Three Points for Consideration.

During the past five years the Vegetine has been steadily working itself into public favor, and those who were at first most incredulous in regard to its merits are now its most ardent friends and supporters.

There are three essential causes for those having such a horror of patent medicines, changing their opinion and leading their influence toward the advancement of Vegetine. 1st—It is an honestly-prepared medicine from barks, roots and herbs. 2d—It honestly accomplishes all that is claimed for it, without leaving any bad effects in the system. 3d—It presents honest vouchers in testimonials from honest, well-known citizens, whose signatures are a sufficient guarantee of their genuineness to the matter. Taking into consideration the vast quantity of medicine brought conspicuously before the public through the flaming advertisements in the newspapers columns, with no proof of merit or genuine vouchers of what it has done, we should be pardoned for manifesting a guilt degree of pride in presenting the following testimonial from Rev. J. S. DICKERSON, D. D., the popular and ever-genial pastor of the South Baptist Church, Boston:

The Tired Body Sure for Sleep.
BOSTON, March 16, 1874.

H. R. STEVENS, Esq.:
Dear Sir—It is as much from a sense of duty as of gratitude that I write to say that your Vegetine—even if it is a patent medicine—has been of great help to me when nothing else seemed to avail which I could safely use. Either excessive mental work or unusual care brings upon me a nervous exhaustion that despitately needs rest as desperately as I dread it. Night after night the poor, tired body sues for sleep until the day-dawn is welcomed back, and we begin our work tired out with an almost fruitless chase after rest. Now I have found that a little Vegetine taken just before I retire gives me sweet and immediate sleep, and with it a sense of rest all needful for the usual exercises. I think two things would tend to make brain-workers sleep. 1st—A little less work. 2d—A little more Vegetine. This prescription has helped me.

Now I have a particular horror of "patent medicine," but I have a greater horror of being afraid to tell the straight out truth. The Vegetine has helped me, and I own it up.
Yours &c.,
J. S. DICKERSON,

Valuable Evidence.

The following unsolicited testimonial from Rev O. T. Walker, D. D., formerly pastor of Bowdoin Square Church and at present settled in Providence, R. I., must be esteemed as reliable evidence.

No one should fail to observe that this testimonial is the result of two years' experience with the use of Vegetine in the Rev. Mr. Walker's family, who now pronounces it invaluable:

PROVIDENCE, R. I., 164 Transit Street.
H. R. STEVENS Esq.
I feel bound to express with my signature the high value I place upon your Vegetine. My family have used it for the last two years. In nervous debility it is invaluable, and I recommend it to all who may need an invigorating, renovating tonic.
O. T. WALKER,
Formerly Pastor of Bowdoin Square Church, Boston

The Past Evidence.

The following letter from Rev. E. S. BEST, pastor M. E. Church, Natick, Mass. will be read with interest by many physicians. Also those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of Rev. E. S. Best. No person can doubt this testimony, and there is no doubt about the curative powers of Vegetine:
NATICK, Mass., Jan. 1, 1874.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:
Dear Sir—We have good reason for regarding your Vegetine a medicine of the greatest value. We feel assured that it has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age; for the last five years he has suffered from necrosis of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so far reduced that all who saw him thought his recovery impossible. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his ever rallying, two of the number declaring that he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that even amputation could not save him, as he had not vigor enough to endure the operation. Just then we commenced giving him Vegetine, and from that time to the present he has been continuously improving. He has lately resumed his studies, thrown away crutches and cane, and walks about cheerfully and strong.
Though there is still some discharge from the opening where the limb was lanced, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be perfectly cured.
He has taken about three dozen bottles of Vegetine, but lately uses but little, as he declares that he is too well to be taking medicine.
Respectfully yours,
E. S. BEST,
MRS. L. C. F. BEST,

Reliable Evidence.

178 Baltic Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 14, '74.
H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:
Dear Sir—From personal benefit received by its use as well as from personal knowledge of those whose cures thereby have seem'd almost miraculous, I can most heartily and sincerely recommend the Vegetine for the complaints for which it is claimed to cure.

Working Women in Germany.

