E B. TAYLOR, Superintendent.

Lent, this year, begins on St. Valentine's Day and Easter on the first of April—All Fool's Day.

Elections for City, Ward, Borough and Township Officers, for regular terms of service, are held on the third Tuesday of February, in each year, which, this year, will be on the 20th inst.

The bondholders of the Sunbury and Lewistown Railroad Company are notified by Mr. Josiah Hart to come forward and receive their prorata distribution of the proceeds of the sale of the road.

Large quantities of grain and pork are being shipped from this and neighboring counties to eastern markets. An advance in prices has given a decided impetus to the grain trade.

A petition has been presented to the House of Representatives praying for an amendment to the game laws that will prevent hunting and fishing for ten years.

Mrs. Catharine Haywood, of this place, who has the dropsy, had taken from her five and one-half gallons of water a few days ago, by Doctors Moody of Sunbury and Priestly of Northumberland.—[Sunbury Democrat.

FIRE.—On the 25th inst, about sundown, Michael Ewig's barn, in Adams township, near Troxelville, was burned and with it all his hay, straw, two year's wheat crop, two cows, three heifers, Horse gears and lot of farming implements. A mere nominal insurance was on the building. The origin of the fire is a mistery.

Haines & Snyder are making extensive preparations for the Spring trade, and have on hand the largest and best selected lot of seasoned lumber ever offered to the people of Snyder county. They are prepared to furnish, at short notice, every kind of building timber, Doors, Shutters, Blinds, Sash, &c. In workmanship and prices they defy competition. Give them a call before purchasing elsewhere.

An unoccupied house on the Isle of Que, belonging to Mr. McCarty, was discovered to be on fire at a quarter past 1 o'clock on Tuesday night. The engine was got to the place, but of course only to add to the display, as it always has done and always will do. The house was an ordinary frame building and was insured in the Ætna for $800. That the fire was incendiary can scarcely be doubted.—Times.

Under a recent ruling of the Attorney General, restaurant keepers are only required to pay $12 license per year instead of $50, as they have heretofore been doing under the new license law. Fifty dollars is the license paid by hotels. The attention of the Attorney General was called to the alleged injustice of charging the restaurants the same and he examined into the liquor statutes, and, rendered the decision as stated.

The Bloomsburg Columbian says: Jno. Seybert is at present in jail here charged with stealing horses, mules, hogs and other property, and also with killing the above mentioned animals. It is reported that no less than fifteen tails of horses were found under Seybert's barn. He is also accused of selling the flesh of these butchered horses and mules under the names of venison and dried beef. Pleasant for lovers of beef and deer.

On Sunday last a week says the Bloomfield Times, Mr. David Spotts, of Newport, found a scratch on the neck of his child.—Further investigation developed the fact that a long needle lay under the skin on the shoulder with the point projecting enough to make the scratch as the child turned its head. The needle lay full length in view under the skin, except the point, but how it come there or how long it had been in the child in a question not easily answered.

An exchange says that under the decision of the Attorney-General of Pennsylvania—that the assessors elected at the Spring election in 1876, in the various townships, wards and boroughs throughout the State, continue in office until the first Monday in April, 1878—there will be no assessors chosen at the February election, this year. In 1878 assessors will be chosen whose term of service will commence on the first Monday in April of that year, 1879, and each year thereafter the election of assessors will take place and expire in this way.

Entry thieves abound and owners of hats cloaks, overcoats and umbrellas, will do well to see to it that their front doors are kept securely fastened. These are distressing times and many persons are sorely pinched by want. Hunger and cold assail them, and under such circumstances conscience is not likely to be as tender as when the wants of a body are less pressing. Hence it is that so many petty thefts are perpetrated in seasons like the present, and hence too the necessity for grater than usual precaution on the part of those who would protect personal property.

Weis & Oppenheimer's Branch Store at Middleburg. Five years in business at Selinsgrove and 1000 citizens of the east end of the county bear testimony of their integrity, and the Low Price of Goods.

That they sell goods cheaper than ever before offered in this county can not be disputed.

Every article is as it is represented.

They only ask a small profit.

