Five hundred dollars in silver three cent pieces was the amount remitted to the assistant United States treasurer at Philadelphia a few days ago by the Harrisburg post master.

For whooping cough, nothing has yet been brought before the public equalling Dr. Hass' Expectorant. A few doses will relieve the worst cases. Mothers, try it! Only 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

A bill to prevent jumping on railroad cars has been introduced in the Senate and is entitled "An act to prevent trespassing upon railroad cars in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania." It provides for a fine of five dollars or ten days' imprisonment on minors and others found trespassing on railroad, coal or freight cars, and its evident object is to put a stop to that deadly practice of jumping on trains so much in vogue among boys in the vicinity of railroads. If the passage will do this it deserves to become a law and should be enforced to the letter.

A Boy Conveyed by Adams Express.—Cases are by no means rare where boys and girls, and even 'children of older growth,' are conveyed to different points of the country by express. The last example of this kind we read of occurred the other day, when a boy named Walton was shipped by express from Doylestown to M. W. Devitt, White Haven, passing up the 10:00 train. The bill read as follows: 'One boy, from T. H. Walton, Doylestown to M. W. Devitt, White Haven, weight 50 pounds.' He had the regular tag fastened to one of the button holes on the coat. Young Walton is a lad of 11 years; as he was compelled to make a number of changes in going from Doylestown to White Haven his friends determined to express him. Before reaching his destination he was checked by eight different messengers. The cost of the trip was $5,25. The novelty of the thing attracted general attention. The loss of the boy would raise a fine point of law.—Harrisburg Independent.

CAPTURED.—John Maguire, the prisoner who soaped his body and crawled through a very small window in the jail on Thursday night of last week, was arrested at Lock Haven on Monday night and brought back to his quarters on Tuesday, by Chief of Police Keller. It is not likely that he will soon attempt to escape again from the jail in that way. Maguire says that if the window frame had been a quarter inch narrower he could not have escaped. How he got his head out is yet a marvel. The space was only 5¼ inches, and he requires, so he says, a 7 1-4 hat. The pressure he said was awful. He got through into the yard about eleven o'clock, and waited some time in trying to get Dawes through. Finally he scaled the guard wall between two and three o'clock a. m., having fallen back twice before he succeeded. He then made his way on the railroad over the bridges and put up for the night at the lime kilns above Northumberland, and remained in the woods next day. The next night he got on a freight train at Milton, accompanied by a tramp to Williamsport. At the latter place the tramp seeing him wash the soap from his body and having read the account of his escape, suspected him, and gave information that led to the arrest at Lock Haven. The escape of Maguire was certainly not the fault of the Sheriff, nor any of his attendants. It has been demonstrated, in this very case, that the openings in the iron frame ought not to be more than four inches, while these are 5½, and when the ledges against which the transom closes are cut off, the opening is six inches. Under these circumstances it is hardly fair that the Sheriff should be held responsible and compelled to lose the reward of $60 paid by him.

A BAD HABIT.—No habit is more offensive, or more utterly useless than profanity. It never did any man the least good. No man is the richer or happier or wiser for it. It commends no one to society. It is disgusting to the refined; abominable to the good; insulting to those with whom we associate; degrading to the mind; unprofitable, needless, and injurious to society.

STEAM SAW MILL BURNED.— H, B. Hettrick & Co. Steam Saw mill below Shamokin Dam in this county was destroyed by fire on Wednesday evening the 6th inst. The employees had only stopped work a few minutes previous and had gone home for their suppers. It is not known, how the fire originated but it is supposed that it ignited from a 'hot box.' Nothing in the mill was saved, so rapid was the progress of the devouring element. The lose is about eight or ten thousand dollars on which there is an insurance of six thousand dollars. The large lumber piles reaching from the mill to the house of Mr. Hettrick were saved owing to the direction of the wind.

