Women are said to have stronger attachments than men, as is evinced in little things. A man is often attached to an old hat; but bid you ever know of a woman having an attachment for an old bunnet?

The other night an up-town woman found the long expected "man under the bed." It was her husband. The bed was rather high and so was he, and he fell under when he tried to get in.

They were courting clandestinely over the fence, and she had just remarked, "Yes love, the eyes are the windows of the soul," when suddenly the old man closed in on him with a club, and his soul hasen't been able to see out doors since,

Leaves a wife and five children, the former a daughter of Noah Kratzer, formerly of Penn's Creek, Snyder county.—Times.

The second annual meeting of the Pennsylvania state association for the protection of game and fish will be held at the rooms of the Sportsmen's association of western Pennsylvania, No. 39, Fifth avenue (second floor front), Pittsburg, Pa., on Tuesday afternoon, October, 9, 1877, at two o'clock. Each society is entitled to send three delegates. For information address Benjamin F. Dorrance, recording secretary, Wilkesbarre, Pa.

The Colored Folk's Camp Meeting, which began on Satuaday, near Smith Grove, was well attended on Sunday, there being probably some three or four thousand persons present, comprised, principally of white folks. Very able sermons were preached on Sunday. As the meeting will last over next Sunday, the attendance will probably be larger should the weather prove favorable. There will be one of the eminent colored divines present next Sunday to deliver an address, and it would be well worth while for all to go and her him.

We understand that Dr. I. R. Swigart has decided to locate permanently at Bannerville, in Snyder county, for the practice of his profession. Dr. S. is a graduate of the Cincinnati College of Medicine and Surgery, one of the best allopathic colleges in the west, and had considerable practice in the hospital. Moreover he is a young man of excellent character and fine judgment, and we have no doubt will soon become popular, both as a man and a physician, among the people in that region. We wish him success.—True Democrat, 13th, inst.

HERE!—The chilly rains of the past few days call to mind most sharply the wintery ways—and the purple leaf and the scarlet vine tell of the days of short sunshine, when the crisp snow covers the mountain-side, and robes the valley far and wide, fringing the tree-tops and whitening the shrub, which shelters full many a pestilence grub in its winter repose—to feast on the leaf and bud of the next spring's rose; all these the rain foretells full well;—and it breaks the power of summer's spell, and softens the earth that the farmer may sow, and his seed receive moisture and spring up and grow, to the joy of his heart in the coming year.

LEG INJURED.—On Thursday evening, as the mixed train on the S. & L. road was shifting cars, just before pulling out for Sunbury, and while Baggage Master Thompson was in the act of coming through the baggage car to couple the cars, he fell between the cars, and had the flesh torn from his left limb, below the knee. The cars were moving very slow and he was able to crawl out, otherwise he would have been cut in two. Both of our town doctors were out of town and he was placed upon the train and taken to his home at Sunbury.—Tribune 13th, inst.

Since the above was put in type we learn that Thompson has died from the effects of the injuries, besides having his leg crushed, he was severely injured internally.

The Republican County Convention, of Mifflin county, met at Lewistown on the 10th inst., and nominated the following ticket: Prothonotary, A. C. Mayes; Register and Recorder, W. V. B. Coplin; District Attorney, John F. McClure; Poor House Director, Samuel Aurand; Surveyor, Wm. J. McManagal. W. W. Trout was chosen Chairman of County Committee, and Hon. Andrew Read the delegate to next year's State Convention.

A correspondent, from Troxleville, who failes to subscribe his name to his communication, desires some reader of the "Post" to "inform our ignorant self" who "Pallas" was, upon whose bust Poe's melancholly raven perched, when the burden of his song was "nevermere."

By reference to Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, the gentleman who desires information for "our ignorant self" will find that Pallas was identified with Minerva, an ancient Italian deity, who was regarded in the popular mythology as the godess of wisdom and skill, and in a word, of all the liberal arts and sciences.

In the Homeric poems she is spoken of as the daughter of Jupiter.

KILLED.—On Wednesday last a sad accident resulting in the death of Irvin Chrisholm, a lad aged about 16 years, and son of Irvin Chrisholm, of Duncannon, happened near "the loop" on Sherman's Creek. It appears that the lad who was killed was hunting in company with two other boys from that borough, and at about noon sat down to eat lunch, and take a rest. While setting there the gun of young Chisholm slipped from a stone on which it was resting, causing it to discharge the load, which entered his forehead blowing his brains out. A citizen of this place who was on the opposite side of the creek fishing, heard the report of the gun, and in answer to the calls of the boys crossed over to their assistance, but was only in time to see the unfortunate boy breathe his last. One of his companions at once started to Duncannon to inform his friends of the terrible occurrence.—Bloomfield Times 11th inst.