Every customer is dealt with so that he will come back again.

They are permanently located, and established among the permanent business wants of our country and hence they guard their integrity and business interests with a jealous eye to the poor who are out of employment this stage of the season, midwinter is particularly trying. We should be careful therefore not to close the door against all wanderers as undeserving tramps.

ASSAULTING TRAMPS.—The Democrat and Register details the villainous conduct of a couple of tramps, who a few days ago called at the residence of Judge Oles, in Beale township, Juniata county, and demanded that he should sell them a horse. The Judge declined, upon the ground that he had no more than were necessary for his own use. They left, but again entered the house, and drawing a revolver, repeated their demand. Failing to frighten the Judge, one of them stepped up to him and struck him on the head with a "billy." A cry for help was raised, but before assistance arrived the scamps had made good their escape.

Never deceive for the sake of a foolish jest, or to excite the laughter of a few companions at the expense of a friend. Be anxious, when you relate anything, to tell it just as it occurred. Never vary in the least degree. The reason why our ears are so often saluted by false reports is because people, in telling real things, add a little to them, and as they pass through a dozen mouths, the original stories are turned into something entirely different. So when you attempt to tell anything that you have seen with your own eyes, relate it correctly in every particular, and as you grow older you will reap the advantages of this course.

The late snows have done great harm to the birds, and those who take an interest in shooting them during the proper season should direct their attention to the preservation of such as have not already perished. This can be done at the expenses only of a little trouble in scatter ng small seeds where the birds can find them and feed upon them. This is a critical moment for them, and unless they are cared for will undoubtedly die of hunger. It is only a trifling care to bestow upon them, and besides it will bring its return when the shooting season comes round again. Lovers of game should also be lovers of its preservation.

☞ The New York Family Story Paper, published by N. L. Munro & Co., is an excellent weekly for fireside reading containing poetry, stories, engravings, and a large variety of miscellaneous reading. Instead of presenting its patrons with cheap chromos, the publishers are printing the works of Shakespeare in a serial of quarto size, a portion of which will be presented to every subscriber each week, until the book is completed.—This gift alone is worth more than the cost of the paper. It also offers an excellent opportunity to the student for reading Shakespeare by installments. The price of the Family Story Paper is $3 per annum. Address as above, to No 74 Beekman street.

FROZEN BITS.—Let any one who has the care of a horse these cold, frosty mornings deliberately grasp in his hand a piece of iron; indeed, let him touch to it the tip of his tongue, and then let him thrust the bit into the mouth of his horse, if he has the heart to do it. The horse is an animal of nervous organization. The mouth is formed of delicate glands and tissues. The temperature of the blood is the same as in the human being, and, as in man, the mouth is the warmest part of the body. Imagine, we repeat, the irritation that would be raised in the human, and consider that, if not to the same degree, still the suffering to the animal is very great. And it is not a momentary pain. Food is eaten with difficulty, and the irritation repeated day after day causes loss of appetite and loss of strength. Many a horse has become worthless from no other cause than this. Before India rubber bits were to be had I myself cast a bit covered with leather, and on no account would have dispensed with it in freezing weather.—Ex.

SPEAKER & CROSS, Free Agents, take the privilege of referring the people of Snyder county, to Mr. John Steininger of Franklin township, and his immediate neighbors who have bearing orchards of the choicest fruit furnished by Speaker from one of the best Nurseries in the United States. Speaker has no superior as a Tree Agent and thoroughly understands fruit growing—he will not offer fruit trees which are not adapted to our soil and climate—his terms are more liberal than usually offered—the nursery he represents is one of the largest, and guard their reputation jealously and therefore do not put into market anything but first class trees.

If you plant trees, plant good fruit so that if they live after you, you and the trees will be judged by their fruits, and they will stand as monuments of your spirit of enterprise and usefulness long after you have passed away. The country School-boy with a huge grin and triumphant smile will flourish that big red apple and declare that his grandfather planted the tree that bore it.

Very Useful to Every One.

