WHAT IS VEGETINE?

It is a compound extracted from barks, roots and herbs. It is Nature's Remedy. It is perfectly harmless from any bad effect upon the system. It is nourishing and strengthening. It acts directly upon the blood. It purifies the nervous system. It gives you good sweet sleep at night. It is a panacea for our aged fathers and mothers, for it gives them strength, quiets their nerves, and gives them Nature's sweet sleep,—as has been proved by many an aged person. It is the great Blood Purifier. It is a soothing remedy for our children. It has relieved and cured thousands. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it. It relieves and cures all diseases originating from impure blood. Try the VEGETINE. Give it a fair trial for your complaints; then you will say to your friend, neighbor and acquaintance, "Try it; it has cured me."

RELIABLE EVIDENCE.

The following unsolicited testimonial from Rev. O. T. Walker, formerly pastor of Bowdoin Square Church Boston, and at present settled in Providence, R. I., must be deemed as reliable evidence. No one should fail to observe that this testimonial is the result of two years experience with the use of VEGETINE in the Rev. Mr. Walker's family, who now pronounce it invaluable.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., 164 Transit Street.
H. R. STEVENS, Esq.:

I feel bound to express with my signature the high value I place upon your VEGETINE. My family have used it for the last two years. In nervous debility it is invaluable, and I recommend it to all who may need an invigorating tonic. O. T. WALKER.
Formerly Pastor of Bowdoin Square Church, Boston.

THE BEST EVIDENCE.

The following letter from R. S. Best, Pastor of the M. E. Church, Natick, Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians; also those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of the Rev. R. S. Best. No person can doubt this testimony, as there is no doubt about the curative power of VEGETINE.

NATICK, MASS., Jan. 1st 1873.
MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—We have good reason for regarding your VEGETINE a medicine of the greatest value. We feel assured that it has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age: for the last two years he has suffered from necrosis of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so far reduced that nearly all who saw him thought his recovery impossible. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his ever rallying: two of the number declaring that he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that even amputation could not save him as he had not vigor enough to endure the operation. Just then we commenced giving him VEGETINE and from that time to the present he has been continuously improving. He has lately resumed studies, thrown away his crutches and cane, and walks about cheerfully and strong.

Though there is still some discharge from the opening where his limb was lanced, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be perfectly cured.

He has taken about three dozen bottles of VEGETINE, but lately uses but little, as he declares he is too well to be taking medicine.

Respectfully yours,
E. S. BEST.
MRS L. C. F. BEST.

A TERRIBLE SITUATION.—A farmer, Horace Minner, recently, was chopping in the woods near Waymart, ten miles from Honesdale. At noon his wife carried his dinner to him. He was engaged in felling a tree when she arrived at the spot, and she stood near waiting for him to get through. She had in her arms a child a few months old. The tree in falling lurched towards Mrs. Minner, and before she could get out of the way it came crashing upon her, one of the largest branches striking her and pinning both her arms and child to the earth. Minner ran to the spot. He could not see his child but his wife was lying with her face turned up gasping in death. Minner at once set to work to extricate his wife and child from that terrible position. The branch of the tree lay across Mrs. Minner, and the child was beneath the mother. The husband, to extricate the wife and child, was compelled to cut away the branch, which was seven inches through, and before he had finished his task he saw his wife die before his eyes. He removed the body from beneath the tree and found his child crushed to death, having been crushed deep into the ground. The husband, almost frantic, took both bodies in his arms and carried them a mile through the woods to his home.

Declaration of Independence.

A correspondent from Chester county writes as follows: "Our hotel stands upon the very ground where the army of General Washington was encamped after the battle of Brandywine, September 11, 1777. Within a stone's throw is the old stone house, once occupied by John Morton, one of Pennsylvania's nine signers of the declaration of independence, one hundred years ago. The house is remarkably well preserved, and is well worthy of a visit from those who venerate the men of 1776. One fact connected with the life of John Morton deserves special mention at this time. He was a plain, practical man, of great decision and the purest integrity. At the time when the declaration was before congress for its action, the vote upon it was taken first in the committee of the whole, July 1, 1776, and all the states voted in the affirmative except Pennsylvania and Delaware, the vote of Delaware being a tie, and of Pennsylvania standing four to three against the declaration—Morton being one of the three. On the 4th the declaration came before the body for final action. Again the states voted yea, as before, and Delaware joined them, a third member—Rodney—who before was absent having come riding, whip and spur, eighty miles, through marsh and swamp, that he might cast an affirmative vote.

