VEGETINE

Strikes at the root of disease by purifying the blood, restoring liver and kidneys to healthy action, invigorating the nervous system.

VEGETINE

Is not a vile, nauseous compound, which simply purges the bowles, but a safe pleasant remedy which is sure to purify the blood and thereby restore the health.

VEGETINE

Is now prescribed in cases of Scrofula and other diseases of the blood, by many of the best physicians, owing to its great success in curing all diseases of this nature.

VEGETINE

Does not deceive invalids into false hopes by purging and creating a factitious appetite, but assists nature in clearing and purifying the whole system, leading the patient gradually to perfect health.

VEGETINE.

Was looked upon as an experiment, for some time by some of our best physicians, but those most incredulous in regard to its merit are now its most ardent friends and supporters.

VEGETINE

Instead of being a puffed-up medicine has worked its way up to its present astonishing success by actual merit in curing all diseases of the blood, of whatever nature.

VEGETINE

Says a Boston physician, "has no equal as a blood purifyer. Hearing of its many wonderful cures, after all other remedies had failed, I visited the labratory and convinced myself of its genuine merit. It is prepared from barks, roots and herbs, each of which is highly effective, and they are compounded in such a manner as to produce astonishing results."

VEGETINE

Is acknowledged and recommended by physicians and apothecaries to be the best purifier and cleanser of the blood yet discovered, and thousands speak in its praise who have been restored to health.

PROOF,

WHAT IS NEEDED.

BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1874.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—About one year since I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility VEGETINE was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use. I procured the article and after using several bottles, was restored to health and strength, and its use, I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health.

Respectfully yours,
U. D. PETTINGILL,
Firm of S. M. Pettingill & Co., 10 State Street, Boston.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 24, 1873.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—The two bottles of VEGETINE furnished me by your agent, my wife has used with great benefit.

For a long time she has been troubled with dizziness and costiveness; these troubles are now entirely removed by the use of VEGETINE.

She was also troubled with Dyspepsia and General Debility; and has been greatly benefited.

THOS. GILMORE, 222½ Walnut Street.

FEEL MYSELF A NEW MAN.

NATICK, Mass., June 1st, 1871.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—Through the advice and earnest persuasion of Rev. E. S. Best, of this place, I have been taking VEGETINE for Dyspepsia, of which I have suffered for years.

I have used only two bottles and already feel myself a new man.

Respectfully,
DR. J. W. CARTER.

Report from a Practical Chemist and Apothecary.

BOSTON, Jan. 1, 1874.

Dear Sir—This is to certify that I have sold at retail 1944 dozen (1-32 bottles) of your VEGETINE since April 12 1870, and can truly say that it has given the best satisfaction of any remedy for the complaints for which it is recommended, that I ever sold. Scarcely a day passes without some of my customers testifying to its merits on themselves or their friends. I am perfectly cognizant of several cases of Scrofulous Tumors being cured by Vegetine alone in this vicinity.

Very respectfully yours,

A Female Blondin.

The Signorina Maria Spelterini has accomplished a feat which no female ever before escaped. This was no less an undertaking than the crossing of the gorge of Niagara on a tight rope, stretched immediately over the point where the rapids boil most furiously, a couple of hundred feet beyond the railroad suspension bridge. At the point selected for the exhibition, the same at which the famous Blondin, pioneer of the famous funambulism at Niagara, stretched his second rope, the gorge is something more than 800 feet across, and the banks about 200 feet above the seething water. It is one of the wildest, most troubled parts of the river. Inclosures had been formed by rough board fences at either end of the rope on both the American and Canada sides, and an admission fee charged, but on the Dominion side an unruly mob tumbled down the fence and defied the toll collector. On the hitchy side quite a large number of spectators, both in carriages and on foot, who had gained admission by paying their honest fee of entrance, were assembled, but many preferred to view the novel and startling spectacle from the bridge. This might be considered hardly the fair thing, in consideration of the fact that the Signorina had been to an expense of $640 for her rope and guy-ropes alone. The rope, we may mention, is two and a quarter inches in diameter, of the best Manilla and weighs nearly a ton. It is held taut by 1,400 pounds of guy-ropes. There has never been a rope better stretched across the Niagara. The sag does not exceed twenty feet altogether, and its own weight, together with a perfect net work of guys at either side, holds it steady almost as a bent rod of iron. The Signorina started upon her perilous journey promptly at the advertised time, four o'clock, a little too soon for the afternoon train from this city. When those who went down by that train arrived inside the inclosure, they saw a glistening figure far out upon "the straight and narrow way," and with steady, measured steps progressing. The lady was attired with green buckskin, tights of the color nature gives the cuticle of the Caucasian race, a tunic of scarlet and shining green bodice. Her head was covered only by its luxurient growth of flowing brown hair. Bands at either side of the river played inspiring music, but every eye was fast fixed upon the form of the daring woman, who was now passing up the ascent to the further shore. A few more seconds of intense interest, at least to those who were lookers-on, and she stood upon the shining shores of Her Majesty's dominion. The accomplishment of her passage was the signal for applause from both banks and the bridge. Then they waited, probably ten minutes. At the expiration of that time the Signorina again appeared, balance-pole in hand, and, stepping firmly upon the rope, began the return journey. If any aspiring reporters anticipated an opportunity for distinguishing themselves in tragedy, they were doomed to serious disappointment, for the Signorina Spelterini has no idea whatever of taking a tumble for their benefit. Steadily she came back across the long line, stopping at the centre to rest upon one knee, then again stepping forward with measured and steady tread. When within a few rods of the final destination she stood immoveable for a moment in statuesque pose while an enterprising photographer secured her presentment. Then she traversed the remaining distance, until safely again on terra firma, and the exhibition of the day was closed. The Signorina Spelterini is twenty-three years of age, dark, with an essentially Italian cast of countenance, square built, and probably turning 150 pounds. Her features are quite regular, her expression intelligent, her manner engaging. From the time she was three years old she has continually practiced upon the tight rope and slack wire, the latter exercise giving her complete mastery of her equilibrium.—Buffalo Express.

GETTING MONEY.—The most unfortunate day in the career of a young man is the day on which he fancies there is some better way to get money than to earn it; for from that fooling spring the many extravagant and visionary schemes which are indulged in for the purpose of gaining a livelihood without labor. When a young man once becomes thoroughly infected with this feeling, he is ready to adopt any means for the accomplishment of this object; and if his plans are frustrated and he is foiled in his efforts, upon the very crest of the wave which he has already mounted, and in full view, is the temptation to crime, to shield him from the disgrace which he thinks must inevitably follow in the wake of defeat. To those he yields, and the first he realizes he finds himself the violator of the law, and a criminal in the eyes of the community, and an inmate of the prison, awaiting trial all brought on for want of a little manly firmness in the outset of life to prompt him to choose an avocation in life where the penny earned would bring with it its sure reward. Then let our young men spurn the idea of obtaining money without rendering an equivalent, let them be ready and willing to occupy positions in life which will give them the best possible opportunity to develop their natural talent, and do good to others while helping themselves. In this way we may have a nation of noble men and women, which will be a source of profit and pleasure to us, and an object of wonder and admiration to the world at large.
