagner, I. Filson, and R. E. Filson. The No. West Beaver absentees was four.

The minutes of the previous meeting were adopted without change. The place for holding the second meeting, was fixed Jan. 22, will be at Rigle's school house in Adams township. Before the miscellaneous business was attended, the teachers, assisted by the Herbster and Miss Krebs, sang "Crown Them With Roses" and "Come To Fairy Land."

The subject of School Government was opened by J. O. Wagner, D. B. Wetzel, D. O. Shoop, I. Filson, J. M. Lepley, R. E. Filson, and T. A. Wagner. The subject being similar, in importance to that of School Discipline, it caused animation of speech.

After the discussion closed, a few selections from the Silver Carols were sung, when the Institute adjourned to 12:30 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.—Exercises opened with singing. The subject of Pronunciation was taken up and discussed as follows: First, J. O. Wagner began by placing three sentences upon the blackboard, to be punctuated by any one who might voluntarily rise. The first sentence was punctuated by I. Filson; and in the punctuation of the second and third R. E. Filson, and Wm. Wagner participated.

Mr. W. was followed by J. M. Lepley, who undertook the explanation in about the same way, saying that in order to have pupils become familiar with the subject, it was necessary that they should write and punctuate for themselves. Mr. L. was followed by I. Filson, who, at the beginning, endeavored to explain the importance of being able to punctuate the sense in a piece of writing, and what lamentable mistakes are frequently made by one who attempts to read a composition when the punctuation is omitted.

He was then called on by the Pres., who allowed him a limited portion of his time, to punctuate such sentences as the Institute might see fit to give him.

T. A. Wagner then spoke a few minutes, when the discussion on punctuation closed.

ORTHOGRAPHY.—This subject was next made use of, and the following named teachers participated in the discussion: J. O. Wagner, J. M. Lepley, D. O. Shoop, D. B. Wetzel, T. A. Wagner, and R. E. Filson.

The subjects selected to be discussed at the next meeting were U. S. History, Primary Reading, Grammar, and Pronunciation. On motion adjourned.

For THE POST.

Adams---Township Schools.

MR. EDITOR.—This township has not many correspondents for newspapers. Now and then one of us ventures a little, but our communications are generally short, and have long intervals of silence between them. The fact is that we read more than we write. Of course we write too, but not for newspapers. We used to be the tail end of Beaver township, and the tail, you know, is governed by the head. We were dependents and not independents. In school matters we were a long way behind the times. Generally we got the teachers which others did not want. The directors seldom visited our schools. Nobody seemed to care for the children, and if any one tried to help them from darkness into light, he had no power to do so. But always after darkness there comes light, and so it did for us—at least we believe so. At any rate we are now part of the head and body—perhaps the whole of it—and are trying to act as if we could think and reason for ourselves. We will before long show to other townships of the county that our thinking is about right, too. Our children are no longer to grow up in ignorance. They must have the advantages of good schools. What we need is suitable school-houses and good teachers. Some of our school-houses are yet, of course, good enough and will be so for years to come; but what new ones we build, should be built intelligently. Such houses as some townships build should not be built in this age. A township cannot better expose the ignorance of its people than in the building of its school-houses. A house that does not cost much money, is not a cheap one, unless it is in every respect right. To show good sense in its construction, a school-house should be sufficiently large; have good height of ceiling, properly graded and comfortable seats, plenty of light and plenty of blackboard surface. A school-house should, like a dwelling house, be built of good material. The workmanship should likewise be good. No bungling mechanic should be permitted to put a hand to it. A house built in this manner will not need to be repaired in a few years, but will be good for years to come, and consequently in the end much cheaper than the cheap and good-for-nothing houses built in some townships.

Much depends upon the school directors. None but the best men of a district should ever be elected to this office. Men who do not care anything at all about the education of the children are nowhere more out of place than in a board of directors. We believe that in the election of directors our people acted with very good sense last spring.