In no other way can a person get back so large a profit for a very little money, as to eXpend it in learning what to do, when to do it, and how to do it—in other words, to have his brain help his hands. Here is one way to do this: The small saving or eXtra production of less than half a cent a day, or 3 cents aweek, will now procure a large, beautiful, cheap Journal, for all of 1877, splendidly illustrated, with over 600 fine original Engravings, and over a Thousand Columns of the very best, plan, practical, tru-tworthy information about the every day indoor and out door work and comfort of every home, in Country, Village, and City. This information is not prepared by mere scribblers, but by a large force of intelligent working men and women, who know what they write about, and they are assisted by many others, who furnish information from their own practice and observation. Such a Journal is the American Agriculturist, so named because started 35 years ago as a rural journal, but since greatly enlarged and improved to suit the daily wants of every man, woman and child, in Out, Quaint and Village—for the Farmer and Gardener, the Merchant and Mechanic the Professional Man—Indeed, all classes. It is packed full of useful information that every one ought to have. Many single such suggestions will repay more than a whole year's cost of the paper. Its original engraved plans for buildings and improvements, with details of cost, etc., and so common sense directions, are worth far more than a majority of the costly works on architecture. Every article is exhausted to have every line in the paper reliable. Its constant, persistent, and full exposure of a multitude of Humbugs and swindles, are alone worth far more than its cost, and have saved to its readers and to the country millions of dollars that would have gone into the hands of sharpers. The Departments for Housekeepers and Children are very useful and entertaining. In short, the AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST is full of good things, and ought to be in every home in the land. The circulation is so large that the Publishers can supply it at a little above the cost of the printing paper—for $1.50 a year, sent postpaid; or four copies $5.00. Take our advice and send your subscription for 1877 (Vol. 35) to ORANGE JUDD COMPANY, 245 Broadway, New York. You will not pay, and pay well.

All coming FRUIT FARMS, especially adapted to the growth of the VINE, have it in an established vineyard of over 1,000 BEARING VINES. The land is also adapted to the growth of Peaches, Pears, Apples and small fruits; as to Grain, Grass, and Vegetables.

Many hundred excellent VINEYARDS, Orchards and FARMS are now to be seen.

THIS LOCATION is only 30 miles south of Philadelphia, by Railroad, in a mild, delightful climate and the nearest to the markets of the New York and Philadelphia Markets. An other Railroad runs direct to New York.

THE PLACE is already large, successful and prosperous. Churches, schools and all the privileges are already established. Also manufactories of shoes, Clothing Office, Stove Works and other things, at which the best markets of the country can procure employment.

It has been a HEALTHY location for many years past for people suffering from pulmonary affections, Asthma, Catarrh, Ague, and debility, it seems the sounds have entirely recovered.

A new Brick Hotel has just been completed, 100 feet front, with fine outbuildings, four stories high, including 3 roads to roof, and all modern improvements for the accommodation of visitors.

PRICE OF FARM LANDS $250 per Acre, payable by best climate within the reach of bear years. In this view the purchaser of a few acres of land will soon find fully as much as 10 acres further north.

Persons contemplating with Fruit Culture, can become familiar with it in a short time on account of surroundings.

Five Acres, One Acre, and Town Lots in the towns of Lewisville and Vineland, also for sale.

Also visiting the Centennial Exhibition, Vineland can be visited at a small expense.

A paper containing full information will be sent upon application to ANDREW K. LEWIS, Vineland, N. J., free of cost.

The following is an extract from a description of Vineland, published in the New York Tribune, by the well known Agricultural Editor, Solon Robinson:

All the farmers were of the "well to do" sort, and one of them, who have since their attention to fruit is not surpassed anywhere in this rich. The soil is clean, ranging from sandy to clayey, and arises gently as to let it intersected with small streams and occasional wet meadows, in which deposits of peat or muck are stored, sufficient to fertilize the whole surface after it has been exhausted by the natural fertility.

It is certainly one of the most extensive tracts, in an almost level position, and suitable condition of growth for miles. I do not wonder at friends of the Western prairies, refusing to see the other farm go really out of friends of the Western prairies, refusing to see the other farm go really out of friends of the Western prairies, refusing to see the other farm go really out of
