MAIL ROBBERY.—Mr. J. W. Swarts P. M. at Troxelville, informs us that he sent money by mail, without registering, to the First National bank, at Selinsgrove, on the 28th, of April. The money was taken from the envelope before it reached Selinsgrove. One corner of the envelope was torn off. He thinks that all letters containing money or anything valuable should be registered.

TO MEND RUBBER SHOES.—Get a piece pure rubber—an old shoe—vulcanized rubber will not do; cut it into small bits. Put it into a bottle, & cover to twice the depth with spirits of turpentine or refined coal-tar naphtha, not petroleum naphtha. Stop the bottle and set it one side, shaking it frequently. The rubber will soon dissolve. Then take the shoe and press the rip or cut close together, and put on the solution with a camel's-hair brush. Continue to apply as fast as it dries, until a thorough setting is formed.

The destruction of Mr. Erdley's barn, horses, cattle, &c., &c. in East Buffalo Twp., on Sunday a week, was the work of an incendiary, Laura Pierce, a girl about 16 years, the hired girl spoken of in our last issue. Being charged with the crime and importuned to tell the whole truth, she confessed to having fired the barn. We learn that the Insurance Company has put her arrested and at May term of Court her case will be tried. Mr Erdley's insurance was $1400, of which he will be awarded about $1200 by the Company.—Mifflinburg Tel. May 3.

Defendents as Witnesses.—The Governor has signed an act which provides that in the trial of all indictments, complaints and other proceedings against crimes or offenses, except the crime of homicide, in any court of criminal jurisdiction, the person so charged shall at his own request, but otherwise, be deemed a competent witness, but his or her neglect, omission, or refusal to testify shall not create any presumption against him or her nor shall any reference be made to any neglect, omission, or refusal by counsel in the case during the trial of the cause.

☞ see the agents for the old reliable North American Lightning Rod Co. are in our valley again. They visit our county periodically, which is evidence that they propose to deal with the people honestly. They erect lightning rods for us and many others in this town and vicinity, several years ago and as far as we can learn, with entire satisfaction to the parties. We have never heard that the agents of the Company, take advantage of the people which is more than can be said of many, who are engaged in the business. The Company is located in the State and is responsible for the acts of their agents. They intend to carry the best copper rod in use.

OBITUARY.

JACOB GROSS who died at his late residence in Beaver township, on Friday morning, May 3d, 1877 was one of the most respected citizens of the county. He served two terms as county treasurer, always performing his duties in a manner satisfactory to the people. He was universally respected and trusted; and his loss will be keenly felt in the community in which he lived.

county has lost a good citizen; a poor a kind, charitable, and benevolent benefactor; his neighbors, a friend always ready to lend a helping hand; his wife a loving, generous husband; his children, a father in all that the word implies.

...y of Education of Snyder Co.

...the first school within the present limits of Snyder county, established in connection with Grubb's church, in Chapman township? Was a school opened within the territory now embraced in this county prior to the year 1800? If so,

...believed that there was a school at Selinsburg at an early day. What do the oldest citizens of the place remember or what did they hear their parents the earliest settlers say about it? Was the first school opened at Hassler's church?

...Jacob Lechner or John Swift gave land for a school at Beavertown, then called Swiftstown. When the land was given, or when the school house was built, we have not yet learned. In 1814 Swift lived in the place. At this time Susanna by the name of Domilia taught the English school in an unfinished school house erected near the site of the present Lutheran and Reformed church. When was the school house built? and when was the school opened in it?

Any one who can give me the desired information, will please do so at their earliest convenience. All that is necessary is to drop a letter stating the facts as known to the writer.

Boss Machine of the World.

ARRIVAL OF THE "CHMAPION" REAPERS AND MOWERS.

A Train a Quarter of a Mile in Length---Newspaper Representatives Interviewing the Agents---Large Crowd at the Depot, Etc.

The four sections of freight trains which left Springfield, Ohio, on Monday morning freighted with about 1,700 reaping and mowing machines of the celebrated Champion pattern, arrived at Altoona sometime yesterday forenoon. At that point the trains were consolidated, and run with a powerful engine, No. 501, and a full complement of train hands per order of Superintendent M'Crea, to this city, as one train, arriving here at fifteen minutes to seven o'clock instead of 4.30, as previously announced owing to the fact that some time was consumed in switching of five cars at Lewistown and again eleven cars at Marysville, points where the "Champion" was left for further distribution. These valuable machines were loaded on cars of the Empire, National and Union lines, which were all labelled with attractive black letters on broad strips of white muslin, "Champion Reaper and Mower."

