THE POST.

Middleburg, Sep. 28, 1876.

Local News, &c.

—All communications, business letters &c., for this office, to secure prompt attention should be addressed as follows: THE POST, Middleburg, Snyder County, Pa. Advertisements, communications &c, must be handed in by Monday noon, to secure insertion in next issue.

Snyder County Courts.—The Courts of Snyder County are held on the fourth Mondays of February, May, and September, and second Monday of December.

The cool weather will improve the matrimonial market.

Some of the pavements of our Borough need reconstructing badly.

The tramp crop bids fair to be unusually numerous this winter.

Corn-topping and corn-chopping off at the ground is the order now among the farmers.

Some of the shade trees are shedding their leaves, others are assuming the autumnal dress.

Slowly but surely the weather grows cooler, and gradually, too, the antiquated bachelor draws his legs nearer his chin when he goes to bed.

J. W. Peters, son of A. J. Peters of this place, and foreman in the NATIONAL BANNER, Ligonier, Ind., J. B. Stoll's paper, has been spending a few weeks among his relatives and boy-hood friends. He is looking well and seems to be proof against the swamp malaria of Injianny.

Read the premium circulars of the Snyder County Central Agricultural Society, to be held at Middleburg, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 5th, 6th and 7th 1876. Remember that all premiums will be paid on the Fair ground before the final adjournment of the Fair.

WILD PIGEONS.—These favorites of the game tribe are already beginning to make their appearance in the adjoining woods, and some few have been shot by our gunners. In a few weeks they will come in countless flocks to feed upon the mass ripened by the frost, when exciting sport will be afforded the gunners.

LOOKOUT FOR THEM.—The latest humbugs that are going round the country are sewing machine "fixers." Keep a sharp lookout for them if you don't want your machines "fixed" at a high price, so that they will be of no use to you hereafter. We caution our readers to beware of strangers; don't pay them any money for "fixing" until you know that your machines are all right, if you must get travelers to fix them.

SOLDIERS ATTENTION.—The Soldiers of Snyder County are respectfully requested to meet in Selinsgrove, on Saturday, October 14, 1876, at 10 o'clock, A. M., for the purpose of forming a Soldiers Association for Snyder county. MAJ. GEN. JOSEPH HOOKER, has been invited to be present, and if he accepts due notice will be given.

Let us have a full turn-out.

COMMITTEE.

No one can fail to notice the blight which is withering apple trees in all parts of the country. A gentleman explains, through the columns of an exchange that it is caused by a worm, and by splitting the twig at the point where last year's growth commenced it will be found that a worm has been at work in the heart at the point. The assumption is that an egg was laid there at the begining of last year's growth.

Dr. A. M. Smith, who was our candidate for Congress, Cheerfully acquiesces in the result the Conference and is making untiring efforts and using his best exertions for the election of Hon. Thad. M. Mahon.

Such action on his part secure for him the respect and esteem on the party throughout the whole district and allies his home friends more closely to his side in any future contest for political honors. There are bright spots in the future for the Doctor.

PEACHES.—We never saw the peach crop so abundant, at least for the last thirty years, as it has been in this neighborhood this season. The apple crop is large also. Much attention has been paid in this county for years past to the planting of fruit trees, and we are gratified to state that the present crop is in some measure a reward for their labor. But the borer is still at work on the fruit trees, and it requires unusual care and attention to keep the destructive insect from killing them. And it looks as if those troublesome insects have come to stay.

CITIZENS are still going to the Centennial Exhibition. The great masses of the people, however will not visit it. It is a costly sight to many; and whilst it pleases the eye of the visitor, what else of benefit has it done, or is it doing for the toiling millions? Generally, those who have visited the concern, when asked to describe it, content themselves by simply stating that 'it is a grand affair'—"it is a big show," and that is about all they say about it. What useful purpose it answers has yet to be announced. What important ideas it suggests has not yet been made known. But "it is a grand affair," though very costly every one must admit.—Ex.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Notwithstanding the hard times Middleburg has been improving during the summer.

The United Brethren Church has been made a two story building, and otherwise enlarged. It is nearly completed, and will make a splendid appearance when finished.

Mr. S. S. Schoch has erected a new brick dwelling. A great deal of taste is shown in the style of construction, and will be when finished a beautiful residence and quite an ornament to the west end of town.

Mr. Samuel Bowen has also erected a brick residence in Franklin, which will make a very handsome appearance when finished.

There are others, but, which we have neither time nor space to mention at present.

Trespassers Beware.

