We shall at least have a rest on the sleighing upsets and coasting accidents for a short time.

Mr. Jno. Pawling of East Milton, Union Co., is a capital farmer, has lots of friends and is one of our best paying subscribers.

Spots upon the Sun do not visibly diminish its brilliancy, but spots, pimples or blotches upon the face, neck or arms seriously detract from female beauty They may, however, be completely removed by the daily use of Glenn's Sulphur Soap. Depot, Crittenton's 76th Ave., N. Y. Hill's Hair & Whisker Dye, black or brown, 50cts.

At a literary society held in a township not far distant a couple of weeks ago, the following question was debated: "Resolved, That a married is preferable to a single life.' But one married man could be found who took the negative, and he was seen walking around the next day with his arm in a sling, a potato over one of his eyes, and having the general appearance of a man who had slept in a hay mow over night. He says that no earthly consideration will ever induce him to take the same side of that issue again.

HOUSE RENTS.—The season of anxiety, expectations, speculations, etc., among housekeepers and business men who are not property owners in regard to the possible rise or fall in the price of rents for the coming year, has now set in, and everybody is desirous of hearing all they can in the matter. Opinions are much divided on the subject; while housekeepers, generally, think rents must come down, as in the present hard times people are not able to pay them as they stand at present, the property owners and landlords say that rents are so low now that they do not begin to realize even the interest on the money invested in the houses, and it is, therefore, impossible for them to ask less than they are receiving now.

WATCH THE CHILDREN.—The following advice from the New York Evening Post is very important. Let every mother remember it: Life long discomfort and sudden death often come to children through the inattention or carelessness of the parents. A child should never be allowed to go to sleep with cold feet; the thing to be last attended to is to see that the feet are warm and dry. Neglect of this has often lead to a dangerous attack of croup, diphtheria, or a fatal sore throat. Always on coming from school, on entering the house from a visit or errand in rainy, muddy or thawy weather, the child should remove its shoes; and the mother should herself ascertain whether the stockings are the least damp. If they are, they should be taken off, the feet held before the fire and rubbed with the hands till perfectly dry, and another pair of stockings, and another pair of shoes put on. The reserve shoes and stockings should be kept where they are good and dry so as to be ready for use in a minute's notice.

ENGLISH SPARROWS!—Henry Ruth, residing on South Fourth street, Reading, stated to a reporter that when the English sparrows first made their appearance in that city he erected boxes on his premises for their accommodation, and his family fed them in winter. He thought they would prove very useful in destroying insects that injure fruit and fruit trees. His observation has changed his opinion of the little birds. He has torn down the box and now stones the sparrows whenever they come upon his premises. He says that he has noticed the birds picking the buds or embryo peaches out of the blossoms on peach trees, and that they have picked the buds off other trees, so that they did not bear any fruit. Last year he had no currants, and he charges the sparrows with picking out the eyes of the bushes. He has no doubt they destroy the buds of grape vines, and he is convinced that the little sparrows do a great deal of harm and very little good; and he thinks it was a great mistake to import them.

The Illustrated Annual of Phrenology and the Health Almanac, for 1877, have been combined and are issued as one publication at the low price of ten cents, which certainly does not more than pay the cost of production. The contents include much that is interesting and important. Besides the monthly calendars and the usual astronomical calculations, there are seasonable suggestions for each month in the year in regard to diet and care of health. We have, also, notes and articles on 'Principles of Phrenology;' 'Self-Study and Development of Character;' 'American Women Journalists,' with five portraits; 'Acquisitiveness—How to Train It;' 'Mental Science;' 'A Primitive East India Tribe,' illustrated; an illustrated article on 'The Cultivation of Flowers;' James Russell Lowell, with portrait; 'Colds and their treatment;' 'Principles of Hygiene,' and a choice selection of miscellaneous matter.

It is well printed, with many handsome illustrations, and will be sent by mail, post-paid, to any address, on receipt of ten cents, by S. R. WELLS & CO., Publishers, 737 Broadway, New York.

