"INSTEAD of being a reformer Tilden is himself in as urgent need of reform as the party which has put him in nomination."

"The Government for the chief office in which he has been nominated would not now exist if his example during the rebellion had been followed by his countrymen."—John A. Dix.

The Disloyalty of Tilden.

Whoever refuses to give aid to his country in its dire distress is to that extent disloyal. Mr. William W. Corcoran left his country when it most needed his aid and counsel. To that extent he was disloyal, and however great his virtues otherwise nobody would propose him as candidate for the Presidency. It is presuming very much on the forgetfulness of the people to propose Samuel J. Tilden for that high office.

Immediately on the close of the rebellion in 1865 there was published in New York a volume of some five hundred pages called "The Tribute Book." Its object was to make and preserve a record of the munificence of the American people during the war for the Union. In its pages are presented copies of every subscription paper known to have been made to help the good cause.

The first paper of the kind was in aid of the Seventh Regiment of New York, on the 17th of April, 1861. The first name was Moses H. Grinnell, followed by W. M. Evarts, Hamilton Fish, Royal Phelps, A. V. Street, and forty others, each $100. In this list the name of Samuel J. Tilden does not appear, although many of his political and personal friends and associates inscribed their names on the Roll of Honor. Bear in mind that Mr. Tilden is estimated to be worth nearly $8,000,000. Had the contributions been to enable the regiment to go on an excursion he would probably have been among the first to sign.

On the 22d of April came the great subscriptions to the "Union Defense Fund." William B. Astor led off with $15,000; A. T. Stewart put down $10,000; James Gordon Bennett, $3,000; August Belmont, $1,000; Oliver Charlick, $500; William G. Hunt, $250; and four hundred others appear in like sums. Here again we find the political and personal associates of Samuel J. Tilden, but his name does not appear.

On the same day there was a patriotic meeting of the bench and bar of New York city in the aid of the imperiled country. Although a lawyer of eminence and accustomed to participate in public meetings of the bar, the name of Samuel J. Tilden does not appear.

A subscription was started in New York, in May, to help Frank Blair raise a regiment in Missouri. Again we find the names of Belmont, Phelps, and other Democrats among the contributors. Here was a case commending itself to Democrats. But the name of Samuel J. Tilden does not appear.

Samuel J. Tilden, remember, was among the millionaires of New York city. Commodore Vanderbilt, a more patriotic millionaire, gave a steamboat, worth about $750,000.

"The Tribute Book" make as record of numerous public meetings and fairs to raise money for the Union; but in all the five hundred pages of this book the name of Samuel J Tilden does not appear. Thousands of good names do appear, and we hardly recall the absence of another prominent citizen.

In March, 1864, the great Metropolitan Fair was held in New York "The Tribute Book" contained twenty pages of names of contributors—several thousands. At this fair every trade and profession was represented. A. T. Stewart, again, $10,000; James Lenox, $5,000; Morris Ketchum, $5,000, and others, daily associates of Tilden, in smaller contributions. The aggregate was $1,351,275 94, and not one dollar from Samuel J. Tilden! What shall we say of a very rich man, who saw, every day almost, other rich men, his neighbors, giving money by the thousands to save our country, and he refusing to give a cent! His name is Samuel J. Tilden. Seventy millions of dollars, it is stated in this book, were voluntarily contributed in the Northern States for the Union. Many thousands of names of those ... to raise this ...

District Politics.

The majority of the counties composing this Congressional District have not held their County Conventions, but they are announced in all. The Republicans of Fulton County will hold their Convention on the 7th of August; Juniata, August 21; Perry, August 21, and Huntingdon August 22. Franklin and Snyder have held their conventions and placed tickets in the field.

The only Congressional candidates thus ... District outside of ... in ... of Juniata county. ... der.

... and favorable received in all of the counties. Mr. Lyons is a prominent member of the Bar of Juniata county and is the Presidential elector of this District. Dr. Smith is an eminent physician and served with distinction in the army.

As showing the political complexion of the District in 1872, on the vote for Governor and before the 18th Congressional District was formed, and in 1874 when the first contest was had, we reproduce the following tables:

THE VOTE FOR GOVERNOR IN 1872.

	Hartranft.	Buckalew.
Franklin	4505	4182
Fulton	797	1125
Juniata	1352	1739

Perry	2328	2378

It will thus be seen that with the difficulties settled and party united in Huntingdon county, as they now are; an acceptable candidate and vigorous canvass, so that a full Republican vote may be polled, it will be no difficult matter to restore the Districts, Congressional and Senatorial, to their legitimate political complexion.

"The joint call for a Republican County Convention," by our Huntingdon county friends, it gives us pleasure to state, upon the authority of the Journal, "gives universal satisfaction among the Republicans. The Democrats, of course, are very much put out about it and throw cold water upon the movement, but it will avail nothing. The Republicans feel that it is high time that they should prove their loyalty to the old flag. They feel that they have played into the hands of the Democrats quite long enough."—Public Opinion, 5th inst.

The Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

This article shall not vest, enlarge, or diminish legislative power in congress.

A Grand Display of Shooting Stars Expected in a Few Days.

From the N. Y. Herald.

The earth is about to commence its periodical plunge into the meteoric stream, or great shooting star shower, an occurrence that will be repeated with greater effect in November next. The August epoch continues five days, and we may therefore expect to witness during that period some fiery displays in the heavens. Owing to the prolonged and intense heated term of last month more than ordinary interest is taken in the anticipated phenomenon, and particular attention will be given to it at the Naval Observatory, Washington.

SANDAL WOOD

Possesses a much greater power in restoring to a healthy state. It never produces sickness, is certain and speedy in its action. It is fast superceding every other remedy. Sixty capsules cure in six or eight days. No other Medicine can do this.

Owing to its great success, many substitutes have been advertised, such as Pastes, Mixtures, Pills, Balsams, etc., all of which have been abandoned.

A MATTER OF POPULAR INTEREST.

We condense from the Lehigh Register the substance of a conversation about Oak Hall, in Philadelphia, "Wanamaker & Brown's" Largest Clothing House in America." A visitor and attendant or the speakers:

Visitor. "What corner is the Building on?"

Attendant. "South-East corner of Sixth and Market. Please note the SIXTH, for many strangers seeking Oak Hall, have been misled by designing persons."

V. "It is perfectly colossal! Do you know its dimensions?"

A. "10,000 square feet—60 on Market and 180 odd on Sixth, six stories high, has over three acres of flooring, and covers space once occupied by more than twenty different business places."

V. "Do you use steam-power?"

A. "A giant young engine furnishes power for the freight and passenger elevators, and the boilers steam for heating, and the other operations of the house."

V. "What order do you take with goods?"

A. "They are first opened and arranged in the basement, on long low counters, and taken thence on the freight elevator to the inspector's room on the fourth floor."

V. "Is inspecting the first operation?"

A. "No, sir, measuring. The goods are first measured in the piece, then inspected. The cloth passes over rollers in the face of a strong light, and two men sit, one before and one behind the goods, watching with the eye of a hawk for the least pin-hole imperfection, and marking every flaw, so that the cutter may see and avoid it when he comes to cut the garments."

V. "You must employ an army of cutters?"

A. "Come to our sixth floor and see! We keep 70 hands all the time making up the cloth into garments,—besides machines that do a dozen men's work each at a stroke."

V. "Do you manufacture all your own goods?"

A. "We do, and most carefully. Our examiners inspect every stitch and seam, and certify to every garment as extra-well made before we put our ticket on it, and become responsible for it."

V. "Your system must save you a great deal?"

A. "In every direction, sir. It is the system and economy we practice all the way through, that enables us to put our prices down to the people as we do."

V. "After inspecting the work, what becomes of it?"

A. "Before it goes into Stock it is Ticketed. Every single garment has its number and other points noted on it, so that its entire history can be traced without fail, upon our books."

V. "You must have 30 or 40 salesmen?"

A. "Why sir, on busy days you may see 100 in the various rooms and suites of rooms, selling to the throngs of customers."

V. "Do you do an order business, by mail and express?"

A. "Very great. All over the country. Our perfect system and rules of self-measurement make it possible to please people 2,000 miles away just as perfectly as if they were here in person."

V. "I suppose you have at least half a dozen different departments?"

A. "My dear sir! we have more than twenty, each charged with its own business, and each thoroughly organized, a necessary wheel within the great wheel."

V. "Will you name a dozen or so of them?"

A. "With pleasure. The Custom Department, for those who prefer custom made to ready-made. The Furnishing Department, with its complete stock of all materials. The Shirt Factory, with its busy machines, making our own Anchesam shirts. The Trimming Department, itself as big as many a regular store. The Garment Stock Room. The Receiving Room. The Order Department, named before. The Special Uniforms Department. The Delivery Department, with its score of messengers. The—"

V. "Hold, hold! sir, enough!"

A. "I'm not half through! The Advertising Department, with its bill and sign distributors, editing and publishing business and popular journals, circulating over 10,000 copies monthly (tell all your friends to send for it). The Men's Department, with its many rooms. The Boys' Department. The Youths' Department. The Children's Department, with its special entrance for ladies. The Telegraph Department. The Chief Clerk's Department, with its book-keepers and assistants. General Manager's Department. Financier's Office, and other offices of the firm, all busy as bees thinking, planning, executing, buying, making, registering, receiving, sending out, selling, and in a thousand ways joining their forces to carry on a business with the people amounting to between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 annually."

V. "S-t-u-p-e-n-d-o-u-s!"

A. "Indeed it is! I forgot to name the Cashier's Department, which handles its $25,000 of retail sales on some single days!"

