Flower Garden Hint.

So many people say that their flowers which once did well do not thrive any more, and the reason is incomprehensible to them. In many cases the trouble is from worn-out soil; and if a little manure, or a little fresh earth be added occasionally, it is wonderful what an effect it will have on the renewed growth of half-worn out rootstocks. Some kind of flowers especially soon grow surly and bad tempered unless they have a complete change of earth once in a while. In perfect fresh soil that is earth which has never grown a verbena before, it grows like a weed; but the next year it is not quite so well; and in a few years it absolutely refuses to creep, run or do anything, and we are forced to confess that the verbena won't do for us as it used to years ago.

Other flowers are not quite so stubbornly fastidious as the verbena; but still all more or less like to feel rejuvenated by an addition of some kind occasionally to the earth-blessing they have already been treated to.

Almost all our best hardy flowers are natives of woods, or low, undisturbed lands, where the decaying leaves from the trees or the washings of higher surface lands, make a new annual entertainment for them—and it has been found by experiment that nothing is as good for these pretty little flowers as well-decayed leaf-mold from the woods, spread round the root-stocks just above the ground. But when this cannot be had, any other well decayed vegetable refuse that may "be laying around loose" will do very nearly as well. Strong rich manure—barn yard manure—has not been found very good for garden-flowers. It makes the herbage too strong, and the flowers less in proportion. But if nothing more natural can be got at to help the flowers along, and the soil seems exhausted and poor, this will be found much better than leaving the plants to struggle along as best they can.—Germantown Telegraph.

Making Poultry Profitable.

I have noticed of late, many controversies about the pleasures and disappointments in keeping poultry, and I think the fault in a great measure, rests with the writers themselves. If they would exercise a little more judgment in the food they give, there should be no reason for their not realizing better results. I have kept poultry for the last six years for domestic uses, and found the following mode of feeding productive of very beneficial results; I feed a warm mash of corn meal, seasoned with red pepper and chopped onions alternately, with occasionally a little sulphur added; a cabbage daily throughout the winter months; luke warm water and a small plot of ground to run over. Strict attention is paid that they are fed regular and as near to the same time as possible. In the afternoon, I give them buckwheat and other grains, varying the different kinds weekly. The dimensions of my poultry house are 16 feet by 6, and 6 feet high; well ventilated; scrupulously clean perches washed over once a week with a little kerosene oil; a little sulphur sprinkled in the nests, and plenty of road dust gathered and barreled in the early autumn months for the hens to dust themselves in. Hence my poultry are never troubled with vermin or other diseases.—Country Gentleman.

Uses of Stale Bread.

1. Make a dressing for meat: Crumb it fine, turn hot broth over it, season, add butter and a well beaten egg or more, according to quantity. 2. Make bread pudding; Soak two hours in sweet milk then beat eggs; sugar and spices and bake; I sometimes add fruit. 3. Make biscuit; Soak over night in sour milk, mash well with the hand. mix with your biscuit for breakfast, adding salt, lard and soda; they are better than without the stale bread. 4. Make pancakes or gems; Soak over night in sour milk; add well-beaten eggs, corn meal or Graham flour to make a batter, add soda and salt, and bake on a griddle or in gem pans. 5. Crumb fine and put them in the next omelet you make. 6. Toast your bread. Set a pan of milk on the stove, but do not remove the cream from it, add butter and salt, dip the bread in this and send to the table for supper or breakfast. 7. Crumb fine and put in your tomatoes when you are stewing them. 8. Pound fine, season and roll oysters or fresh fish in them and fry in nice lard.

A LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN.

Just Published in a Sealed Envelope. Price six cents.

A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment, and Radical cure of Seminal Weakness, or Spermatorrhœa, induced by Self-Abuse, Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy, and fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, &c.—By ROBERT J. CULVERWELL, M. D., author of the "Green Book," &c.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without medicine, and without dangerous surgical operation, bougies, instruments, rings, or cordials; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any adress, post-paid, on receipt of six cents or two postage stamps.

THE SUN FOR 1879.

THE SUN will be printed every day during the year to come. Its purpose and method will be the same as in the past. To present all the news in a readable shape, and to tell the truth though heaven fell.

THE SUN has been, is and will continue to be independent of everybody and everything save the Truth and its own convictions of duty. That is the only policy which an honest newspaper need have. That is the only policy which has won for this newspaper the confidence and friendship of a wider constituency than was ever enjoyed by any other American Journal.

THE SUN is the newspaper for the people. It is not for the rich man against the poor man nor for the poor man against the rich man, but it seeks to do equal justice to all interests in the community. It is not the organ of any person, class, sect or party. There need be no mystery about its love and hates. It is for the honest man against the rogue every time. It is for the honest Democrat as well as against the dishonest Republican, and for the honest Republican as well as against the dishonest Democrat. It does not take its cue from the utterance of any political organization. It gives its support unreservedly when men or measures are in accordance with the Constitution and with the principles upon which this Republic was founded for the people. Whenever the Constitution and constitutional principles are violated—as in the outrageous conspiracy of 1876, by which a man not elected was placed in the President's office, we are not still ready—it speaks out for the right. That is THE SUN'S idea of independence. In this respect there will be no change in its policy or purpose for 1879.

THE SUN has fairly earned the hatred of rascals, frauds, and humbugs of all sorts and sizes: 1 10 ers to deserve that hatred not less in the year 1879 than in 1878, 1877, or any year gone by. THE SUN will continue to shine on the wicked with unmitigated brightness.

While the lessons of the past should be constantly kept before the people, THE SUN does not purpose to make itself in 1879 a magazine of ancient history. It is printed for the men and women of to-day, whose concern is chiefly with the women of to-day, whose concern is chiefly with the affairs of to-day. It has both the disposition and the ability to afford its readers the promptest, fullest, and most accurate intelligence of whatever in the wide world is worth attention. To this end and the resources belonging to well-established prosperity will be liberally employed.

The present disjointed condition of parties in this country, and the uncertainty of the future lend an extraordinary significance to the events of the coming year. The discussion of the press, the debates and acts of Congress, and the movements of the leaders in every section of the Republic will have a direct bearing on the Presidential election of 1880—an event which must be regarded with the most anxious interest by every patriotic American, whatever his political ideas or allegiance. To these elements of interest may be added the probability that the Democrats will control both houses of Congress, the increasing feebleness of the fraudient Administration, and the spread and strengthening everywhere of a healthy abhorrence of fraud in any form. To present with accuracy and clearness the exact situation in each of the varying phases, and to expound, according to its well-known methods, the principles that should guide us through the labyrinth, will be an important part of THE SUN'S work for 1879.

We have the means of making THE SUN, as a political, a literary and a general newspaper, more entertaining and more useful than ever before; and we mean to apply them freely.

Our rates of subscription remain unchanged. For the DAILY SUN, a four page sheet of twenty-eight columns, the price by mail, post paid, is 65 cents a month, or $6.50 a year; for, including the Sunday paper, an eight-page sheet of fifty-six columns, the price is 85 cents a month, or $9.70 a year, postage paid.

The Sunday edition of THE SUN is also published separately at $1.20 a year, postage paid.

The price of the DAILY SUN, without the Sunday, is 50 cents a month, or $5.70 a year; and of the Sunday edition, $1.20 a year.
