FOR THE POST.

OUR PARIS LETTER.

The great day approaching—Progress in the United States division—Exhibit of Tiffany & Co.—The Crown Pearls of England—Horse Marines on duty—The Electric light at the Exposition—A big balloon—Something about our "Honorary" Commissioners—Theatre Gossip, &c., &c.

[From our regular correspondent

HOTEL DU LOUVRE, Paris, Apr. 14, '78.

Another fortnight, and the grand Exposition will open. But it will be far from ready, and visitors for the first week or two will have to pick their way carefully among packing cases, shelving, canvas screens covering incomplete or unfinished sections, and bric a brac of all kinds. Somehow or other, these grand international exhibitions never are ready on time; Paris was not ready in 1867, Vienna was not ready in 1873, and Philadelphia was not ready in 1876. In 1867, the Emperor walked through two rows of "consignments" and declared the Exhibition open, long before the workmen were able to make the same declaration in regard to most of the packing cases. Marshall McMahon, no doubt, will do much the same thing this time: and I would advise those who contemplate visiting the grand show not to start earlier than June, as it will be the middle of that month, judging from present appearances, before all the departments will be complete and ready for inspection.

In our own section the men are working day and night, and we will be tolerably far advanced on the opening day. The costly exhibit of Tiffany & Co., of New York, has arrived and is placed in position, guarded by four of the fifteen marines who were sent out by the government to guard the United States section; one of the rules being that the different nations have to watch their goods at their own expense with general assistance, of course, from the local French authorities. It is curious to see soldiers from all parts of the world in the palace on the Champ de Mars, stationed on duty in front of the sections alloted to their respective countries; no less than eighteen men of the "line" standing guard, day and night, over the case which contains the crown-jewels of England, in the British section.

The arrangements for lighting the Palace of the Trocaders, as well as the Place de l'Opera, Avenue du Trocaders and the Bridge of Jena with the electric light are rapidly progressing and it is expected that the machines will be in operation by the middle of May. The principal railway stations will all be supplied with this light before the close of the exhibition, and the proprietors of some of the large ratail stores are making arrangements to light their establishments by electricity, compared with which gas is as tallow dips compared to gas.

The gamins of Paris are looking forward in great glee to the Balloon ascents that are to form one of the features of the exposition. The balloon, which will be the largest in the world, is now in course of manufacture at the Turileries, where one hundred and sixty sewing girls are engaged in putting the pieces of which it is made together. The car will hold fifty passengers, and has a restaurant and bar attached. A wire rope, some eight hundred feet in length, will be secured in the bottom of the car and operated by a windlass, so that the balloon with its living cargo will always be under control—provided the rope does not break. It will take about four minutes, under favorable circumstances, for the balloon to ascend till the end of the rope is reached, and about eight to wind it down again, the windlass being operated by a small steam engine. A ride in the balloon will cost two francs, and admittance to the enclosure wherefrom the ascents take place, one franc. The chances of an accident by the rope giving way are freely discussed, and would form, doubtless, an acceptable sensational side-show to the salaited Parisians.

One of the most amusing features of the appointment, by the President, of one hundred and fifty "honorary" commissioners is the delusion under which some of these gentlemen labor regarding their prerogatives. Some forty or fifty of these have arrived already, and are causing Mr. McCormick, the Commissioner General, more trouble than all other things combined. In the first place, they insist on free passes, which the French Government will not grant; secondly, they want choice seats at the opening ceremonies; thirdly, they want invitations to the grand banquet which will be given by the city of Paris on the opening day; and lastly, they want introductions to President McMahon. Neither of these things are feasible, and the "Honoraries" are dissatisfied, an exhibit more than six times as large as that of the United States, has only three honorary Commissioners; Germany has seven, Russia has three, and no nation has more than ten, with the exception of the United States, which has one hundred and fifty, or about as many as all the other nations which participate in the exposition put together. The Parisians think it absurd, and, in my opinion, they are not far from the truth.

