HON. GIDEON WELLES ex-Secretary of the Navy died suddenly on Monday evening of last week.

THE National Windmill is the name applied by the Philadelphia Record to the American Congress.

THE Pennsylvania Railroad company pays over $107,000 annually for taxes to the city of Philadelphia.

The Bellefonte Republican comes to us with a three column leader, upon the claim of General James A. Beaver to the Governorship.

WILLIAM WELSH of Philadelphia, brother to the Minister to England, fell dead of heart disease on Monday afternoon of last week.

THE deceased Popes fortune is estimated at $24,000,000. We know some poor printers who would have no objections to being Pope a while.

IT is estimated that the United States produced one hundred millions of bushels of wheat last year more than can be consumed by her own population.

THE bill to authorize the coinage of the standard silver dollar and to restore its legal tender character, was passed by the United States Senate on Saturday morning after continuous session of 17 hours.

THE wife of Ben Pitmon, the author of the Phonographic system baring his name, has ordered by her will, that her body should be sent to Dr. Lemoyne at Washington Pa. to be cremated.

THE judge who presided over the trial of Anderson, at New Orleans, is a public defaulter to the modest sum of six hundred thousand dollars. He is, therefore, an illustrious Democratic reformer!

DESPITE the protest of the Porte England has sent her fleet to Constantinople. We fear this action of England will precipitate the crisis in Turkey, as the Czar will undoubtedly new enter Constantinople by land.

COL. HOYT is looming up as the probable Republican candidate for Governor. There are few who aspire to gubernatorial honors that can control, so well as he, the dangerous political elements of the coal regions.

IF there are any persons in this country who have been able to maintain their mental equilibrium after reading the discussion on the silver question, they are undoubtedly earnest in their prayers for an end of the business.

THE third Steamer for Brazil carrying supplies and men for the new railroad in that country, sailed from Philadelphia on the 14th inst. We hope she will not meet the same fate her immediate predecessor the Metropolis met.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—The Senate Committee on Territories to-day decided to report favorably upon the bill for the creation of the Territory of Lincoln, to be formed out of portions of the Territories of Dekota and Wyoming, so as to include all the Black Hills country.

FORGERIES, defalcations, embezzlements, &c., &c., continue to be reported daily. As heretofore the majority of the criminals are men who previously had the unlimited confidence of the public and the institutions with which they were connected.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9, 1878.—Professor Henry, of the Smithsonian Institution, reports that Professor Forster, of Berlin, announces the discovery by Palias, on the 7th of February, 1878, of a planet of the tenth maguitude, in ten hours twenty minutes right ascension, twelve degrees forty-five minutes north declination.

EX-GOVERNOR MOSES, of South Carolina, is now in New York in utter poverty. He robbed his wife and mother of their valuable clothing before leaving the South and is now wanted by Sheriff Bowen, of Charleston, to answer the complaints of his own household The mills of the gods do grind exceeding small.

COL. BOB INGERSOLL is lecturing in New York on "Ghosts" and kindred subjects. The principal object of the lecturer is to ridicule the christian religion and establish the non existence of a hell. It is lamentable that a man of such superior intellectual and oratorical powers should prostitute them to such base purposes.

WASHINGTON Feb.—The president sent the following nominations to the Senate to-day: Bayard Taylor of Pennsylvania, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Germany; John Baker of Illinois, to be Minister Resident to Venezuela; William C. Goodloe of Kentucky, to be Minister Resident to Belgium: Benjamin F. Simpson of Kansas, to be United States Marshal for the District of Kansas; Samuel Blachford of New York city, to be Judge of the Second Judicial Circuit; William A. Howard of Michigan to be Governor of Dakota Territory.

The Fall Election.

The election next fall will be an important one, involving the control of every department of the state government. A Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and Secretary of Internal Affairs, to serve for four years, are to be chosen. A Supreme Judge to serve for twenty-one years, and determine the political complection of the bench for the ensuing five years; an entirely new delegation to Congress; if one half of the State Senate to serve four years, and a new house of Representatives to serve two years.

The United States Senatorship is also involved, as the next legislature will elect a successor to Senator Cameron for a full term of six years.

The offices of Attorney General, Secretary of the Commonwealth and Superintendent of Public Instruction are indirectly involved in the issue through the appointing power of the Governor.

