Meeting of the Republican State Convention.

HEADQUARTER'S REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE, HARRISBURG, May 29th, 1877.—In pursuance of a resolution of the Republican State Committee, adopted at a meeting held in Harrisburg, this day, a Republican State Convention, to be composed of delegates from each Senatorial and Representative district, to the number to which such district is entitled in the Legislature, is hereby called to meet in the city of Harrisburg, at twelve o'clock noon, on Wednesday, August 29th, 1877, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Supreme Judge, State Treasurer and Auditor General, to be voted for at the ensuing general election on the sixth day of November next.

By order of Committee.

HENRY M. HOYT,
Chairman.
A. WILSON NORRIS,
Secretary.

THE Attorney General, in reply to inquiries of the Secretary of the Treasury has decided that the Secretary is authorized to issue an equal amount of subsidiary silver coin to replace all the fractional currency lost or destroyed, (namely $8,096,930.33,) as well as that redeemed Consequently an order has been made to continue paying out silver until the amount shall equal $50,000,000.

GRATITUDE.—President Hayes has appointed D. W. Rudy of Washington county, Maryland, Deputy Naval officer at Baltimore, mainly in recognition of kindness extended to the President after he was wounded at South Mountain. Gen. Hayes was carried to the house of Mr. Rudy, where the Surgeon thought it would be necessary to amputate his arm, to which Mr. Rudy strongly objected, and upon promising to nurse him carefully, the Surgeon deferred the operation, and finally abandoned it altogether.

Fuller accounts of the great fire in St. John, N. B., confirm the first report of the extent of the disaster. All the public buildings, nearly all the stores, and half the dwellings are consumed, and 15,000 of the inhabitents are homeless and distitute. The loss is estimated at ten or twelve millions. A list of ten persons who perished is given. 500 acres, are devastated and so far 30 bodies have been found in the ruins. Provisions and clothing for the sufferers have been forwarded from Montreal, Halifax, Portland and Bangor, and relief subscriptions have been started in those cities, and in Chicago. After the Chicago fire St. John contriubted $10,000 in gold for the sufferers in that city.

ABOUT three years ago 300 Chinamen were brought to Beaver Falls, this State, to work in the mills. All but 50 have departed for other regions, and these will follow on July 1st. Chinese labor in Beaver Falls has not been as productive as was expected. The Mongolian was backward in picking up the English language, which was unprofitable to the employer when the work required much explanation; he was personally filthy, and made of his quarters a pest house; so that both employers and citizens are glad that the end of the contract will remove him from Beaver Falls. The Coolies are now scraping together the bones of their dead, so that everything will be ready for departure on the first of next month.

WE desire respectfully to inquire whether it is good policy emphatically to declare, so far in advance of the meeting of the State convention, that such a man is sure to be nominated for State Treasurer, and another man is as certain to be made the candidate for Auditor General. These are preferences to be decided by the delegates as they understand the wishes of their constituents, and as there are a number of well known men named for each position, the best that can be done and said is to await the meeting of the convention and name the candidates now before the party. There can and must not be anything like forestalling the action of that body. The merits of all the candidates named, their qualifications for the position to which they are aspirants for nomination, must be freely and fairly canvassed, and a decision arrived at which is regarded as the best for the State and the most honorable for the party. For this reason we protest against any and all attempts to override the fair claims of all the men named for nomination before the coming State Convention. We want and must have the best of feeling in coming canvass. The prize we con- a unity in organization ccess in contests to and therefore like a dis- [illegible]. Har. June 27.

Sentence of a Murderer.

HUNTINGDON, Pa, July 6.—The trial of C. A. Reese, for the murder of Dr. J. A. Shade, was closed on Saturday last, the jury rendering a verdict of murder in the second degree. The trial occupied twelve days. This afternoon Judge Dean pronounced sentence on Reese, he to pay $500, cost of prosecution and be imprisoned at separate and solitary confinement in the western penitentiary for a period of ten years.

Reese was married about eight years ago and about five years afterward the wife secured a divorce, the result, the husband claimed, of her farther's intervention. They were reunited the next year and lived together until November, 1876 when Mr. and Mrs Reese left for the residence of their respective parents on a visit, after having made an agreement to return in a few days. On reaching home he found her absent, but discovered her at the residence of a friend of her father's. To his astonishment she refused to hold an interview with him which strange conduct he again attributed to the influence exerted over her by her father. The next day he visited Dr. Shade's residence, at Shade Gap, this county, about six miles distant, and entering the drug store he soon became involved in an altercation, which culminated in Reese shooting his father-in-law, four bullets lodging in his body. The murderer drew his revolver in the presence of his wife, and she did all in her power to restrain him from carrying his design into execution. When Dr. Shade diverted Reese's intentions he moved out of the store, and his son-in-law followed him and fired five shots at him. The last shot was discharged while the bleeding victim lay on the ground, the assassin deliberately aiming and firing at his head, and killing him. The trial was the longest ever had in Huntingdon county, lasting twelve days: One hundred and sixty-four witnesses were examined and great efforts were made by the defense to prove that the killing was done in self defense and that the prisoner was insane. The jury returned a verdict of murder in the second degree two hours after the case was submitted to them.

