CENTREVILLE HOTEL. G. W. GRANELLO LEVI KELLER. CENTENNIAL CENTENNIAL

The Post.

Middleburg, Feb. 8, 1877.

J. CROUSE, Editor & Proprietor.

THE Dem. Congressional Committee will report that Hayes carried South Carolina and Tilden Florida.

A RESOLUTION approving the Electoral Count Bill was voted down, and one declaring Hayes elected adopted by the Pa. House of Representatives.

SENATOR CONKLING declares his belief that Gov. Hayes was fairly elected, and yet, supports a measure which gives him only an equal chance of being inaugurated.

WILLIAM M. EVARTS will conduct the Republican case before the Congressional Commission. Hon. Stanley Matthews of Cincinnati will be one of his assistants.

THE Huntingdon Journal advocates the passage of a stay law by the legislature. Eight business houses were closed by the Sheriff in the borough of Huntingdon recently.

THE President is decidedly of the opinion that the resumption of specie payment can be effected on the first of March next. He is expected to send a special message to Congress this week embodying his views, and recommending some amendments to the resumption act, to aid in the desired result.

MR. LYNCH, member of Congress from Mississippi, testified before the Congressional Committee, that he believed that there would have been a majority of twenty thousand in their State for Hayes, if the election had been fairly conducted. And yet Mississippi was made to return more than sixty thousand for Tilden, and this is part of the grand popular majority of a quarter of a million, which the Democracy insanely think was cast for them at the late election.

WAR PROMISES IN EUROPE.—Turkey positively refuses to accede to the demand made upon her by the other great European powers, and there will now have to be some direct backing down, or war is inevitable. The general opinion now is that Spring will witness the opening of a great war that will determine whether Turkey shall continue a hold on Europe or retire to Asia England will give Turkey no further support, and Bismark is said to have made some strong declarations, and when he speaks he means as nothing.

THE Electoral Commission to settle the Presidential question is now complete, and is now in session, having under consideration the vote of Florida. The following are the members selected: Senators, Geo F. Edmonds, R., F T. Frelinghuysen R., O P. Morton R., A. G. Thurman D., T. F. Bayard, D.; Representatives, J. A. Garfield, R., Geo F. Hoar, R., H. B. Payne, D., J. G. Abbott, D., E Hunton, D.; Judges, N. Clifford, D., S. F. Miller, R., S. J Field, D., W. Strong, R., J. P Bradley, R.

SINCE the Democrats have come into power in Congress, the galleries are pretty generally well filled with friends of the "lost cause," who loudly applaud whenever a Democratic Congressman, as is frequently done, says something that meets their approbation Randall, the Speaker, never rebuked this indecency until he was made to smart under a mild castigation for his neglect of duty from Judge Hoar, the other day. It would be wise to keep the "rebel yell" out of the legislative hall for a while yet.—Lebanon Courier.

THE MARRIAGE LICENSE LAW.—The Presbyterian Banner, a religious journal, has these comments to make on a proposed law, which will be read with interest: "We hope clergymen and others in different parts of the State will take an interest in this matter, that the people may be protected from the class of clergymen always ready to "marry" persons who may present themselves without any respect to age or the claims of parents and guardians; and that ministers who refuse to act obediently to the law of the State, and not outrage parental feelings, may be saved from the impositions so often practiced upon them by parties seeking to be married. Our lawmakers at Harrisburg will do good service to the public by enacting a carefully prepared law of the kind indicated. In addition to the considerations already given, such a law would be of great advantage in preserving accurate record of marriages. During and after the war many widows were subjected to great inconveniences in obtaining pensions, owing to the difficulty of procuring marriage records."

CRUELTY TO CHILDREN.—The secretary of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, in his report for the last year, says the agents of the society have prosecuted one hundred and ninety seven persons in New York city for brutality to children, besides interfering in less positive ways in many other cases—one hundred and twenty-three children have been taken during the year from the custody of cruel parents or guardians and placed in private or public institutions. This is one which appeals strongly to the public in all parts of the country where similar societies ought to exist.

Special Correspondence.

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Jan. 31, 1877.

The Electoral bill was yesterday returned to the Senate by the President signed, accompanied by a message, giving as his chief reasons for signing the bill, the perils threatening our institutions from the doubts entertained as to his legally chosen successor. He further says that the importance of settling all these doubts in such a way as as to secure general acquiescence cannot be over estimated: that the President of the Senate has almost uniformly counted the vote except in cases of doubt or dispute when the two Houses of Congress have participated, without essentially changing the result by such interference: that in such a case as that now existing, it is the highest duty and constitutional right of the law making power to provide a method for executing the organic law, and that in doing so, it is not a compromise of right, but its enforcement. In concluding he expresses the hope that Congress will have rendered the reassurance of the present complications impossible by appropriate legislation before another election. At the Republican Senatorial caucus to select representatives of the party on the arbitration Commission. Republicans, who labored for the passage of the bill deemed it incumbent upon them to state their belief that the interests of their party demanded that the legal election of Governor Hayes (of which they entertained no doubt) should be freed of every suspicion of a doubt and that the plan agreed to would accomplish that purpose. It is written that 'the hopes of the wicked shall perish,' and every participant in the cause felt that Senator Morton's selection as a member of the commission, simply justified the prediction of the inspired writer; for the Democratic leaders have left no stone unturned to defeat his appointment, not because Conkling would labor less faithfully in Governor Hayes interest, but because the defeat of Morton under the circumstances would, they reasoned, be construed by dissenting Republicans as a deliberate insult to those who with him, opposed the bill; and thus the disintegration which has been constantly announced for sixteen years, would at last have been accomplished. The other members on the part of the senate, Edmunds and Frelinghuysen and also those of the House Garfield and Hoar are all very satisfactory to Republicans generally The same tactics were resorted to in the case of General Garfield and were equally futile. Bayard and Thurman confess ally two of the most able and sufficiently Bourbonistic in their tendencies to make them acceptable, were chosen by acclamation in the caucus of Democratic Senators; and after a caucus of more than four hours duration Payne, Hunton ann Abbott were chosen by the Democrats of the lower House.

The contest was long between Abbott and Fernando Wood, and the latter only ceased his efforts through sheer exhaustion. With the exception of Hunton and Abbott the Commission is regarded as very able; and now public interest is centred on the choice of the fifth Judge His name will probably be announced to-night, and we have only one more week of suspense. There is no question but that Hayes is the coming man in the opinion of the public as heard about the Capitol, hotels and other places of resort, many Democrats seen publicly expressing themselves to that effect. Everything else, political and social has been swallowed up in the absorbing matter of the Presidency; and as we near the critical hour, the suppressed excitement occasionally manifests itself in heated debates and otherwise.

Society has shaken itself free of the lethargy that has made the present season an exceptionally barren of interest, and stimulated by a few gallantarosic leaders has taken up the work of relieving some of the destitution and misery here at the seat of Government.

Entertainments of various kinds have been devised, to aid the churches, school, and organized relief associations, all working earnestly in behalf of the perishing hundreds whose appeals are heard on every hand. A bill appropriating $20,000 for the same purpose has passed the House and will go through the Senate shortly.

It is predicted that the series Inhes here in the interests of the Southern Pacific railroad will make a determined assault upon Congress as soon as the Presidential matter is settled; and the terms is probably true of the paid advocates of other monopolies, waiting a favorable opening to urge their schemes of subsidy.

It is thought that the ice will pass from the Susquehanna river without doing much damage.
