FOR SALE.—New shifting Top Buggy, CHEAP. Inquire at D. F. Kerstetters.

Camp Meeting.—A camp meeting will be held under the auspices of the Evangelical Association on the land of Uriah Berger near Centreville, (same place where it was held last year,) commencing Thursday, August 23d, and to continue one week.

We notice that C. R. Savage, Esq., of Sunbury, Pa., who has been for some time engaged in lumbering in this county, is a candidate for the democratic nomination for District Attorney in Northumberland county.

Mr. Savage is a young man of fine abilities and good business habits. He is honest, industrious and strictly moral; qualities which should recommend him to the people of his native county. We wish him success.

From Perry Twp.

Some person or persons entered the granary of Mr. John Kepler on the night of the 28th ult. and stole therefrom six or eight bushels of wheat and one large ham. Persons should be on the lookout for such scoundrels.

On Sunday morning the 22d ult. Mr. Simon Weller of Fremont while in the act of riding a vicious horse the animal fell throwing Mr. Weller to the ground, narrowly escaping being severely hurt.

DEATH OF AN AGED LADY.—Mrs. Precilla Baker, relict of the late Captain Daniel Baker, well known to the citizens of Selinsgrove and vicinity, died at the residence of her son, Lorenzo D. Baker, on Monday last at the advanced age of 82 years, 1 month and 2 days. The deceased was a consistant member of the M. E. Church for many years, and was respected by all who knew her. She was entirely blind for the last few years of her life, but bore her great affliction with that patient and uncomplaining spirit which is a leading characteristic of the true christian. She passed out of darkness into the light.—Tribune 20th ult.

CHANGE IN THE PENSION AGENCY.—An order has been received from the chief of the Pension Bureau, which is in effect that all peasioners of the army or navy residing in the counties of Adams, Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Bedford, Blair, Cambria, Center, Clarion, Clearfield, Clinton, Crawford, Cumberland, Elk, Erie, Fayette, Forest, Franklin, Fulton, Greene, Huntingdon, Indiana, Jefferson, Juniata, Lawrence, Lycoming, McKean, Mercer, Mifflin, Perry, Potter, Snyder, Somerset, Tioga, Union, Venango, Warren, Washington, and Westmorland, shall be henceforth paid their pensions at the Pittsburgh agency. The order is dated June 30. Heretofore about one third of these counties received their pensions from the Philadelphia agency.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On Saturday evening last James W. Youngman, of Mattawana, died suddenly. On the arrival of the Atlantic EXpress east, he ran out of his residence toward the depot, with a view to buying a daily paper. On the way he fell dead. He was seen running, but his dead body was not found until two hours afterward. An inquest was held by a Justice of the Peace, and the verdict rendered was 'death from some unknown cause'; although, as Mr. Y had frequently complained of a singular feeling in the region of his heart, the opinion of a physician present was that death was produced by heart disease. The deceased was a carpet weaver, and his age 27 years. He formerly worked at John Wilsons & Co's factory in Brown township. He leaves a wife and three children. His remains were taken to McClure, Snyder county, for interment.—Lewistown Democrat 20th ult.

A STRANGE BED OF ICE.—Recently while Mr. John McCaslin and a party of Eldred township, this county, were after huckleberries on the Allegheny mountains, two and one-half miles northeast of Warrensville, they discovered a bed of ice in the rocks, five feet below the surface in a sort of a cave. The ice an be seen plainly by looking through an entrance large enough to admit a man. Two of the party, Ellis McCaslin and George Mouker, entered the cave, and on looking at the blocks of ice judged them to be from six to ten feet down in the bed of the mountain. One of these gentlemen secured a piece of ice weighing four pounds and the other a piece weighing eleven pounds which they carried home a distance of two miles. Green moss is to be seen all about the mouth of the cave. The moss extends a quarter of a mile and is from one to seven feet in thickness, with cakes of ice under it.—Gazette and Bulletin, 20th ult.