V. "$25,000! Immense! That's what enables the house to buy cheap and sell cheap."

A. "Exactly. You have just hit it. The people throng here, knowing that we depend on low prices and immense sales."

V. "What are the 'FOUR RULES' I hear so much about?"

A. "Our system of business dealing—1. One price, no deviation; 2. Cash for everything; 3. A guarantee protecting the purchaser; 4. The money returned if the buyer can't otherwise be suited."

V. "Nothing could be fairer."

A. "Nothing. And the people see it."

V. "Well, I thank you, sir, for your polite attention."

A. "Not at all. It's a pleasure to serve you. Call again; and be sure of the place—Wanamaker & Brown's Oak Hall, Sixth-East corner Sixth and Market."

V. "Thank you! I shall be happy to do so. Good morning."

MARK THESE FACTS!

The Testimony of the Whole World.

Holloway's Ointment.

Bad Legs, Bad Breasts, Sores and Ulcers.

All descriptions of sores are remediable by the proper and diligent use of this inestimable preparation. To attempt to cure bad legs by plastering the edges of the wound together is a folly; for should the skin unite, a boggy diseased condition remains underneath to break out with tenfold fury in a few days. The only rational and successful treatment, as indicated by nature, is to reduce the inflamation in and about the wound and to soothe the neighboring parts by rubbing in plenty of the Ointment as salt is forced into meat. This will cause the malignant humors to be drained off from the hard, swollen, and discolored parts round about the wound, sore, or ulcer, and when these humrrs are removed, the woundsthemselves will soon heal; warm bread and water poultices applied over the affected parts, after the Ointment has been well rubbed in, will sooth and soften the same and greatly assist the cure. There is a description of ulcer, sore and swelling, which need not be named here, attendant upon the follies of youth and for which this Ointment is urgently recommended as a sovereign remedy. In curing such poisonous sores it never fails to restore the system to a healthy state if the Pills be taken according to the printed instructions.

Diphtheria, Ulcerated Sore Throat, and Scarlet and other Fevers

Any of the above diseases may be cured by well rubbing the Ointment three times a day into the chest, throat, and neck of the patient; it will soon penetrate, and give immediate relief. Medicine taken by the mouth must operate upon the whole system ere its influence can be felt in any local part, whereas the Ointment will do its work at once. Whoever tries the unguent in the above manner for the diseases named or any similar disorders affecting the chest and throat, will find themselves relieved as by a charm. All sufferers from these complaints should envelope the throat at bedtime in a large bread and water poultice, after the Ointment has been well rubbed in; it will greatly assist the cure of the throat and chest. To allay the fever and lessen the inflammation, eight or ten Pills should be taken night and morning. The Ointment will produce perspiration; the grand essential in all cases of fever, sore throats, or where there might be an oppression of the chest, either from asthma or other causes.

Piles, Fistulas Strictures.

The above class of complaints will be removed by nightly fomenting the parts with warm water, and then by most effectually rubbing in the Ointment. Persons suffering from these direful complaints should not lose a moment in arresting their progress. It should be understood that it is not sufficient merely to smear the Ointment on the affected parts, but it must be well rubbed in for a considerable time, two or three times a day, that it may be taken into the system, whence it will remove any hidden sore or wound as effectually as though palpable to the eye. There again bread and water poultices, after the rubbing in of the Ointment, will do great service. This is the only sure treatment for females, cases of cancer in the stomach, or where there may be a general bearing down.

Indiscretions of Youth—Sores and Ulcers.

Blotches, as also swelling, can with certainty be radically cured if the Ointment be used freely and the Pills taken night and morning, as recommended in the printed instructions. When treated in any other way they only dry up in one place to break out in another; whereas this Ointment will remove the humor from the system, and leave the patient a vigorous and healthy being. It will require time with the use of the Pills to insure a lasting cure.

Dropsical Swellings, Paralysis, and Stiff Joints.

Although the above complaints differ widely in their origin and nature, yet they all require local treatment. Many of the worst cases of such diseases, will yield in a comparatively short space of time when this Ointment is diligently rubbed into the parts affected, even after every other means have failed. In all serious maladies the Pills should be taken according to the printed directions accompanying each box.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bad Legs,	Gout,
Bad Breasts,	Glandular Swelling,
Burns,	Lumbago,
Bunions,	Piles,
Bite of Moschetoes and Sand flies,	Rheumatism,
Coco-bay,	Scalds,
Chigo-foot,	Sore nipples,
Chilblains,	Sore Throats,
Chapped Hands,	Skin Diseases,
Corns (Soft,)	Scurvy,
Cancers,	Sore Heads,
Contracted and Stiff Joints,	Tumors,
Elephantiasis,	Ulcers,
Fistules,	Wounds,
	Yaws.

CAUTION:—None are genuine unless the signature of J. Haydock, as agent for the United States, surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same Knowing them to be spurious.