Besides the important State offices involved in the ensuing contest, a Congressman to serve in place of Hon. W. S. Stenger, will be chosen, a member of the Legislature in place of Hon. Charles Miller the present incumbent; a County Treasurer to succeed Henry Beufer, Esq.; a Sheriff in place of Daniel Eisenhart; three County Commissioners, three Auditors, one Coroner.

The County Commissioners and County Auditors will be voted for on the cumulative plan, that is each party will nominate two candidates for each, and each qualified elector will vote for but two, and the three having the largest vote, will be elected. The elections in this county have become so precarious, to republican nominees, through the dissentions in the party, that it behooves republicans to nominate none but representative men, and such as can hold the party together. We have experienced in the past the effects of dissention and we appeal to the members of the party to insure against a repetion of the disasters incident to internal broils, by uniting upon good local candidates and by shaking hands over the bloody chasm of former campaigns.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The following modification of the Tariff bill now in course of preparation by the committee on Ways and Means have been agreed to by that committee. The changes, it is said, will make the bill more acceptable to the members from Pennsylvania: Pig iron, $5 per ton; iron ore, 50 cents; scrap iron, cast $3; scrap iron wrought, $5; scrap steel, $5; boiler and other plate and sheet, common or black, not thinner than No. 20, wire gauge, 1 cent per pound; sheet iron thinner than No. 20 and not thinner than No. 25, 1¼ cents per pound; thinner than No. 25, 1½ cts., per pound; Russia polished sheet iron 2½ cents per pound; smooth or polished sheet iron other than Russia polish, by whatever name designated, 1¾ cents per pound; steel railway bars, ¾ cents per pound.

THE Mercedita, the first vessel despatched by the Messrs Collins of Philadelphia, contractors for building the Madere and Marmore Railway in Brazil, had not arriaed at her destination from latest reports. The schooner Mary E. Duglas reached New York yesterday, leaving Para January 27 and the bar 30th, and reports no word of the arrival of the Mercedita The latter left Philadelphia January 3.

TWENTY-FIVE years ago Frederick K. Bechtel, of Berks county, left for California His friends had supposed him dead, but a few days ago he appeared at the residence of his daughter and asked for something to eat. Not knowing him she said she had nothing to give, when he revealed his name. Having amassed a large fortune he gave her several thousand dollars. He will return home to stay in the spring

AT Lancaster, after an exciting trial of several days on the question of the validity of the last will of the late Dr. Benjamin Mishler, the jury rendered a verdict for the defence, against the will. The deceased was widely known as proprietor of Mishler's Bitters. About one hundred witnesses were examined.

THE failure of Brigham Young's heirs to agree in the distribution of his property, will probably cause a contest over his will The contestants will be twenty-five wives, or their forty-five children.

Educational

Mr. Editor:—In a town, not forty miles away, there is a fine public school house, just lately built with all necessary improvements, etc. which is a credit to the Directors and citizens of the place. A visit to this house shows that order is its first aim, on entering, the stranger, spasmodically is in 'A Fairy Bower of Scotland. The windows are woven so thickly with "The dainty Ivy green" that the Prof. has no occasion for, 'Don't look out!' all shows much care and labor on the part of the teacher. One might be led to think, the Directors partial, to fix up and decorate one room so and not all. But let me say here, the Teacher bears all the expenses—save a ton or two of coal, to keep the atmosphere of the room in a growing temperature. Now, in these "hard times" and the teachers salary low, you might at once suppose "This Teacher" very openhearted or duly interested in the cause of education, But like the "Merchant Jew" loss must not foot up as much as profit. He quits his boarding place and goes—a fishing, to do which he must have furniture for a house, and "Little Jessie" to help cook the fish consider—a model teach of this kind at the head of the educational interests of this County or Principal of a boarding school. Ens.

FOR THE POST.

COUNTY INSTITUTE.—VIII.

Prof. Noetling, in speaking to the directors and to the teachers, said that some people have a vague idea of the duties of the County Superintendent. They do not seem to know that he has anything to do but eXamine the teachers, and afterwards visit the schools for the purpose of collecting statistics to make his annual report. When they speak of his salary they consider five months' service, as if the eXaminations did not begin until after the schools had opened, and as if the district reports were sent in before the schools closed, were examined, copied, approved, and forwarded to the department of Public Instruction, and the Superintendent's own reports made out before even the school-year closed. Instead of its taking five months to do all that is required, it takes from seven to seven and a half months.