Our brother of the "Snyder County Tribune" is no longer "Joe" but rejoices under the more honorable cognomen of "Judge."

He was commissioned some time since, as an Associate Judge, and held his first Court in the Registers office in this place, a few days ago.

We have not heard what judgment he meted out to the parties in interest, but if the sentence was as merciful as a sentence he once passed upon us at Mifflin, Pa., the parties can have no reason to complain. We had been guilty of a short-coming to our friends, when we were promptly arraigned tried, and sentenced, at railroad speed. After the sentence had been complied with, from the happy smile upon the face of the "Judge," we concluded that he had a very "happy" way of "smiling" at the expense of the victims of his judgment.

A BIG RAUL BY A TRAMP.—Daniel Whitmer, of Lower Mahanoy township, placed four hundred dollars and some receipts and other papers in a boX. and for safety secreted it under some grain in his granary. A tramp by some means found it and carried it off. Every effort has been made for two weeks to find him without avail. By accident last week Constable Culp, of Upper Augusta, discovered that he had been in Sunbury shortly after the robbery and displayed the money to another tramp, when they got on a spree together, shortly after which the moneyed tramp left, telling the companion who staid behind that he was going to New York. Hearing of the robbery through Culp the tramp who remained behind told of the wealth of the tramp he had been associated with, which together with one of the stolen receipts that was found near Clement's planing mill, proves

PREVENTION AND TREATMENT OF SUN STROKE.—Since the heated term set in cases of sun stroke are being recorded in different sections of the state. The following is recommended as a remedy for prevention and treatment of sun stroke. It is copied from a medical journal of high standing:

"Sun stroke is caused by excessive heat, and especially if the weather is 'muggy.' It is more apt to occur on the second, third, or fourth day of a heated term than on the first. Loss of sleep, worry, excitement, close sleeping rooms, debility, abuse of stimulants, predispose it. It is more apt to attack those working in the sun, and especially between the hours of eleven o'clock in the forenoon and four o'clock in the afternoon. On hot days wear thin clothing. Have as cool sleeping rooms as possible, avoid loss of sleep and all unnecessary fatigue. If working indoors, and where there is artificial heat, see that the room is well ventilated. If working in the sun wear a light hat (not black, as it absorbs the heat) straw, etc., and put inside of it on the head a wet cloth or a large green leaf; frequently lift the hat from the head and see that the cloth is wet. Do not check perspiration, but drink what water you need to keep it up, as perspiration prevents the body from being overheated. Have, whenever possible, an additional shade, as a thin umbrella, when walking in the sun. If a feeling of fatigue, dizziness, headache or exhaustion occurs, cease work immediately, lie down in a shady and cool place; apply cold cloths to and pour cold water over head and neck. If any one is overcome by the heat send immediately for the nearest good physician. While waiting for the physician give the person cool drinks of water or cold black tea, or cold coffee, if able to swallow. If the skin is hot and dry, sponge with, or pour cold water over the body and limbs and apply to the head pounded ice wrapped in a towel or cloth. If there is no ice get a hand keep a cool cloth on the head and pour cold water on it as well as on the body. If the person is pale, very faint, and pulse feeble, let him inhale ammonia for a few seconds, or give him a teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia in two tablespoonful of water with a little sugar.