A 4.30 p. m. quite a crowd had gathered at the depot, and considerable disappointment was felt, but after an explanation of the cause of the delay the assemblage dispersed to be on hand again promptly at seven o'clock. The train consisting of 56 cars moved slowly along the main tract through Canal street, on its way to the Lochiel iron works, at which point the train was stopped. It was subsequently moved back to the stock yards above the city, where the cars were distributed as follows. Seven cars to York, over the Northern Central railway; eleven to points up the Philadelphia and Erie railroad for Clinton county; ten over the Lebnon Valley road, consigned to parties in Lehigh and adjoining counties; seven to points in Lancaster county; and the remainder over the Pennsylvania railroad, consigned to parties in the lower counties. The cars contain on an average twenty-four reapers. In this connection it may be proper to state former shipments, in considerable quantities, have gone over the routes designated.

The "Champion" interest represented in the city yesterday comprised the following gentlemen, to each of whom we are indebted for valuable information:

S. C. Lee, of the firm of H. L. Lee & Bro., of Baltimore. general southeastern agents.
J. R. Black, York, Pa.
H. P. Shutt, Chambersburg, Pa.
E. C. Holledge, Sunbury, Pa.
S. R. Miller, Lancaster, Pa.
A. A. Hamilton, Coatesville, Pa.
S. C. Downs, Honesdale, Pa.

The newspapers were represented besides the city papers as follows: Messrs. Hood, of the Baltimore American; Keiffer, of the New Era, Lancaster; Thomson, of the West Chester News; A. B. Tate, of the Williamsport Sun and Democrat; Westhafer, of the Elizabethtown Chronicle, and a few others all of whom took copious notes.

A noticeable feature was the appearance among the crowd at the depot of many farmers and citizens from the rural districts, who appeared to be deeply interested in the reaper and mower question.

From the several live and energetic agents here we glean the following facts in connection with the extensive sales of the "Champion:"

"It was the "foremost" among its class of machines at the centennial exhibition in 1876—receiving five separate medals and five diplomas—the highest award given to any machine on exhibition at the great world's fair. It was pronounced by all competent judges and intelligent farmers who thoroughly inspected it at the centennial, to be the "lightest draft" implement of its kind on exhibition, using the "lowest draft" ever made—only 131 pounds.

At the centennial exhibition the "Champion" was closely and thoroughly examined by tillers of the soil from foreign climes, and already quite a number of orders have been received from Europe and other countries, and their general introduction across the Atlantic will be only a question of a few months.

The Champion ranges in price from $85 to $170, according to size. This popular implement was patented in 1853, and in 1856 only a half dozen were manufactured. It has since been greatly improved and now the number turned out reaches 40,000 annually requiring an outlay of $4,000,000. The stock on hand, buildings, and other real estate is estimated to be worth another $4,000,000—which makes a capital invested amounting to 8,000,000. The number of skilled mechanics, laborers, clerks, agents, etc., employed is set down at about 3,000.

The buildings at Springfield cover an area of 9 acres, and fully 20 acres in all are used for buildings, yards and side tracks, all of which are devoted exclusively to the manufacture of the Champion Harvesting Machines.

The Champion as a complete machine has no superior. "Its qualities may be briefly summed up as follows: It excells in material, workmanship, simplicity and durability of construction; in lightness of draft, lightness of weight, combined with the necessary strength and endurance of power to accomplish the work; in convenience of handling, and adaptation to all the various labor required by the former; durability of the machine and convenience and economy of repairs, and finally, a machine that combines all the features necessary to harvest successfully all the known crops raised by the farmer, even under the most unfavorable circumstances." These machines, also, are ornamental, so to speak, and of beautiful finish.

The material, workmanship and finish are strictly first class. The principal frame of the Champion is constructed of the very best quality of wrought iron. It is firmly riveted together, and well braced, and upon it the shafting and boxing are firmly bolted, rendering it superior to a frame made of cast iron or wood. The former is liable to warp and decay, and the latter to constant breakages, resulting in great expense for repairs and loss of time.

For a fuller and more explicit description of the deservedly popular "Champion," we refer the intelligent farmers of this and adjoining counties to the handsomely illustrated descriptive pamphlet to be had of the agents. —Har. Pat. 28th ult.