The Harrisburg Daily Telegraph observes that there is a very perceptible increase in railroad freight, over that of last year, westward and eastward, at the present time, which is regarded as an indication of business revival. Western merchants are buying very freely in the East; the Western trade exhibiting healthier signs of prosperity than the South. An average amount of business in the East, this spring, will have a reviving influence on business in all directions. Manufacturing, mining and carrying corporations are inclined to active operations, and if backed by anything like average crops in the spring and summer, and we have no drawback in the way of repudiation in the Southern States and Western cities, the great trunk lines will do a large business in freight this summer. There is also the evidence of an early start in local freight usual during the spring on all the roads centering at this point. We repeat this is the first healthy sign of spring business.

GAVE HIMSELF UP.—A young man named Ferguson, who rather mysteriously disappeared afthe the Newport Perry county) bank robbery, has, we learn, says one of our Franklin county exchanges, returned and given himself up to the authorities. He was relative of one of the officers of the bank. He admits having given the combination of the safe lock to the burlars, but disclaims any further pancipation in the robbery. He was drunk when the robbery took place, and while in that condition gave the information. Since his sudden departe he has visited Akron, Ohio; Harpe's Ferry, Virginia; and New York city, with the intention of going into business, but being recognized at these different points he continued to move around. Hearing of the opportunity to go to Brazil, he succeeded in getting a passage on the ill-fated Metropolis. Its not necessary to describe what he experienced on the vessel; but going among the sand, he concluded that there was no luck for him outside of Perry county, and therefore at once resolved to return and meet the consequences of his irregularities.

PICKPOCKET OVERBOARD.—Washington Heimbach who resides in [illegible] county of Northumberland, started to come to Selinsgrove on Friday last. When he came to the west end of the Northumberland bridge, an individual stepped up and asked permission to ride with him in the buggy saying he was cold. His request was granted. When he got into the buggy his coat caught on the buggy seat and exposed a revolver in a hip pocket, and as he drew up the robe over his knees a set of small knives were observed by Mr. Heimbach to rise up from out between the fellow's fingers. This alarmed him especially when the stranger would slide his hand over Mr. Heimbach's overcoat and complement his nice warm overcoat. He began to study how to get rid of his customer. So he kept looking back until the pickpocket asked him what he was looking for; when Mr. Heimbach told him his buggy was broken and feared it wouldn't carry them. He induced the pickpocket to lean over and look under the buggy, when he dealt him a severe blow with his fist and knocked him overboard, the hind wheel passing over him. He gave his horse the whip, and the last he saw of the rascal, as he looked back he was sitting upon his haunches and feeling about the sore spot where Mr. Heimbach dealt him the blow.—Times 8th inst.

In order to reduce his large stock to goods, before the middle of March and prepare for an early Spring trade, He is selling now at greatly reduced prices in fact a great many articles at cost. The penetrating winds incident to this season of the year are a severe ordeal for the lungs. The neglect of a hard cough generally leads to a weakness of the lungs, which, not infrequently, results in Consumption.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP will at once relieve and loosen a tight cough and is such an agreeable remedy that children will take it without being coaxed. A cold on the lungs, if consumption is not already developed, may be easily mastered by the use of the Pulmonic syrup, together with Schenck's Mandrake Pills to clear the system of the accumulated mucus.

In more serious cases, where the disease has become deeply seated, and the patient suffers, from loss of appetite, weakness and emaciation, Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic should be used in connection with the above mentioned remedies to stimulate the appetite and bring the digestive powers into healthy action, thereby sustaining the strength of the patient and enabling him to resist the progress of the disease until the Pulmonic Syrup may perform its healing and cleansing work.

The use of these standard remedies according to the directions which accompany them, cannot fail to produce most satisfactory results. A letter addressed to Dr. Schenck cor. Sixth and Arch Sts., Philadelphia, asking advice, will promptly receive the Doctor's personal attention, free of charge.

Schenck's Medicines are for sale by all druggists.