A MEAN MAN.—That is an editor. He pursues his fellow-mortals from cradle to grave with a tigerish sort of relentlessness. Firstly, he makes a joke of your birth, by saying that your father was son-struck by an eleven pounder. He watches your growth through childhood—always ready to swoop down upon you like a hungry hawk connecting with a spring rooster, whenever you happen to break somebody's window, torture a cat, play hookey, or fasten a brass kettle to a dog's caudal appendage. Later on, when you begin to go out amongst 'em, he ridicules you to the full extent of his stunted philosophy tells about your parting your hair in the middle—how you was run away from one girl's house by the watch-dog; how some other fellow cut you out; how some other girl endowed you with a mitten: how you are in the habit of getting under her window at night, just as the old gentleman pitches a barrel of water out of a parallel window, etc., ad infinitum. Then, when you get married he tells all he knows about it, and all he don't know—how you had to set up the beer to a gang of calathumpians; what kind of a looking woman you have, and hypocritically wishes you joy, and a burdensome family of children. Should yourself or wife, at any future time conclude to elope with somebody else, get divorced, or do anything on your own responsibility, Mr. Editor goes for you, and you soon see your name in every paper in the land, promiscuously intermixed with such dead language expressions as sum mag. fragrante delictu, and the like. Do you imbibe? If so, the whole world knows it, just as soon as the paper can be got to press. Finally, when you shuffle off this mortal coil, the editor tells all about it—and then dismisses you by closing with a lot of doggerel, after abusing you all your life—about how you have 'gathered at the river,' 'climbed the golden stair,' 'gone to be an angel,' etc. etc.—Ex.

THE STATUTE AGAINST STRIKERS.—The legislature at its last session passed an act entitled "An Act to provide for the better protection of passengers upon railroads and to insure the prompt transportation and delivery of freights." Under this law all engaged in the present strike within the limits of the commonwealth are amenable to indictment and punishment in the criminal courts. We herewith give the text of the statute in full for the information of all concerned:

WHEREAS, Strikes by locomotive engineers and other railroad employees, and the abandonment by them of their engines and trains at points other than their schedule destination, endangers the safety of passengers and subjects shippers of freights to great inconvenience, delay and loss; therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, etc., That if any locomotive engineer or other railroad employee upon any railroad within this state, engaged in any strike or with a view to incite others to such strike, or in furtherance of any combination or preconcerted arrangement with any other person to bring about a strike, shall abandon the locomotive engine in his charge, when attached either to a passenger or frieght train, at any place other than the schedule or otherwise appointed destination of such train, or shall refuse or neglect to continue to discharge his duty, or to proceed with said train to the place of destination, as aforesaid, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, and may be imprisoned for a term not exceeding six months at the discretion of the court.

SEC. 2. If any locomotive engineer or other railroad employee within this state, for the purpose of furthering the object of or lending aid to any strike or strikers, organized or attempted to be maintained on any other railroad, either within or without this state, shall refuse or neglect, in the course of his employment, to aid in the movement over and upon the tracks of the company employing him, of the cars of such other railroad company, received therefrom in the course of transit, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, and may be imprisoned for a term not exceeding six months at the discretion of the court.

SEC. 3. If any person, in aid or furtherance of the objects of any strikes upon any railroad, shall interfere with, molest or obstruct any locomotive engineer or other railroad employee engaged in the discharge and performance of his duty as such, every person so offending shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than $100 nor more than $500, and may be imprisoned for a term not exceeding six months, at the discretion of the court.

SEC. 4. If any person or persons, in aid or furtherance of the objects of any strike, shall obstruct any railroad track within this state, or shall injure or destroy the rolling stock or any other property of any railroad company, or shall take possession of or remove any such property, or shall prevent or attempt to prevent the use thereof by such railroad company or its employees, every such person so offending shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and may be imprisoned not less than six Recipes.

Ginger Beer.—Take 9 gallons of water, 10 pounds of brown or white sugar, 11 ounces of bruised ginger root, nine ounces of lemon juice, half a pound of honey and three pints of yeast; boil the ginger an hour in a gallon of water, then add the rest of the water and the other ingredients and set it aside; when cold, strain it and add the white of one egg, beaten, and half an ounce of essence of lemon; let it stand four days, then bottle, and it will keep many months.

II.—Take one gallon of warm water, two ounces of ginger, one pint of molasses, and half a pint of good yeast; put this into a stone jug, shake it up well, set it up to rise for 12 hours, then cork it tight or bottle, and it is ready for use.