MURDER NEAR BLOOMSBURG.—A dispatch dated Bloomsburg, Oct. 15th, states that on Saturday night, about eleven o'clock, a farmer named John VanLew was shot dead near his home, about three miles east from this place. He was a prominent Granger, and well-known throughout this part of the country. He lived unhappily with his wife, and sought to drown his sorrow by paying frequent visits to a widow named Mrs. Johnson, who lives on the adjoining farm. For a number of years back he was in the habit of beating his wife, any his young son Charles swore if his father would not stop licking his mother he would shoot him. When the body was discovered, on Sunday morning, the skull was crushed to a jelly, and several bullets were discovered in the chest. The affair has created intense excitement throughout this part of the county. Nothing was developed at the coroner's inquest that might lead to the arrest of the perpetrator.

IN MEMORIAM.

At a meeting of the Salem Sunday School, held on the 9th of September 1877, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted.

WHEREAS, It has pleased God in His All-wise Providence to remove from our midst our beloved Sister member, Mrs. Samuel Snyder, and

WHEREAS, We deem it meet to express our sorrow for her loss, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That while we bow in submission to the will of Him "who doeth all things wisely and well" we deplore the loss of one who was ever active in the cause of her master, and ornament to this church, and one of the lights of our Sunday School.

RESOLVED, That as by her death we are reminded of "the uncertainty of life, and the certainty of death" we deeply feel the need of preparing more fully to meet the final summons when it comes to us.

RESOLVED, That this Sunday School has lost a most zealous member, a true Christian and a most estimable friend.

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be entered on the minutes of this Sunday School, and also a copy presented to the family of our deceased member for which family our heartfelt sympathies are hereby expressed.

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the various newspapers for publication.

LOOK OUT FOR THEM.—The following we copy from one of our Mifflin county exchanges.

Some time ago the newspapers announced the abduction in St. Louis of a little girl named Mary McEwen, aged about 9 years, and a reward of $1,000, it was said, had been offered for her recovery to her parents. Last week a detective from Pittsburg was scouring parts of this and Huntingdon counties on the track of a man and woman who had the child in charge. They are tramps, the man's real name being Russell, and he wore a goatee and mustache. The woman with him is slender and has light hair. The man and woman were seen several times last week in the west end of Kishacoquillas valley, but the child has not been seen with them since they left Huntingdon, and when last seen was dressed like a boy. At last accounts the detective had lost the track, in Menno township, and did not know what direction the abductors had taken, and was still more nonplussed as to what had been done with the child. He gave it as his opinion that, finding themselves so closely pursued, they had probably killed the child, and buried the body somewhere in the woods.

NEEDLE IN THE LUNG.—About a month ago a twelve year old daughter of J. A. J. William of Roaring Spring, complained of a difficulty in swallowing and breathing. She also alleged that she had swallowed a needle or a pin. Dr. Stayer was sent for and examined her throat, and also gave her some medicine. She soon recovered and appeared to be restored to her usual health. Two weeks ago the little girl again complained of the difficulty in her throat. She became quite sick, nor did any remedy alleviate her sufferings.

One week ago Dr. C. Irwin, of this borough, was called to consult with Dr. Stayer in reference to the condition of the patient. They found her suffering with a difficulty in breathing; her pulse was hurried; one of the fingers of her left hand was gangrened; the left lung was apparently solidified; there was no circulation in the left arm.—The physicians informed the parents that there was no hope for the child. She died on Friday.

In accordance with the wishes of the father a post mortem examination was held on Saturday by Drs. Irvin and Stayer. In the cavity of the chest was found a pint or more of blood. This blood had forced the left lung upwards, stopping the circulation in the left arm. It had forced the heart out of its position, over toward the right side, and had also crowded the right lung out of position. The left lung was solidified and gangrened. In this lung was found a long, fine cambric needle the evident cause of her death. The child was right. She had swallowed a needle that had resulted in her death.

We do not know that we have been able to give the above facts just as the physicians would state them, but we have done our best, and the report is believed to be substantially correct.—Juniata Sentinel, 5th inst.

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,
For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

HAIR DRESSING,