Lastly Pennsylvania was called for her vote. But five of her members were present. Two, Morris and Dickinson, were absent at the roll-call. They had voted in the negative before. Whether they were conveniently absent does not appear. One even of the five is temporarily absent. That one was John Morton. The vote would have been a tie and Pennsylvania would have stood alone in the negative and the vote been instantly taken, but John Hancock, perceiving the situation, by a little strategy, delayed the vote by addressing the house on some minor parliamentary point, until he saw the hall door open and John Morton enter. Then the call of the roll proceeded. Franklin voted aye, Willing nay, Wilson, aye, Humphreys, nay—a tie vote as yet; all eyes turned upon John Morton. His name is called, and as his honest and hearty aye sounded through the old hall of independence, it gave him an undying fame, and settled the unanimity of the colonies in favor of the grand old declaration.

"The declaration, passed on the 4th of July, was not signed until a month later. Willing and Humphrey, who voted against it, never signed it. Dickinson, who was absent at roll call and who voted against it in committee of the whole, and was absent at the final vote, nevertheless gave it his signature. Five other men who were appointed to congress, after the declaration was passed, and therefore never voted for it, yet signed it. But three of the nine Pennsylvania signers of the declaration voted for that immortal measure, and those three were: Benjamin Franklin, James Wilson, and John Morton."

WHAT WOULD FOLLOW.—Tilden's triumph would be the triumph of wrong over right, of injustice over justice, of ignorance and vice over intelligence and virtue.

It would set civilization back at least a half century.

It would destroy our credit at home and abroad.

It would drag the nation to early bankruptcy, through repudiation.

It would invite disorder, and be followed by roit, and probably by civil war.

It would crush out the germ of loyalty in the South and hinder its growth and development in the North.

It would restore power to those who betrayed the nation and tried to destroy, it, and would hand over to the tender mercies of its enemies a Republic that lives to-day because of the sacrifices of its loyal citizens in its defense.

It would be an act of national suicide to allow Democracy to win, such as the history of the world never recorded.

Is it possible that an intelligent man, with the history of the Democratic party before him, and a knowledge of the material which gives it strength, can support Democracy in the approaching election? God forbid! It would indicate a degree of political ingratitude which we are not willing to believe can be found among the friends of the nation.

Is Your Hair Falling Out

OR TURNING GRAY!

If So Do Not Fail To Use

LONDON HAIR COLOR RESTORER.

The Great Reputation

Which it has attained and the large number of testimonials which are constantly being received are conclusive proof of its great value.

Proof Positive—A New Suit of Hair, Natural Color and Beauty Restored.

Dr. Swayne & Son—Some six years ago, I began to loose my hair, and continued to do so until the scalp became so bare as the palm of my hand, troubled also with a disagreeable feeling, great heat and dandruff, small pimples would form, quite sore to the touch, and the remaining portion of the hair, on the side and back of the head, became quite gray. After using a number of Restoratives, (so called), without success, and my head nearly destitute of hair, I reluctantly commenced using the

"London Hair Color Restorer and Dressing."

Now, through its use, quality and justice compel me to say to all the 6 new young and beautiful growth of hair, completely restored to its original dark and glossy appearance, and I venture the assertion, the world furnishes no preparation equal to this; and I do consider it duty to all who are gray or bald, their age and years or ailing, to use this remedy and delightful preparation at once.

ISAAC H. HARRIS,
Gunner, U. S. N., 329 Locust street, Phila.

Dr. Swayne of Philadelphia says of it: "The London Hair Color Restorer" is a preparation every person should possess who is gray or bald, and I do recommend it to all my patients and friends, as well as by myself; I have used it in my own experience.
