

CANDIDATES for Governor to succeed our present excellent Chief Magistrate, says the Germantown Telegraph, "is now in order to be presented to the State nominating convention; and we regard it as fitting that the names of acceptable persons, should be canvassed a good deal in advance in order that an unexceptional candidate may be put in nomination. Among the names originally mentioned is that of the Hon. John B. Packer, a member of the late Congress from Northumberland county."

The gubernatorial office could not be placed in safer hands than in those of Mr. Packer. His course, as representative for the 14th Congressional District for eight years, in Congress, has gained for him a record for ability, integrity and statesmanship that is creditable to himself and to his constituents. While we shall support any good man who may be nominated, we can see in no other person named qualifications which Mr. Packer does not prominently possess. If he should be successful in the Convention, it will not be through machinations of his own, but the expression of the honest sentiment of the people, speaking through their representatives. And that he would be elected by a very large majority, is a fact which scarcely admits of a serious doubt. His course in Congress has not only made him popular with the masses, but with the press throughout the State.

RUSSELL ERRETT denies that he told Garfield he would vote for Randall for speaker, and says he will do no such thing.

There is no longer any doubt expressed in Europe of a war between Turkey and Russia, the former country believing the terms of the protocol no severer than those that will be inflicted upon her in the event of defeat.

The United States troops at Columbia, S. C., moved out of the State House, on the 10th inst., and the records and papers belonging to the executive office, have been turned over to Wade Hampton, and all is quiet along the lines.

Mrs. HAYES is to spend part of the summer at their old home in Fremont, Ohio, and the President will remain in Washington. This arrangement will be approved by those who censured President Grant for absenting himself from the seat of government, and luxuriating at Long Branch.

HON. JOHN B. PACKER, of Sunbury, is mentioned as a candidate for governor before the Republican nominating convention. Mr. Packer has served acceptably in congress, is a gentleman of standing and ability, and would make an excellent chief magistrate.—Williamsport Gazette & Bulletin.

The Southern Hotel in St. Louis, Mo., was destroyed by fire on the night of the 10th inst. It was a five story building, and many were killed by jumping from the fourth and fifth stories, and others burned, or first smothered by the smoke and then consumed, as there was no way to escape.

The boom at Lock Haven contains about 30,000,000 feet of logs and that at Williamsport about 6,000,000. The bulk of the season's cut is above, waiting for another flood. The amount of square timber got this year is greater than has been known for some years, and at least one third more than last year.

On Monday the 9th, the Supreme Court of the United States reversed the decision of the circuit court for the Eastern district of Pennsylvania in the case involving the distribution of money in the hands of the Centennial board of finance, and ordered that $1,500,000 be paid to the treasurer of the United States before any division to stockholders is made.

Tax election in Rhode Island on Tuesday of last week resulted in a Republican victory, but by a reduced majority. The entire Republican State ticket was elected, and, as usual both branches of the legislature were largely Republican. The reduction of the Republican majority in the State is owing to the light vote polled and the complication of the temperance question.

That sterling Republican paper, the Cincinnati Times, does not seem to relish the settlement of the Southern question, if this is a fair sample of its opinion: "Deny him the right to vote the Republican ticket, and the colored man will have peace in every Southern State, provided he is willing to submit to that 'compromise.' Withdraw the Federal troops, and he will submit for the present. In Georgia, Mississippi and elsewhere, this plan has worked wonders and Democratic majorities are high."

A OAKLEY HALL, whose mysterious disappearance from New York city two weeks ago, has occasioned much comment, has arrived at Liverpool, England, whither he fled, it is alleged, to escape testifying in the suits pending against "Boss" Tweed. In the hay-day of the Tammany stealing, Tweed and Hall were bosom friends, and may be joint-sharers of the plunder, and it is not surprising that Hall should prefer putting the cross between himself and the witness stand to going upon it either to perjure himself or "peach" on his friend.

A despatch from Washington, dated the 8th, states that the certificates of the members of Congress of the new house are nearly all in, and show that there will be 147 democrats and 137 Republicans whose seats are free from contest, leaving 9 cases of contest and indicating a democratic majority, if they should all stand aside, on the roll of ten.

EXTRA BAGGAGE.—The rule fixing the maximum allowance of baggage to each passenger at 100 pounds is almost universally observed by railroad companies. All in excess of this established weight is rated as extra baggage, and charged for at a certain rate per 100 pounds. This is obviously just, and commercial houses could not reasonably ask to be relieved of such charges while they hold the railroad company responsible as common carriers for the safe carriage and delivery of, in some instances, valuable sample cases.

Sugar is now made from ordinary corn. Specimens of raw sugar manufactured near Chicago, are shown both white and very sweet. According to an exchange, to complete its manufacture into pure granulated sugar, alcohol must be used to remove the foreign matter contained in the crude product. A bushel of corn yields thirty pounds of raw sugar, and this, when purified with alcohol, gives twenty-seven pounds of good sugar, marketable at four cents a pound. In other words, a bushel of corn made into sugar would bring $1.08.

A young married man of Skinner's Eddy, Wyoming county, Pa., named Andrew Champion was a recently thrown out of work. When he went home and told his wife he had failed to find employment, she said: "I will not live with you another day!" Champion drew a pistol and replying, "Then you won't live with anyone else!" fired. The ball took effect in Mrs. Champion's right side, and was subsequently discovered lodged in the flesh of the left side, having passed clear through the body. Champion ran up stairs after firing, and entering a bed room, shot himself dead. Mrs. Champion lived five days. The parties in this tragedy were of good standing in the community and the affair creates a profound sensation.

On Friday afternoon two weeks a distressing accident occurred at Hillman's Mill, about three miles west of Hollidaysburg. Two children of Milton Lotz, a boy and girl, while visiting their grandfather, Mr. Geo. Claugh, went up stairs where, in a drawer of a bureau, they discovered an old revolver. The little boy aged about five years, pointed the revolver at his sister in playfulness and snapped the trigger. The pistol was discharged, the ball passing through the right side of the little girl's head, tearing her right eye entirely out of her head and terribly mutilating the portion of her head through which it passed. The poor little sufferer lingered for a few days, when death put an end to her sufferings. She was aged about nine years.