In the selection of teachers our directors did all they could. The salary paid in this township is too low to select teachers with reference to their qualifications. But notwithstanding this hindrance we have pretty good schools. Our teachers are all, it is believed, doing good work. Some of them are indeed doing very well. It is in some parts of this township I suppose like in some others so near the mountain, good schools are not appreciated. Those who know least about education have the most to say about it, and would reduce us to Egyptian darkness if they could.

To our directors and teachers we say, keep on in the good work you have commenced; do not permit yourselves to become discouraged, Adams is too good a name to be left behind. Let us work up.

A Friend of Education.

Meeting of Bondholders Yesterday—A Sale of the Road Ordered.

A meeting of bondholders of the Sunbury and Lewistown Railroad was held yesterday morning, at the Girard House, for the purpose of devising means whereby the company will be relieved of its present difficulties. The company has been in financial trouble for some time, and the bondholders recently executed a power of attorney to parties to look after their interest, and to report what couse to pursue under the circumstances. It was to hear the report of the attorneys that the meeting was principally called. Colonel James Wetherill, of Pottsville, presided, and Charles W. Carrigan acted as secretary.

The report of the Board of Attorneys was then read. It sets forth the difficulties under which the board was forced to labor to secure to the holders of the first mortgage bonds their vested rights, and closes as follows:—

A deed was executed by the trustees of Aaron Freise, Esq. who holds the same in trust for himself and associates for a period of ninety days from December 15, 1875, to March 15, 1876, wherein if the said Freise and associates are not repaid, principal and interest the road will fall into their hands, unless a sale either private or public, can be effected prior to the expiration of the above mentioned date. To accomplish this result, the refunding of the money borrowed, and to meet the necessary legal and current expences, will require a tax on the bondholders of at least 15 per cent with the tax already authorized by the power of attorney, 3 per cent, making an aggregate tax of 18 per cent., leaving you a clear road, very little out of repair, but owning neither rolling stock nor equipment for operating or conducting the business of the road, in any way, for the benefit of the public traffic. Under the stipulations of the Freise contract, an organization was effected in compliance with the various acts of Assembly governing such cases. This organization was consummated on Thursday, January 6, 1876, at the office of James H. Campbell, under a call of Mr Friese and Josiah Hart, who presented a ticket to the Board of Attorneys for election as temporary president and directors to represent their, the bondholders' interests—Aaron Friese, president; Josiah Hart, Geo. Shannon, G. Schriver, Daniel Buck, William Budd Deacon and Mr. Schenk as directors. The report of Messrs. J. D. Thornton, treasurer of your Board of Attorneys, and Joseph Street, receiver and treasurer for the disbursement of the fund, for $125,000 loaned your attorneys for ninety days, for perfecting titles, paying land damages, judgments, refunding borrowed money and other obligations and expenses contracted by your attorneys, is contained in the report.

The following is a statement of the earnings and expenses of the Sunbury and Lewistown Railroad for 1874:—Total earnings $122,262 38; total expenses, $110,240 59; to which add bills for 1874 not presented for settlement until 1875, being over charges on freight, etc., $2896 59—total, $113,137 18 net earnings to balance, $9125 20.

In account with Pennsylvania Railroad Company—To operating expenses, from 1871 to 1875, $397,466 02; gross earnings for the same period, $373,327 42; balance, $21,138 61.

James H. Campbell then offered a resolution providing that the road shall be offered for sale at auction on the 9th of March next.

Considerable discussion ensued, and the general feeling among the bondholders present was that the course was the best that they could pursue.

The resolution of Mr. Campbell was then adopted.

A committee was appointed to audit the accounts of the Board of Attorneys.

The meeting then adjourned.—Phila. Inquirer, 26th ult

ACCIDENTS.—Amon, son of David Bowersox, of Centreville, while undermining a lime-stone rock, at the quarries below town, on Monday last, received a severe cut above the knee joint by the unexpected fall of the rock. The bleeding was so profuse as almost to baffle all efforts to stop it.

On the same day Henry Reigel, similarly employed, smashed the third finger on the right hand, with a crow-bar.
