Some of our young men are taking advantage of the new stay law. They stay nearly all night with the girls now.

Wonder whether those papers who still continue to advertise for Ash & Robbins have heard anything of the blank orders.

Those people who a week ago complained of the coolness of the atmosphere are now finding fault because it is too hot.

The Altoona Tribune says Mr. James Knepp, the gentleman who was so seriously stabbed by the man Harkins is now considered out of danger.

Although the weather is warm don't be in too great haste to shed your flannels, or you may incur serious consequences from being too hasty.

The preparations for the celebration of the 4th of July in Selinsgrove are being pushed ahead. Bills and programmes will be issued just as soon as arrangements are completed.

When a man reaches the top of a stair and attempts to make one more step higher, the sensation is as perplexing as if he had attempted to kick a dog that wasn't there.

Some of the agencies for the payment of army and navy pensions, have been consolidated. The payment of pensions to residents of Juniata, Mifflin, Perry, Snyder, among other counties, will hereafter be made from the Pittsburg agency.

Since our last issue the potato bugs have made their appearance in great numbers, in this vicinity, and it is feared, unless they are destroyed before depositing their eggs, that the early crops, at least, will be entirely destroyed.

LIME AND WHITEWASH.—Lime and whitewash are at all times advantageous to health and property, but more especially to the former in times of general sickness of an epidemic nature. Nothing is so well calculated to prevent or drive out contagious and pestilentious diseases, than a free and liberal use of lime and whitewash. We have our citizens will use it plentifully about their houses and premises during the approaching warm season, and ward off disease. Besides being purifier whitewash is also a beautifier, neatly whitewashed fences are very attractive and pleasant to look upon. Let it be used with a lavish hand.

THE POTATO AND THE BEETLE.—At the present writing, indications are farmers will cultivate but small in potatoes the coming season. Judge Thayer, of Philadelphia, has decided that the Stay Law is constitutional, and that the Sheriff, before selling real estate, must appoint a jury of view to value and appraise it in all cases, unless the stay of execution has been expressly waived by the debtor, no previous demand for such appraisment being necessary in the case of real estate, although required as to personalty. The new law was applicable to all writs remaining in the hands of the Sheriff unexecuted at the time of its passage.

The current worm has already made its appearance, and henceforth until the berries are ripe and picked it will be necessary to keep close watch upon the currant and gooseberry bushes. Lime sprinkled upon them, it is said, will destroy them. Our own remedy is this: We buy at the drug store five cents worth pulverized white hellebore and put in a clean coal scuttle or other vessel and fill with water. After standing a day or so we pour some into a small sprinkling can and, either soon after a shower or early in the morning when the leaves are wet from dew, give the bushes a good sprinkling. One good sprinkling kills most of the worms, but we generally go over twice and three times to make sure work. A squirt that would force the liquid up from below would be more effectual than a sprinkling can, as the worms mostly are lodged and work on the under side of the leaves. This remedy is certain if properly attended to, and we comment it. The trouble and expense are trifling.—Selinsgrove Times.

Mrs. Beecher's Confirmation.

If success may be considered a criterion of merit, the Home Cook Book can properly be considered one of the most meritorious works published of late years. It has been wonderfully successful. Edition after edition has been issued, (20 000 copies) and still the demand seems to be unsatisfied. It consists of 391 handsomely printed, pages, and contains one thousand or more practical, common-sense recips, which have been tried, tested, and found to be 'just the thing.' Contributed by ladies of influence and good judgment, in Chicago and other cities and towns, with permission to use name. We know of no lady of our acquaintance, who would publicly endorse a recipe, unless it was THE VERY BEST SHE KNEW. There could be no better guide book for that portion of woman's kingdom which relates to the cuisine than the Home Cook Book. It is on sale at all bookstores; price $1 50. A "Pocket Edition" will be sent free, by publisher, on receipt of a two cent stamp. The following letter from Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher, confirms our good opinion:

J. FRED WAGGONER, Publisher, Chicago.

DEAR SIR:—As I am not keeping house, I have not an opportunity to examine the Home Cook Book as I like to examine everything I recommend. But also out by instinct an old housekeeper can form a tolerably accurate judgment of all that is usually found in a cook book, and if you will accept of an instinctive estimate of the merits of your work, I can truthfully say that I am generally pleased with it.

I like the receipes; most of them are familiar ones slightly different from the old, well established recipes, and I think they will be improved by the change.

But much that is more important than receipes is found in it, with which I have been greatly pleased and interested. I refer to rules for "Dinner Etiquette," "Social Observances," "Table Talk," "Bills of Fare," etc., and many other things, brought together very skillfully and calculated to be of great service to housekeepers, young and old.

Respectfully yours,
MRS. H. W. BEECHER.

Mandarin, Fla., March 3rd, 1877.

TO OUR LADY READERS.—Let us tell you what reached our desk this week. A magazine which supplies information on every article a lady or child can wish to wear, from the sole of her feet to the top of her head. Each article is richly illustrated; underneath stands the description, with the number of yards it takes to make it; and then comes the price at which you can purchase it. All classes are provided for. The wealthiest and the least wealthy—all can find qualities suited to their means. Interleaved between the Fashion descriptions we find page after page of original reading-matter; not such as overloads so many publications, but bright, suggestive, instructive contributions by our best lady writers, on subjects in which every sensible woman takes pleasure and interest, 'The Kitchen,' 'The Home,' 'The Cultivation of Beauty,' 'The Education of Children,' 'The Art of Dress-making,' etc., etc.—all are standard articles on standard subjects.

Now, when we say, further, that this magaZine, a monster volume of 116 pages, is only the "Spring" number of a publication which costs but 50 cents for a whole year's subscription, our readers will understand why we consider it somewhat remarkable. It is published by Ehrich & Co., Nos. 287 and 289 Eighth Avenue, New York City, the enterprising merchants, who thus meet a great demand of ladies who live away from the great metropolis, and yet are eager to learn of the vagaries of Fashion and of the price for which these vagaries can be purchased. The accompanying directions, according to which goods should be ordered, are so clear and simple that a child could thus order its wardrobe. You will never regret subscribing to "Ehrichs' FASHION QUARTERLY."

The Lewistown Gazette of May the 16th, contains the following:

BEAR CHASE.

On Wednesday last a bear was seen traveling across the farm of W. C. Bunnell. W. Ehrenfield gave chase, running the animal to where S. M. Brown and his hands were at work, who all joined in pursuit, driving it to the farm of H. L. Close, where they were joined by his son James with two dogs. The bear made for Beatty's knob, and a little way up took to a tree, but not liking his position came down and was attacked by all the dogs present. Some distance further up bruin again ascended a tree, one of the dogs holding on until dragged five or six feet from the ground. He was finally killed by a number of shots from Close and Brown, and was found to be quite a large specimen, though lean.

RUN-OFF.

While Geo. Oldt, mail carrier from Lewistown to Adamsburg, was taking down the mail on Friday morning, the strap holding the single tree to his sulky broke near Soradoville, leaving it down on the horse's haunches, frightening him into kicking and pitching and finally running off. Oldt was thrown out, and becoming tangled with the lines was dragged a hundred yards or more, bruising him very much, injuring his right eye so that he may lose it, and hurting him internally also. Medical aid was summoned from Lewistown.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Hair Vigor,
For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

HAIR DRESSING,