The Cross and the Crescent.

The American people are distant, yet most deeply-interested spectators of the desperate struggle now in progress, between the Muscovite and the Turk. The vast array of forces on either side, the character of the combatants, the relentless, obstinate courage of the Russian, the fanatic valor of the Turk, the complication of interests which seem distined to involve all Europe in the strife, and the effect which such a war is likely to have upon the agricultural and industrial pursuits of this country, are points which give to this contest a deep and absorbing interest.

And yet, it is a fact that the mass of Americans are almost wholly without any definite knowledge of the regions most directly and primarily concerned in this war. To most readers of our newspapers, the news from the seat of war is in a large degree unintelligible, from lack of information as to these people and countries. Moreover, the demand for this information has developed the fact that there is not extant any book giving what is wanted, in reliable and popular form.

We are glad, therefore, to receive from the well-known publishing firm of Hubbard Bros., advance sheets of a forthcoming volume, entitled "THE CROSS AND THE CRESCENT; or RUSSIA AND TURKEY, AND THE COUNTRIES ADJACENT." It is from the pen of the well known historian Dr. L. P. Brocket, and gives a full and complete description of the countries bordering on the black Sea, the Danube the Pyrenees and the Tigris; including their Extent, Physical and Political Geography; their History, with all its Varied and Thrilling Incidents; the Thrilling Incidents; the Religion, Customs, Habits, Manners, and Character of each Nationality; their Military, Naval and Financial Resources; the Causes and Influences which led to this and former Wars, and a Full and Clear Explanation of the Complications which are driving the Nations of Western Europe into participation in it; the Massacres in Bulgaria; the Opposition and Cruelty which have goaded other Provinces and Tributary States into Insurrection and the Despotic Sway of the Russian Government, all depicted with great Vividness and Force. It also contains Biographical Sketches of all the Prominent Actors in the War now in progress, Monarchs, Rulers, Statesmen, and Generals, with Portraits of many of them.

Aside from its relation to passing events, this is a most valuable and richly interesting volume. The brilliant, bloody, and eventful history of these nations the character of their government, the peculiarities, of the people, their religious beliefs their social customs, habits and manner of life, present a subject full of novelty and instruction, and treated by so able and brilliant an author as Dr. Brocket, would at any time attract wide attention; but coming as it does, in response to an urgent demand for just the information here given, it will everywhere meet with an eager reception, and prove to be the most important publication of the year.

IT is now reported that the Molly Maguires have moved their base of operations from Schuylkill, to the northern part of Luzerne county. Reports of murderers and outrages in that section are terrible, and, if true, bring warning to the legal authorities to prepare for prompt retaliatory measures, to the end that property and life in the anthracite region may not become utterly valueless. The murderers are as open and cold blooded as those detailed by M'Parlan, and the death notices to the marked men are emblazoned with the coffin and other murderous insignia of the Mollies. John Timlin, an ex-alderman of Scranton, was shot in the street. At Nanticoke a party of miners were attacked, Martin M'Intyre being stabbed to death and George W. Parrine shot and thrown into the river. No cause for the murders are assigned, except that the victims were obnoxious to the Mollies. The Columbia and Northumberland county Mollies are again showing themselves, and a secret conclave on Sunday promises some new and terrible villainy. The mine superintendents and bosses are providing strongly armed guards for the protection of the collieries and the miners. The outlook is not pleasant, when desperadoes can set at defiance the law's power and defiantly perpetrate their outrages. But we are not without hope that the Mollies will find the law too strong in the end, and, if not the law, the Vigilant Committees of their intended victims.—Har.

The Harrisburg Telegraph says that the Republican State Convention, called for the 29th of August, will most likely be postponed until September 5th, a vote on postponement now being taken in the State Committee which will probably result in the affirmative. The change is asked by a number of gentlemen who have already been elected delegates and who are members of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar which holds its triennial conclave at Cleveland on the day now set for the convention.

MR. JUSTICE STRONGWOOD has just delivered an opinion that has received the sanction of the whole Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, which will prohibit the handicapping of commercial paper hereafter with anything that tends to make its negotiability uncertain. He decides that the addition of a five per centum collection fee clause on a note renders it of uncertain value and intent, and the note is, therefore not negotiable, nor is the endorser legally liable in default of the maker of it, unless the endorsement is of a nature so drawn as to be binding in some irregular way.