The recklessness with which some men and boys steal fruit, &c., from gardens and farms, would lead one to suppose they don't know that there is a law against it. For their information therefore, we publish the following act of Assembly, viz:

"Any person or persons who shall wilfully enter or break down, through or over an orchard, garden or yard fence, hot-bed or garden-house or wheresoever wrongfully climb, stone, cut, break, hurt or otherwise mutilate or damage any nut, fruit or ornamental or shade tree, shrub, plant or vine (within whose, hot-bed or garden-house) or will wilfully trespass upon, walk over, bear down, destroy or in any wise injure any grain, grass, vines vegetables or growing crops, shall, on conviction thereof, before an alderman or justice of the peace, or mayor's court of law, in said counties, have judgment against him, her or them, not less than five and not more than one hundred dollars."

The act further defines that in case of default in the payment of this fine or judgment with costs of suit, the party convicted shall be committed to the jail of the county for a period of not less than twenty or more than

The Union Park and Agricultural Association Fair will be held on their grounds, at Danbury, on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th, 1876.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.—We learn from a reliable source that a man by the name of Kratzer from Jackson township, was promised a sum of money due him a few weeks ago, and according to an understanding between him and his debtor, he went on the day specified to receive the money. Mr. Kratzer did not receive his money from the man, whose name we did not learn he being disappointed by the person who had promised it to him, and, perhaps, it is well that it was so. Kratzer was obliged to return home after night, and on his return was attacked by several men who cut him in the arm, and ripped his coat on the side where it was supposed he carried his pocket book. No doubt these men knew that Kratzer went after money, and that their object was to rob him after he had received it.

GOOD ADVICE.—In view of the present condition of labor and business in this country, the advice of the Ledger to "take care of the pennies" will not be inappropriate. Look well to your spending. No matter what comes in, if more goes out you will be always poor. The art is not in making money but in keeping it. Little expenses, like mice in a barn, when they are many, make great waste. Hair by hair heads get bald, straw by straw the thatch goes off the cottage, and drop by drop the rain comes into the chamber. A barrel is soon empty if the tap leaks but a drop a minute. When you mean to save begin with your mouth many thieves pass down the red lane. In all things keep within compass. Never stretch your legs further than your blankets will reach or you will soon be cold. In clothes choose suitable and lasting stuff, and not tawdry fineries. To be warm is the main thing, never mind the looks. A fool may make money, but it needs a wise man to spend it. Remember, it is easier to build two chimneys than to keep one going. If you give all to back and board there is nothing left for the savings bank. Fare hard and work hard when you are young and you will have chance to rest when you are old.—[Ex.

WITNESSES IN COURT.—Of all the unfortunate people in this world, none are more entitled to sympathy and commiseration than those whom circumstances oblige to appear upon the witness stand in court. You are called to the stand and place your hand upon a copy of the Scripture, in sheepskin binding, with a cross on one side and none on the other, to accommodate either variety of the christian faith. You are then arraigned before two legal gentlemen, one of whome smiles at you blandly because you are on his side, the other eying you savagely for the opposite reason. The gentleman proceeds to pump you of all you know and having squeezed all he wants of you, relentlessly hands you over to the other, who proceeds to show you that you are mistaken in all your suppositions; that you never saw anything you have sworn to; that you never saw the defendant in your life; in short, you have committed direct perjury. He wants to know if you have been in the State prison, and takes your denial with the air of a man who thinks that you ought to have been there. Asks you all the questions over again in different ways, and tells you with an awe-inspiring severity to be careful what you say. He wants to know if he understood you to say so and so, and wants to know whether you ment something else. Having bullied and scared you out of your wits, and convicted you in the eyes of the jury of prevarication, he lets you go. By and by, everybody that you have fallen out with is put on the stand to swear that you are the biggest scoundrel they ever knew, and not to be believed under oath. Then the opposing council, in summing up, point your moral photograph to the jury as a character fit to be handed down to all time as the type of infamy; as a man who conspired against innocence and virtue, and stood convicted to the attempt. The judge, in his charge, tells the jury if they believe your testimony, &c., &c., indicating that there is even a judical doubt of your veracity, and you go home to your wife and family, neighbors and acquaintances, a suspected man, all because of your accidental presence on an unfortunate occasion. Who would not be a witness?—Ex.

Attend the Fairs.

