THE POST.

Middleburg, Oct. 5, 1876.

Local News, &c.

—All communications, business letters &c., for this office, to secure prompt attention should be addressed as follows: THE POST, Middleburg, Snyder County, Pa. Advertisements, communications &c. must be handed in by Monday noon, to secure insertion in next issue

SNYDER COUNTY COURTS.—The Courts of Snyder County are held on the fourth Mondays of February, May, and September, and Second Monday of December.

Straw hats and white vests will soon be called in.

The crack af the shot-gun is heard in the land.

Fine fall weather is predicted by knowing ones.

Many farmers have finished sowing their wheat.

The Presidential election and the Centennial close the same week.

The times are growing better, the croakers to the contrary nothwithstanding.

There is a general impression that from this time forward times will improve.

We were compelled to cut short the Court proceedings on account of the Election proclamation.

The crock market is decidedly active, and our dealers are handling large quantities of the applebutter receptacles.

The rush for the centennial has fairly set in. The cars are crowded, and every body, his wife and little ones turn that way in person or in desire.

CONCERT.—A grand concert will be held at Beavertown, on Saturday evening, by the Beavertown Brass Band. It is hoped that there will be a good turnout, as there is fun ahead.

Every man has his theory about the proper season to advertise. The most experienced advertisers say that the best time to advertise is to advertise all the time.

Judge Henderson is being highly complimented by the press throughout the State upon the order issued recently in Lebanon county forbidding the presence of boys in Courts of Quarter Sessions.

Travelers are frequently subjected to inconveniences for the want of guide boards at cross-roads. The law provides that supervisors of road districts shall put up these boards at at all cross-roads. Whenever this is neglected, interested parties can have it remedied by making complaint to the grand jury.

Nearly every day there arrives at this place people from the West who where once residents here, or are descendants, of the western pioneers of thirty and forty years ago; many of whom for the first time have personal acquaintance with their relatives here. They are on their way to or from the great Centennial Exhibition.

A MOST SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—A few days ago says the Doylestown Democrat, Evan Stover, of Spring Valley, while working in his mill, noticed that the machinery was not working as it should do, and kept getting slower and slower.—Finally it almost stopped. He immediately proceeded to investigate the matter and ascertain the cause. He raised the stones, inspected the machinery, and did other things without avail. Finally he went to the water gate and raised that up. Finding that the wa[illegible] not flow as fast as it should, he [illegible] is arm in the race and to his horror pulled out one of his children, aged about three years. It was to all appearance dead, but as he was carrying it to the house its nose began to bleed, and the color came back to its face. The child was resuscitated and is at present as well as if nothing had ever happened to it. How long the child had been in the water no one knows.

Teachers' Institute.

The Snyder county Teachers' Institute will be held in the new school house, at Selinsgrove, commencing at 9 o'clock A. M. on Tuesday the 24th of October.

Profs. F. A. Allen, Robert Curry, and T. L. Griswold will be present, and will give instructions in methods teaching the various branches of common school studies, and in everything relating to the intelligent and successful management of schools.

The evenings will be devoted to addresses, lectures, the reading of essays, and to discussions.

Every thing possible will be done to make this one of the best Institutes ever held in the county.

No teacher should fail to be present the whole session. Those who take no more interest in their own improvement than to attend only a day or two cannot expect to derive much benefit from the institute, no matter how well it may be conducted.

A cordial invitation to be present is extended to all the friends of education in the county. Any who may wish to prepare addresses, lectures, essays, or anything else instructive or interesting to the members of the Institute or to an evening's popular audience, if they will make it known on the first day of the session, will have a place assigned them on the programme.

On Thursday afternoon the directors will have a meeting. Every district should be represented by at least several of its directors.

THE TRICK OF A TRAMP.—Elias Schwertzer, a farmer living near Bearstown, Lancaster county, agreed to entertain a gentlemanly looking tramp who professed willingness to pay for his lodging one night last week. After having partaken of supper the tramp took a cigar and handed one to his host. They smoked and talked on different topics until 10 o'clock, when Mrs. S. told the boys to go to bed. At this point the stranger said he would amuse the boys before they retired. He performed several tricks which very much pleased all. He said he could take a ball, which he held in his hand, and place it in the barn without leaving the room. This astonished them all. He said that if the family would permit him he would go into a room up stairs to arrange the ball, which would not require more then twenty minutes, and when he would stamp on the floor they were to go to the barn, where they would find the ball behind a horse, where they kept the curry-comb, wrapped in a piece of silk. The family being anxious to see the performance showed the stranger into the best room and then waited for the signal to go out. In about twenty minutes the stamping was heard and the party left for the barn and examined the curry comb box and on the ground, but could not find the ball, and in about ten minutes returned, when Mr. Schweitzer went up to the room and found it empty and $78 taken from a drawer. Verily, the tricks are not all dead yet.—Middletown Journal 30th ult.

Ed. POST.—Notwithstanding the cool weather and only a passably fair day, the Union Sabbath School Celebration, at Pantonville on the 30th ult. was well attended. We had abundance from the bountiful stores of the friends in the vicinity.

We take this means of returning our thanks to Rev. Anthony for his able, eloquent and instructive address, and to the Middleburg Cornet Band for their excellant Music. We invoke the divine blessing on all who participated.

SUP'T.

CORN HUSKING.—An exchange seasonably discourseth thus: "The next will come the jovial corn huskings, in the beautiful moonlight, when the air sparkles with frosty diamonds, and merry song and clatter bespeak the happiness of rustic belles and beaux, as they strip the husk from the golden ears. Oh! there's a world of unrealized fun and unwritten poetry in this world of ours—hidden away, too, where the tawdry bubbles of fashion, who imagine they only revel amid life's sweets, would never think of finding it—in little, cosy country nooks where the Queen of Happiness reigns supreme, and wields her sceptre sheen.

A paper containing full information will be sent upon application to CHARLES K. LANDIS, Vineland, N. J., free of cost.

The following is an extract from a description of Vineland, published in the New York TRIBUNE, by the well known Agriculturist, Solon Robinson:

All the farmers were of the "well to do" sort, and some of them, who have turned their attention to fruits and market gardening, have grown rich. The soil is loam, varying from sandy to clayey, and surface gently undulating, interseted with small streams and occasional wet meadows, in which deposits of peat or muck are stored, sufficient to fertilize the whole upland surface after it has been exhausted of its natural fertility.

It is certainly one of the most extensive fertile tracts, in an almost level position, and suitable condition for pleasant farming, that we know of this side of the Western prairies. We found some of the oldest farms apparently just as profitably productive as when first cleared of forest fifty or a hundred years ago.

The geologist would soon discover the cause of this continued fertility. The whole country is a marine deposit, and all through the soil we found evidence of calcareous substances, generally in the form of indurated calcareous marl, showing many distinct forms of ancient shells, of the tertiary formation; and this marly substance is scattered all through the soil, in a very comminuted form, and the most excellent condition most easily assimilated by such plants as the former desires to cultivate.
