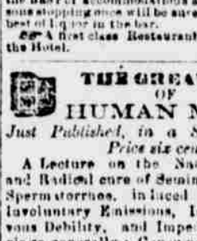
Ayer's
Hair Vigor,
For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.



A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

WANTED A TESTIMONIAL.—They had a quarrel on Sunday evening.—He got mad and swore he'd leave her.—Then she got vexed, and told him he could do as he pleased. He left. The next night he came around again. He asked to see her alone. She readily complied. She was all of a tremor. Her heart went out to him in a gush of sympathetic love. She stood ready to throw both arms about his neck and cry out her joy. There was not much color in his face, and his voice was husky. He said:

"I have been with you six months, Matilda, and I tried in all that time to do what was right." He paused an instant to recover his voice which was faltering rapidly, while her trembling increased.—"I know that I have got considerable temper that I do not control it always as I ought. But I have tried to be faithful to you, tried to do something that I thought would tend to make you happy. And feeling this I have called to-night to see if you wouldn't be kind enough to give me some sort of a testimonial to this effect, so that I could show it to any other young lady I might want to go with. It might help me."

He looked at her anxiously. All the color left her face like a flash. She made a great effort to swallow something which threatened to suffocate her. Then she spoke.

"You get out of this house as quick as you can, you miserable whelp, or my father shall kick you out."

"He didn't toy with time. He left without the testimonial.—Danbury News.

JAMES LICK'S OLD FLOUR MILL.—One of the late James Lick's most profitable investments in California was an old flour mill in Santa Clara. It did not cost much, and at first was of little use or profit to its owner. He used to go up at daylight, breakfast sparingly, and trudge off to Santa Clara with a lunch of doughnuts in his pocket prepared by his landlady. Returning in the evening he would retire after supper to his own room, which no one ever entered but the person who kept it in order, and not to emerge until next morning when the routine of the day before was renewed. How he amused himself in his privacy no one knew and no one cared to inquire. Subsequently he built a magnificent mill on the site of the Santa Clara mill. He is said to have spent upon it at different times an aggregate of $400,000, though the exact amount can never be known. He finished it in the most elegant manner, the office, staircases, floors and even the hoppers being of mahogany. But the flour made there was of a superior quality—like everything else that Mr Lick had anything to do with—and commanded a dollar or two more per barrel than that which came from other millers. He selected his wheat carefully and always paid a high price for it. "Lick's flour" was known far and wide upon the Pacific coast, and the demand for it, became very general. Mr. Lick was very proud of his mill, and finally gave it to the Tom Paine Society of Boston, by whom it was forced into the market at $18,000. The owner was highly indignant at the sacrifice and eschewed the society thenceforth.

A Railroad Incident.

Not long ago an engineer brought his engine to a stand at a little Massachusetts village where the passengers have five minutes for lunch. A lady came along the platform and said: "The conductor tells me the train at the junction in P. leaves fifteen minutes before our arrival. It is Saturday night; that is the last train. I have a very sick child in the car, and no money for a hotel, and none for a private conveyance a long, long way into the country. What shall I do?'

'Well' said the engineer, 'I wish I could tell you

"Would it be possible for you to hurry a little?' said the anxious, fearful mother.

"No, madam, I have the time table, and the rules say I must run by it'

She turned sorrowfully away, leaving the bronze face of the engineer wet with tears. Presently she returned and said: 'Are you a Christian?'

"I trust I am,' was the reply.

"Will you pray with me that the Lord may in some way delay the train at the junction?'

'Why, yes, I will pray with you, but I have not much faith.'

"Somhow,' said the engineer, 'everything worked like a charm. As I prayed, I couldn't help letting my engine out just a little. We hardly stopped at the first station, people got on and off with wonderful alacrity, the conductor's lantern was in the air in a half minute, and then away again. Once over the summit it was dreadful easy to give her a little more, as I prayed, till she seemed to shoot throught the air like an arrow. Somehow I couldn't hold her, knowing I had the road, and so we dashed up to the station six minutes ahead of time.'

Is Your Hair Falling Out

OR TURNING GRAY!

If So Do Not Fail To Use
LONDON HAIR COLOR RESTORER.

The Great Reputation

Which it has attained and the large number of testimonials which are constantly being received are conclusive proof of its great value.

Proof Positive—A New Suit of Hair. Natural Color and Beauty Restored.

Dr. Swayne & Son—Some six years ago, I began to loose my hair, and continued to do so until the scalp became as bare as the palm of my hand, troubled also with a disagreeable itching fever, great heat and dandruff, small pustules would form, quite sore to the touch, and the remaining portion of the hair, on the side and back of the head, became quite gray. After using a number of Restoratives, (so called), without success, and my head nearly destitute of hair, I reluctantly commenced using the

"London Hair Color Restorer and Dressing."

Now, through its use, candor and justice compel me to say to all the I now possess a new and beautiful growth of hair, completely restored to its original dark and glossy appearance, and I venture the assertion, the world furnishes no preparation equal to this; and I do conscientiously say to all who are gray or bald, hairdry and harsh or falling, to use at once this cleanly and delightfully perfumed article.