I do not know who hitches the women up, but I know that thousands of them are hitched up with dogs and donkeys, drawing loads. I never did see two draft animals pull harder than a tall woman and a large dog, while getting a load of straw up a grade, on one of the principal streets I do know that thousands and thousands of women go about with baskets strapped on their backs,—baskets that hold from two to two and a half bushel; that one will carry a basket full of coal, with another basket as large as a champaign case, on top of it, and that full of chips, or clothing, or anything else. I have many a time seen feeble old women and light young girls with such loads on their backs, trudging, while hale, hearty young fellows walked beside them in friendly chat, ogling women, strutting like turkey-gobblers, and twiddling their thumbs. I have seen women with these monstrous burdens, so loaded that they walked with a cane, and one who had two canes who had literally turned herself into a quadruped, and staggering on under a load for a mule, while a strapping young fellow favored her with friendly recognition. I have seen a woman, with a heavily-loaded cart, taking advantage of a smooth pavement, driven off by a man with a light cart, who ran against her, and, after scolding and swearing, made her draw her cart back, and push it up grade, over the rough pavement to go around him. It was a public street, and perhaps fifty men saw it; but no one seemed to see anything wrong in it.

I only say that once but I have certainly seen 2,000 women drawing or pulling loads that taxed their strength more or less severely. I have seen them, young and blooming girls, seen them with infants in the wagon; seen them old, bent, and gray—toiling, pushing, pulling, sweating, working as only omnibus horses work in Chicago. I see them every day; cannot look out of my window ten minutes or walk two blocks without seeing them—those over-loaded women and their faithful helpmates—the dogs—with their poor, swollen feet are a principal feature of Leipsic life. I saw them first in Belgium; saw them all along the way. The poor dogs! how they do pull and scratch and hold on and their feet get so sore! The patient women throw themselves forward against the broad straps which are the only harness, and drag with might and main. The man who walks beside, if there is one, looks so self complacent and comfortable, and smokes his pipe with so much satisfaction, as if he said: "Ze dare now! —Mine Tog and Frau gan bull more ish any Tog and Frau in dish town!"

Of course, there is love and sweetness in every life, and these women may be happy in their lot; for a squaw is proud of the idleness of her master, and takes her beating as a matter of course. Of course it is a woman's duty to share her husband's toil, and to shrink from no responsibility of wife or motherhood; but it seems to me the women here do a great deal more than their share of the drudgery.—Mrs Swissheim.

What it Costs in Money.

In reference to the cause of 1870, we learn that in that year New York spent $106,590,000 for intoxicating liquors, or more than two fifths of the value of agriculture and nearly two-seventh of all the manufactures, and nearly two thirds of the wages paid for both agriculture and manufactures; the liquor being little less than twice the receipts of her railroads.

The liquor bill of Pennsylvania in 1870 was $65,075,000, which was one third the value of the products of agriculture, nearly one-tenth of her manufacturers, more than two-fifth of the wages paid, and about three fourths of the receipts of her railroads, though there are more miles of railroads in Pennsylvania than in any other State in the Union.

The liquor bill in Illinois the same year, was $42,825,000, or more than one fifth the value of the products of agriculture, a little less than one fourth of her manufactures, about ten million dollars less than the aggregate wages paid for all the agricultural and manufacturing industries in the State, and only about eleven million dollars less than the annual receipts of her railroads.

This year, furthermore, Ohio paid for liquors $58,845,000, which was more than one-fourth of the value of her products of agriculture, and more than one fifth the value of her manufactures; while it was only a little more than six million dollars less than all the wages paid for labor, and as much nearly as the receipts of all the railroads in the State.

The liquor bill of Massachusetts was $25,195,000, being five-sixths, of the value of her products of agriculture, one twenty-second of the manufactures, and not one-fifth of the amount of wages paid.

In Maine, liquors cost, for the same period, only $5,215,000, or less than one-eighth of the value of the products of agriculture, less than one sixteenth the value of the manufactures, and only two-sevenths of the wages paid in the State.

Is it possible for any State or nation to long prosper or exist whose people spend for demoralizing drinks so large a proportion of their products of industry? The people who practice such irrational political economy will eventually sink into decay, and leave a mass of mouldering ruins as monuments of the egregious folly of allowing or licensing a traffic that produces as legitimate fruits idleness, poverty, crime, disease and death.—Golden Rule.