Quick Beer.—Take 14 quarts of molasses and six pounds of hops, and boil them two hours in 11 gallons of water, when cooked sufficiently, add one pint of yeast; let it work in a tub covered up for 16 hours; when the working is over put it into a cask and let it work there three or four days; then bung it down, or pour it from the cask and bottle it. The beer will be fit to drink in a week and will be as strong as porter. If a weaker beer is desired for table use, use more water in proportion to the other ingredients.

Vinegar.—Save the parings and cores of apples, put them into a jar with warm water enough to more than cover them; set them in a warm place for several days, then strain and add one pint of Molasses to a gallon of the water; put in a jar, tie a thin cloth over it, keep in a warm place, and in two weeks you will have good vinegar.

Elderberry Wine.—One gallon of elderberries and one gallon of water. Put them in a copper kettle cold; let them boil one hour; then strain through a sive; press the berries, and to nine gallons of liquid add twenty eight lbs. of Lisbond sugar, one quarter, of a pound of ginger, one-quarter of a pound of allspice, one-quarter pound of cloves; then put them in a clean copper kettle; let them boil one half hour; then strain it again and set to work in tub while warm. One-half tablespoonful of good yeast is enough for this quantity. Put in a cask when done working.

For Arresting Fermentation.—Dissolve a small quantity of borax (half a teaspoonful) into a tablespoon of boiling water, for every quart of cream or milk. To keep meat from spoiling, sprinkle on a little powdered borax like salt; then wash well in borax water before cooking.

Cure for Sprain.—Take one tablespoon of honey, the same of salt, and the white of one egg; beat all well together for at least an hour—or two would be better. Let it stand an hour. Then annoint the sprained place freely; keep well rolled up with a good bandage.

To Mend China.—Take a very thick solution of gum arabic in water, and stir it into plaster-of-paris until the mixture is of a proper consistency. Apply it with a brush to the fractured edges of the china, and then stick them together. The whiteness of the cement renders it doubly valuable.

A small teaspoonful of fine salt put on the top of a Canada thistle it it said will kill both top and root. If'll somebody who has a thistle or two on hand, try the remedy and report results?

NIJNE NOVGOROD FAIR.—The great market of the eastern world has been held at this junction of the Volga and Oka Rivers, in Russia, every summer for hundreds of years. Here the nations of Europe and Asia meet with their products for trade. Cossack, Chinese, Turk and Persian meet the German and the Greek with every variety of merchandise that mankind employs, from saphires to grindstones, tea, opium, fur, food, tools and fabrics, and last but not least, medicines. J. C Ayer & Co's celebrated remedies from America were displayed in an elegant bazaar there. Here the Doctor himself might sometimes be seen. They are known and taken on steppes of Asia as well as the prairies of the West, and are an effectual antidote for the diseases that prevail in the yaourts of the North as well as the huts and cabins of the western continent.—[Lucoln (Ill.) MOODY,

HIS

Words, Works, & Workers.

This is the only authentic and full history of Mr Moody and all his remarkable doings, bound in one volume of large crown octavo of 552 pages. Sold by subscription only. The book is divided into five distinct parts—treating of different subjects and different matter—The following being the merest synopsis of an explanatory nature of the first three parts

This is pre-eminently the newest, freshest, and most complete of all the Moody literature. It contains FIVE BOOKS IN ONE: Its substance as follows:

Here is Part I., which gives a sketch of Mr. Moody's life and an account of every one of his great revival campaigns; all the important facts and incidents that can be found in any Life of Moody for which alone you have to pay $1.50 or $2.00

Here is the most pleasing picture of Mr. Moody that can be found. It is an elegant steel portrait, made in London; which the publishers have imported especially for this book

This picture of the Old Homestead was taken on the spot by an artist who went to Mr. Moody's old home for that purpose.

Part II is a collection of Mr. Moody's wonderful portraits of the men and women of the Bible, which have been so much admired both in Great Britain and America. There are twenty-five of them.

This is the only book in which these Bible portraits have ever been brought together.

Part III, is Mr. Moody's entire system of theology.