Coleman's Rural World offers some excellent arguments in favor of attending Fairs. We commend these to the thoughtful consideration of our readers in general, with the hope and expectation that every farmer in Snyder county will follow the advice given below, by spending at least one day at the Fairs to be held in this county this fall. "This," the Rural World pertinently remarks, "is the season for the Fairs. Attend them, that you may be benefitted by them. Combine instruction with recreation. Examine carefully all the improved implements and machines that are exhibited. Don't be afraid to ask questions of the exhibiters. Inquire about the advantages of one particular machine or implement over another. Gather all the information you can, and make the best use of it in the future. Examine the different breeds of cattle, sheep, hogs and horses, and ask the exhibiters to give you the merits of the breeds they are showing—why they are better than any other breed, what treatment they receive, etc.

"It is astonishing how much one can learn if he only will try. Pump every intelligent exhibiter of anything that you meet. He is at the fair to talk about the merits of what he exhibits; that is his business. Listen to all he says. Get his circulars and take them home with you, and read them carefully, at your leisure. Believe just as much as your judgment approves, and no more. Farmers, as a general rule, are very credulous, and believe what is told them. They are in the habit of telling the truth, and think that others do the same. Many of them, by being honest and unsuspecting, get badly taken in. They must learn to take the statements of strangers with many grains of allowance. Farmers should tell their sons, when they attend the fairs, to keep their eyes and ears open, to learn all they can at these annual exhibitions, to see whether anything that is exhibited could be used to advantage on the farm, whether it would be wise to buy any of the breeding stock exhibited or any of the improved implements and machines.

"If farmers will attend fairs as a school to obtain valuable information, they may derive great benefit. If they have anything worthy of being exhibited, they should not fail to have it on the grounds in good order. They should encourage and support those

A large number of people are in town this week attending court.

It has been cloudy and raining in this place and vicinity almost incessantly for the last three weeks.

Wheat looks well in this vicinity, notwithstanding the more than abundant rain fall.

Some farmers along the creek sustained considerable loss during the late flood. Whole fields of corn have been washed away.

Reader, if you have an item of news, send it to us. If there are any accidents, fires, or happenings of any kind that would be of interest, in your locality, send them in.

Our Bannerville correspondent will please learn that all communications sent to this office for publication, must at all times be accompanied with the writers real name, or else they will be dropped into the waste basket.

Make your arrangements to attend the Snyder County Central Agricultural Society on the 5th 6th and 7th of next month. The prospects for a good fair are very bright. It is the duty of every farmer and mechanic to give it his support and encouragement.

A CARD TO THE AMERICAN PUBLIC.—For many years we have made two medicines suited to the ailments of a vast class of sufferers. Thousands of cures have been made by them, and, in fact, the word failure could never be coupled with them. But within the last two years counterfeits of our medicines have sprung up, dangerous in their close imitation of our Trade Mark. To secure the people we have placed upon each genuine box of Holloway's Pills and Holloway's Ointment the fac simile of the signature of our Agent, Mr. Jos. Haydock. To counterfeit this is felony. We shall relentlessly pursue any one who imitates this with the utmost vigor of the law. We most earnestly beg that the great mass of the American people will aid us in our efforts to protect their health, and help us in our task of bringing these most unprincipled men to the bar of justice. Uniformly refuse to purchase Medicines purporting to be ours unless Mr. Jos. Haydock's signature is attached to each Box of Pills or Pot of Ointment and the end will soon be reached.

The public's obedient servants,

HOLLOWAY & CO.

A paper containing full information will be sent upon application to CHARLES K. LANDIS, Vineland, N. J., free of cost.

The following is an extract from a description of Vineland, published in the New York Tribune, by the well known Agriculturist, Solon Robinson:

All the farmers were of the "well to do" sort, and some of them, who have turned their attention to fruits and market gardening have grown rich. The soil is loam, varying from sandy to clayey, and surface gently undulating, intersected with small streams and occasional wet meadows, in which deposits of peat or muck are stored, sufficient to fertilize the whole upland surface after it has been exhausted of its natural fertility.

It is certainly one of the most extensive fertile tracts, in an almost level position, and suitable condition for pleasant farming, that we know of this side of the Western prairies. We found some of the oldest farms apparently not as profitably productive as when first cleared of forest fifty or a hundred years ago.

The geologist would soon discover the cause of this continued fertility. The whole country is a marine deposit, and all through the soil we found evidences of calcareous substances, generally in the form of indurated calcareous marl, showing many distinct forms of ancient shells, of the tertiary formation; and this marly substance is scattered all through the soil, in a very comminuted form, and in the exact condition most easily assimilated by such plants as the former desires to cultivate. Manhood: How Lost, How Restored!

Just published, a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagence &c.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.