One of the duties of the Superintendent is to supervise the teaching, to direct the teachers how to do it. It is not everybody's business to do that. The Superintendent is presumed to keep himself abreast with the best methods of teaching, organizing, classifying, and managing schools, and to keep his teachers up with what he knows to be best. Without such supervision there would be no improvement. If everybody, whether he knows anything or not, could go into the school room and dictate to the teachers how to conduct their schools, the latter would be nothing but farces. An intelligent person does not think of instructing the teachers in their work; he knows that it is out of place for him to do so, and that unless he has studied the subject of teaching carefully, that he is not competent to do so. An illiterate one does not hesitate to tell the teacher how he shall teach and conduct his school. He believes himself competent for anything, no matter how much it is beyond his comprehension.

The Superintendent is supposed not to do anything when visiting unless he takes the school into his own hands and teaches the classes If he quietly asks of the teacher how his classes are formed, how the school is organized, how he teaches the different branches, and makes suggestions as to the changes and improvements that should be made, he is represented by those who know no better, as not having done anything but talked a little with the teacher. No intelligent superintendent would think of publisly, before the school, asking the teacher the questions necessary to judge of the condition of the school, and giving him directions as to what changes and improvements he shall make.

The superintendency is, by those who know nothing of its duties and responsibilities, considered a sinecure, or ornamental office. If the duties already named, together with traveling the county for six months during the most inclement season of the year, constitute an ornament, then they are right; but few persons possessed of decent intelligence would so regard it. To discharge the duties of the office for the paltry sum this county pays and to suffer the injustice and the misrepresentation that the office receives, requires both heroism and devotion to the work. How it be believed that he had a difficult and conscientously discharged his duties, and yet mal ices and lies have been grossly misrepresented. Some had found fault with his examinations, saying that those teachers who had attended the school received better certificates than those who did not attend it. He believed himself that many who attend his school twelve or more weeks and had during all that time, been thoroughly instructed in the branches to be taught and in teaching and managing schools, had received better certificates than those who had either attended no school or else a very poor one. It was clear to any one that those worthy of the best certificate should have them. It would have been the clearest injustice on his part to have given his students, whom they see much better qualified than in any others power to examine simply because they had taken care on the contrary, it would have been an injustice to have given those who had merely memorized text-books, and had scarce by any knowledge of their own duties, good certificates because they did not attend his school. Those who had attended his school had frequently asserted that their certificat e were not as good as they should be, and those who had not been students of his, that he had favored his own students. The truth of the matter was, that he had conscientiously tried to do justice to all parties, and those who had found fault with him, had been governed by malice or prejudice, and had done him gross injustice. Indeed he would have rejected the incompetent teachers much faster than he did, had not everyone whom he rejected misrepresented him. It is not a pleasant duty to refuse a certificate to an applicant for every one, no matter how little he knows, thinks he can teach school. He was not sorry that he had rejected so many, and that he did not remain in office long enough to reject all incompetent to no avail teaching. The county has yet a number on account of not improving themselves, fall further back every year, and soon will have to be rejected. He advised the teachers to improve themselves from year to year, to read educational journals. Too few of the teachers read the Pennsylvania School Journal. Every teacher should make himself familiar with Wickersham's Methods of instruction and to follow it in his teaching. He said he felt an interest in the schools of the county, and hoped that the teachers would not permit them to go back, but would continue to improve them. REPORTER.

FISHER, who is to be hanged in the Munch Chunk jail on the same gallows on which four Mollie Maguires were executed in June last, maintains his innocence of murder and promises a statement on the gallows to that effect When the action of the board of pardons was communicated to him he broke down, having expected a different decision.

E. F. Kunkel's Bitter Wine of Iron.

This truly valuable tonic has been so thoroughly tested by all classes of the community that it is now deemed indispensible as a tonic medicine. It ecstasies but little, purifies the blood and gives tone to the stomach, renovates the system and prolongs life. Everybody should have it.
