He has tried to explain his connection with Tweed, and his connection with the Demo cratic Convention at Chicago, in 1864, but the more he explains the worse it is for him. But his income returns for 1862, and his answer to the Circuit Court of New York, in 1876, have evidently proven too much for him. In 1863 he swore

To Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune writes that a responsible New York gentleman makes the statement that at the time Fernando Wood, as Mayor of New York, tried to prevent the stopping of arms about to be shipped to Georgia, in 1861, Mr. Tilden was one of a number of citizens who made themselves very prominent in attempting to secure these arms, and that he went personally and expostulated with those who had detained them.

A Dexocuatre investigating committee investigated the administration of State affairs in Ohio covering the period Governor Hayes was in office. The committee reported:

"Your committee take pleasure in reporting that, so far as elective officers and their subordinates are concerned, every commendable honesty and fidelity have been observed, and that the pleasure in the content of the publicans to oppress the people. A general view of the political situation is in order. In the State of Now York, the Democracy are in serious trouble. Seymour declines being the candidate, for Governor positively, and the party is under the necessity of again calling together the convention which insisted upon mominating him. Discarding all speculations regarding the manner in which this thing was done—speculations regarding the manner in which this thing was done—speculating as to who should be blamed and who not—the fact stands out prominent, that the Democracy have experienced a loss of prestige from which it will be hard to recover.

Tilden on the War.

Among the speakers at the great Republican meeting in Burlinton. Vt. on Tuesday, a week, was Governor Underwood, of that city. In his speech he brought out a fact of great moment to the people of this country, who are asked by Governor Tilden to elect him their President. Following is Governor Underwoods as as reported by the Burling ton free Press:

"Of this doctrine of a Federal union of sovereign States, Sanned J. Tilden is head and front. It is the doctrine of his party, and his own individual doctrine. I have debashing the solution of the world have been saved from infany; and the president of the war it held out false hopes to the Confederates, and thereby prolonged the condict at the expense of hundreds of thousands of lives and millions of treasure.
