SAVES FUEL! SAVES LABOR!
THE NATIONAL STEEL TUBE CLEANER.

(Patented July 25th, 1871.)

Carbon is one of the worst conductors of heat known, a deposit of 1-32 of an inch on the tubes causing a loss of 15 per cent. of fuel.
This Tube Cleaner is made of spring steel. Each segment is of itself a spring, and distends in a perfect circle so as to press against the inside of the tube, removing all the carbon and scale without the slightest injury to the tube.
Guaranteed to clean better, last longer, and work easier than any in the market. Adopted and in use by the U. S. Navy. For sale by dealers. Send for circular.

Life, Growth, Beauty.
LONDON HAIR COLOR RESTORER.
LONDON HAIR COLOR RESTORER.

Not a Dye; makes harsh hair soft and silky; cleanses the scalp from all impurities, causing the hair to grow where it has fallen off or become thin.

Can be applied by the hand as it does not stain the skin or soil the finest linen. As a hair Dressing it is the most perfect the world has ever produced. The hair is renovated and strengthened and natural color restored without the application of mineral substances.

since the introduction of this truly valuable preparation into this country, it has been the wonder and admiration of all classes, as it has proved to be the only article that will absolutly without deception, restore gray hair to its original color, health softness, lustre and beauty, and produce hair on bald heads of its original growth and color.

This beautiful and fragrantly perfumed article is complete within itself, no washing or preparation before or after its use, or accompaniment of any kind being required to obtain these desirable results.

OF ITS Superior Excellence.

Read this Home Certificate, testified to by Edward B. Garrigues one of the most competent Druggists and Chemists of Philadelphia, a man whose veracity none can doubt.

I am happy to add my testimony to the great value of the "London Hair Color Restorer," which restored my hair to its original color, and the hue appears to be permanent. I am satisfied that this preparation is nothing like a dye but operates upon the secretions. It is also a beautiful hair dressing and promotes the growth. I purchased the first bottle from Edward B. Garrigues, druggist, Tenth and Coates street, who can also testify my hair was quite gray when I commenced its use.
MRS MILLER.
No 730 North Ninth street, Phila.

Dr. Swayne & Son, Respected friends:—I have the pleasure to inform you that a lady of my acquaintance, Mrs Miller, is delighted with the success of your "London Hair Color Restrer." Her hair was falling rapidly, and quite gray. The color has been restored the falling off entirely stopped, and a new growth of hair is the result.

BOSTON TESTIMONY.

July 22d, 1871.—Dr. Swayne & Son: Last winter while in Trenton, N. D., care of W. S. Fogler & Son, Druggists, No. 723 Fremont street, Boston. Respectfully yours,

A Brave Young Woman.

AT THE outbreak of the Revolutionary war, Captian Charles Ross, whose regiment was then stationed in a provincial town of England, was secretly engaged to a young lady of the place, whose beauty and abilities won the highest admiration. But her family had other plans for the promising girl, and, having, bestowed upon her a remarkable education, they strenuously opposed the young officer's desires. His regiment was soon ordered to America and he was forced to leave without communicating with his betrothed.

Long, silent weeks of anxiety followed, till, unable to endure the separation, preferring to brave the anger of her friends, the noble girl suddenly fled from her home, and escaped to America disguised in male attire. Here she learned that her lover's regiment was far inland actively engaged in war. She immediately set forth upon a foot journey of hundreds of miles through a country filled with rapain and slaughter.

After a long time she began to get definite information—she learned the very station the troops occupied. With lighter heart, without one doubt of her lover's constancy, she sped on, cheered by the hope of a happy ending. As she drew near the station she heard the crack of rifles in the woods, and the fearful yells of the savages. She had never looked upon a battle, and the horrible tales of war and Indian cruelty which now thronged her memory struck an overwhelming terror to her heart,—She turned to flee: but soon her noble womanhood asserted itself once more. Perhaps her lover was in that battle!—Perhaps even now calling her name with his dying breath! She turned again, and flew toward the noise of the fight. Ere she reached the spot all was still; the battle was done. But, still pressing on, she came suddenly upon the scene, and her eyes fell at once upon the body of an officer stretched across the roots of a tree. She went to him with trembling heart; she turned the face upward; it was her lover! A poisoned arrow in his body She drew it out; and, putting her lips to the wound, sucked the poison and the blood. This she continued till her knowledge of surgery, which she had studied in England, assured her that the poison was wholly extracted. Then she nursed him with skill and tenderness.

The officer's gratitude was unspeakble; but he had no suspicion of his faithful attendant. She had previously dyed her skin with lime and bark, and her disguise was impenetrable. The station had been destroyed—there were no means of conveyance, and the officer was yet to weak to walk. For six weeks this brave woman nursed the invalid attended to his every want, supplying his food from the catch of her own hands. Six weeks in the forest, with only the shelter of boughs which her frail hands could erect! They weary weeks to him, but to her they brought the greatest joy of her young life. She still kept her secret from her lover. As he grew stronger, he would often talk of his past history, and finally told his attendant the whole story of his unhappy love

He charged his nurse to seek out the lady, should he return to England, and tell her of her lover's constancy to the last. Should death follow the wound, the nurse was begged not to leave his body till he delivered it into the loved one's arms. What excess of joy filled the girl's bosom as she listened daily to such words as these! And God at last blessed her devotion and her love. As the captain regained strength they set out slowly for some settlement. After a few weeks they reached Philedelphia. WHAT'S A PRINTER?—A Printer is the most curious being living. He may have a 'bank' and 'quoins' and not be worth a cent; have "small caps' and have neither wife nor children. Others may run fast, he gets along better by 'setting fast.' He may be making 'impressions' without eloquence, may use the 'lye' without offending, and still tell the truth; while others cannot stand while they get, he can 'set' while he is standing and do both at the same time; may have to use 'furniture' and yet have no dwelling; they make and put away 'pi,' and never see a pie, much less eat it, during his whole life; be a human being and a 'rat' at the same day; may 'press' a good deal, and not ask a favor; may handle a 'shooting iron' and know nothing about a cannon, gun or pistol; he may use the 'lever' that moves the world, and yet be as far from the morning globe as a hog under a mole hill; 'spread sheets' without being a housewife; he may lay his 'form' in a 'bed' and yet be obliged to sleep on the floor; he may use the 'dagger' without shedding blood and from the earth may handle 'stars;' he may be of a 'rolling' disposition, and still never desire to travel; he can have a 'sheep's foot' and never be deformed; never without a 'case,' and knows nothing about law or physic; be always correcting his 'errors' and be growing worse every day; have 'em-braces,' without ever having the arms of a lass thrown around him; have his 'form locked up,' and at the same time be far from the jail, watch house, or any other confinement; he might be plagued by the 'devil' and be a Christian of the best kind.