A MYSTERY EXPLAINED.—The conductor and trainmen of fast line south, says the Patriot, leaving Harrisburg at 4:20 A. M., on the Northern Central railway, were amused at the solution of a mystery a few mornings since. Mr. John Campbell, the polite and courteous messenger of the Adams Express company, received at Harrisburg a corpse in transit to the south. Whilst en route, at intervals, there was heard a sound as if the corpse was kicking the lid off the coffin with the toe of his foot. Messenger Campbell's curiosity becoming aroused, he determined to ascertain the true condition of that occupant, and at once began removing the screws which secured the lid. A few moments sufficed to convince him that the corpse was a dead-head, sure enough, but how to explain that noise was a conundrum. Arriving at York investigation was made, when it was discovered that there was another "deadhead" under that car in the person of a negro lying crosswise over the trucks, who, to keep his feet warm, would bump them against the car floor. Mr. Campbell's belief in spiritualism has since exploded.

QUINSY.—For an attack of quinsy, apply a wet napkin covered with a dry cloth around the neck, rewetting as it becomes dry, until the inflammation subsides. Little food should be eaten for the first day or two after a cold has been contracted. If there be a cough, frequent sips of warm water will have a soothing effect upon the congested membranes of the throat.

Capitol Letter.

HARRISBURG Feb. 2, 1877.

Two new county bills have been reported favorably from committee and are now upon the calendar of the house for action. The one was made for Luzern county alone and if its provisions alone are adopted no other county in the state will be susceptible of division except Philadelphia, and Alegheney. Mr. Roberts bill, permits the formation of new counties simply within the restriction of the constitution—that is leaving 20,000 population in the old and taking the same number in contemplated new county. This was amended in committee so as to compel 50,000 to be left in the old county. It is not probably that either of these bill will pass finally without considerable change from their present provisions and in the contest which they will give rise to there may be a failure to pass any new county bill.

WHISKEY AGAIN.

The local option bill was reported from committee this week with a favorable recommendation and is now in the hands of the House and members are dreading the necessity of placing themselves on record in regard to it. But the music must be faced, and which ever way he may vote, many an ambitious Legislator sees his doom marked in the record he will have to make on this detested subject. Everybody hoped it would die in committee. My own impression is that it will not pass notwithstanding the fact that the liquor men are making no effort in the premises. They have apparently up their minds to abide any result being tired of this constant fight.

ADJOURNMENT.

A joint resolution was introduced in the house to day providing for the final adjournment of the legislature on the 15th of March and the assembling of an adjourned session on the first Tuesday of next January. By the provisions of the resolution the unfinished work of the session is to be taken up next year and proceeded with as if an adjournment had not taken place.

CALLING OF MEMBERS.

The representatives of the house are divided by occupation as follows: 39 farmers, 41 merchants, 7 manufacturers, 8 clerks, 26 mechanics, 2 surveyors, 24 lawyers, 6 teachers, 17 physicians, 9 gentlemen, 2 bankers, 3 insurance agents, 2 railroad conductors, 2 real estate agents, 5 printers, 2 contractors, 2 inn keepers, 1 livery stable keeper, 1 collector. A pretty fair sprinkling of the different trades and professions—not so many doctors and lawyers as usually go to make such bodies and possibly they will not suffer from this deficiency

CAPITOL REMOVAL.

This question has been before the house and appropriate committees since shortly after the opening of the legislature. Last week it was reported with an affirmative recommendation, and its merits and demerits were discussed for two days this week. The pith of the bill was that the question of removal should be submitted to a vote of the people at the next general election and that provisions to such election the authorities of Pa. were to file with the governor bonds for the erection of necessary public buildings free of cost to the state. From the first it was evident that there was very general opposition to the proposition and it was finally lost by a vote of 128 yeas to 58 nays on the motion to indefinitely postpone.