The theatres, now in full blast, are reaping a rich harvest; especially those whose speciality is Opera Bouffe; at the Rinaissance, Mlle. Zulma Bouffar is all the rage; although no longer young, she still possesses, in its fullest extent, that indomitable chic which always captivates—especially foreigners. Mme Judic is at the Varieties, drawing crowded houses; and The'o the queen of Opera bouffe since the death of Schneider, is at the Bouffer Theatre. Jeanne Granier, or "La Petite Gramier," as she is called all over Paris, has renewed her engagement at the Rennaissance, and will reappear there for the first time on May 1st. The favorite bouffe operas here now are Lecocq's "Kosike," Strauss opretta "La Reine Indigo," "La Trigane," and "Le Petite Duc," none of which I believe, have ever been performed in the United States.

In my next, I shall endeavor to give some idea of the arrangement of the Exposition—a difficult task owing to the unfinished condition of everything, and the fact that there are two separate and distinct exposition buildings and grounds, the palace of the Tpeaders and the palace of the Champ de Mars, divided by the river Seine and united by the bridge of Jenna. The view from the terrace back of the Troceders is simply superb, and will form the favorite promenade for visitors to the Exhibition. LOUIS.

The Erie Railway was sold at public auction in New York on Wednesday of last week, for $6,000,000, Governor Edwin D. Morgan being the purchaser. Mr. Morgan represents the purchasing committee of the London stockholders, Messrs J. Lowber Welch and David A. Wells being associated with him. Twelve per cent. of the purchase money was required at time of sale, and the balance on the 1st of June.

The purchasers of the Danville, Hazleton and Wilkesberre railroad met at Bloomsburg on Wednesday last and organized a new company, under the act of assembly, adopting the name of the Sunbury, Hazleton and Wilkesbarre railroad company. Isaac Eyre was elected president.

Hon. James Newell, member of the state Legislature from the 24th representative district, Philadelphia, died at his residence in West Philadelphia on Wednesday evening, the 1st inst.

The House at Harrisburg has passed a resolution providing for final adjournment on May 24.

NOTICE is hereby given that my wife Sarah A. Romig has left my bed and board without cause, and I will pay no bills contracted by her. JOHN N. ROMIG.

Legislature.

MR. EDITOR:
Please publish the name of Captain T. W. Hoffman of Union Township, as a candidate for legislature. He is an old and tried soldier, a capable, and energetic business man who if elected, will be able to represent, the people of Snyder County, with honor and credit. REPUBLICAN

ED. POST:
We take pleasure in recommending to the Republican voters of Snyder county for nomination and re-election the Hon. Charles Miller, present member of the House of Representatives. For industry, perseverance and close attention to his official duties he has won the esteem of his fellow members as well as the higher officials at the State Capitol. He devoted himself to the interests of the Commonwealth, and especially to the interests of Snyder county. Courtesy to the gentleman and the interests of the party would entitle him to a renomination and election, because he is now familiar with his duties and will be better able to serve his constituency. BEAVER.

Sheriff.

To the Republican voters of Snyder county, we respectfully recommend William H. Beaver, of Middleburg, as a suitable candidate for the nomination at the coming Primary Election, for the office of Sheriff. Mr. Beaver is a Republican of unquestionable fidelity to the party and has contributed largely to its success. He is a good business man, fully competent for the position; and his even temper, mild and affable manners are a sufficient guarantee that if elected no one would suffer unnecessary oppression, of sound integrity, good moral character, competency favorably known and largely connected, his nomination would give strength to the ticket at the General Election. CITIZENS OF BEAVER.

EDITOR POST:
Ann once D. Bolender as a candidate for nomination for the important office of Sheriff. Mr. Bolender is well and favorably known throughout the county—is an experienced officer—and sustains a reputation for goodness of heart and official lenience which very few officers possess. His vigorous efforts in behalf of the party have always been attended with success. His personal and political influence is strength to the party and, if, nominated he will leave no stone unturned which would secure victory in the fall campaign. PENN.