The usual way of publishing Mr. Moody's sermons has been to throw together forty or fifty newspaper reports, without the least attempt at classification by subjects; print them on cheap paper in cheap binding, and push the sale as rapidly as possible, simply on the strength of Moody's name.

In making this Part III, the entire range of his doctrinal sermons and lectures have been examined, and everything remarkable or of especial value has been selected, and arranged by subjects; so that the reader may see Mr. Moody's entire doctrinal teachings in compact and systematic order, and in his own vigorous and life-like style.

This outline of theology is the only attempt that has ever been made at an orderly and complete presentation of Mr. Moody's religious opinions; and if he were to die to-day, this volume would be the only work from which his evangelistic theories and methods could be fully understood.

This makes "Moody, His Words, Work and Workers," the most valuable book on this subject for reference, and permanent library use.

This department of theology comprises five sections, which give Mr. Moody's best sermons and sayings; first, about God; second, about Jesus Christ and His titles; third, about the Holy Spirit; fourth, on Sin and Salvation; and fifth, on The Last Things, as the books of theology call them, i. e., Heaven, Hell, and The Return of Our Lord.

Section First is short. Mr. Moody does not preach a great deal along this line. He thinks that "God out of Christ is a consuming fire;" therefore, he preaches chiefly about God as he appears in the person and work of Jesus Christ.

Section Second, Christ and his Offices is one of the best parts of the whole work. Mr. Moody has more beautiful and helpful things to say about the Son of God than any other religious teacher of these times. He makes one think of the sweet words of Luther, of Fenelon, or Thomas and Kempis.

The Third Section gives Mr. Moody's lectures on the Holy Spirit.

The editor of this volume took the best reports of those lectures as they were first given in Chicago, and also the best reports of the same lectures in Boston; compared them together; took the treatment of each topic in Mr. Moody's best form, and arranged the whole in their proper order.

These lectures are, by many, thought to be his most profitable discourses, and alone are worth a separate volume. NO OTHER BOOK HAS EVER CONTAINED THEM.

The Fourth Section, entitled Sin and Salvation, contains his favorite sermons on PERSONAL SALVATION; such sermons as Mr. Moody says are "fit to convert sinners with."

These are the sermons and sayings that set some of the English clergy against him, and that were so sharply criticised in Boston by the Unitarians.

Here is "Moody's Man," that some of the Boston people made such a fuss about. Moody says it is all a mistake that "because a man is born in Boston he does not not need to be born again." (See page 410.)

Here (see page 414) is his wonderful weighing sermon that produced such a marked impression in Chicago where he proposed to hang a pair of scales from God's throne and weigh the members of his tabernacle and congregation by means of the Ten Commandments, first one by one, and then against the whole ten together.

Here (see page 423) in his great sermon on Law and Grace.

On page 433 begins that remarkable talk to fallen women, and the letter that one of these poor creatures sent him, and which he read at one of the Monday meetings in Farwell Hall.

Among the sermons in Section Five is that one on the "Return of our Lord," which is published separately with the proof texts. None of the other books of Moody's sermons have it.

This work is sold at $2.00 or $2.75 according to quality of binding. Persons desirous of studying the history and remarkable doings of this remarkable man, should apply to either of the subscribers who are canvassing the county.

THIS standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and as satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff. It gives the head a cooling, soothing sensation of great comfort, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing, nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."

SUPERIORITY OF THE CHAMPION.

The undoubted excellence of the Champion over all other machines, is in the material, workmanship, simplicity and durability of construction, Lightness of Draft, convenience of handling, Durability of machine, and finally a machine that harvests all crops raised by a farmer successfully. It will cut lodged and tangled Grain. Clover Seed and Flax can be successfully harvested with this machine.

In a few minutes the Reaping Attachment can be removed and the machine made ready for the meadow.

All we ask is to give the Champion a fair trial, and if it does not give entire satisfaction in every particular, we do not ask you to buy. For further particulars call on or address,