EDITOR POST:
Please announce through the "post" the name of Wm H. McCarty of Selinsgrove as a candidate for the office of Sheriff. Mr. McCarty has always been true to the principles of the party, earnest in the support of its best men, and has the respect of all who know him. He has been a successful business man, and we feel sure his nomination and election would be great credit to the party. Republicans! support him. BEAVER.

ED. POST:
Recommend to the Republican party for nomination, at the approaching Primary Election, for SHERIFF, JEREMIAH HOGAN of Union township. He is a gentleman who is known throughout the county—of good moral character—a business man and possesses good social qualities—if nominated and elected will make a good and efficient officer. ADAMS.

ED. POST:
We suggest the name of John B. Fockler, as a suitable person for the office of Sheriff. Mr. Fockler is well and favorably known as a gentleman of integrity, affable and sociable, and possessed of all the requirements for a good public officer. He is identified with the interests of the common classes and their interests would not suffer at his hands. Vote for John B. Fockler of Selinsgrove, for Sheriff. MIDDLECREEK.

MR. EDITOR:
Please announce through the columns of your paper the name of William Lock as a candidate for the office of Sheriff subject to action of the Republican voters at the ensuing primary election.
Mr. Lock is well qualified for the place and is well and favorably known.
The West end has had but one sheriff since the organization of the county, and it would be but fair and equitable for the republican voters of the county to support Mr. Lock and thus give the west end of the county a representative in that important office.
WEST BEAVER.

The undersigned would respectfully announce himself as a candidate for the nomination of County Treasurer at the ensuing Republican Primary Election of Snyder County.
ROBERT SMITH.
Troxelville, Pa.

The undersigned would respectfully announce himself to the Republican voters of Snyder county, as a candidate for nomination for the office of County Treasurer at the ensuing Primary Election. HENRY BROWN.
Freeburg, Pa.

MR. POST:
Say to the Republican voters that George W. Row, of Monroe, is a candidate for nomination to the office of Treasurer, at the coming Primary Election. The finances of the county were well managed during his term of office, a few years ago, and he acquitted himself as a competent and worthy officer.
MANY CITIZENS.

Associate Judge.

We beg leave to present to the Republican voters of Snyder county the name of Henry Smith of Beaver township, as a suitable candidate for the office of associate Judge.
MANY VOTERS

MR. EDITOR:

County Commissioner.

I Hereby announce myself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of county commissioner WM. SHOLLEY

EDITOR POST:
I suggest the name of John Reitz of Franklin Township as a candidate for County Commissioner. The office is an important one and every tax payer should see to it, that none but honest capable business men are elected to the position. Mr. Reitz is well qualified for the place; always an earnest republican, truthful, honest, frugal, and a farmer, he knows the wants of the people and if elected would execute the trust confided to his care with fidelity.
PENN

MR. EDITOR.—Please announce the candidacy of John Romig of Penn township for the office of County Commissioner. He has served one term with credit to himself, and to the great advantage of the people. Never before were the finances of the county in a better condition, and this is attributable, largely, to Mr. Romig's efforts for retrenchment of expenses, his close personal attention given to every bill presented to the Commissioners for approval, and in the economy enforced by example. Republican voters you can not do better than to vote for John Romig. PENN.

ED. POST:
We, citizens of Middlecreek, township, recommend for nomination, for the office of Commissioner, at the next Republican Primary Election, Morris Erdly, of Franklin. Mr. Erdly is an industrious, economical and intelligent farmer, and if elected, will take good care of the financial interests of the county.
MIDDLECREEK.

ED. POST:
Please announce John Stahley, of Selinsgrove, as a suitable candidate for nomination to the office of County Commissioner. He is an excellent business man and would fill the important office with credit.

BEAVER.

ED. POST.—
Announce Ferdinand Sence, of Chapman, as a candidate for nomination to the office of County Commissioner. Mr. Sence if nominated and elected will make a courteous, obliging and efficient officer. He deserves the nomination on account of his fidelity to the party—locality—and sterling good qualities of head and heart.
