Farm, Home &c.,

Land laid down with clover is better than money in bank, drawing more interest than any bank can pay compounding interest oftener.

Dysentery.—Parch brown a tablespoonful of rice; put into a cup of cold water and let it come to a hard boil; sweeten a little.

The manure of cows and pigs resist decomposition for a longer time than that of the sheep and horse, both the latter being drier than the former, and decomposing more readily in the soil.

One of the plainest indications of unsuccessful farming is to see manure going to waste or unemployed. When this is seen there is no need looking beyond the stables and yards to find out the condition of the farm or to judge of the success of its owner.

Stuffed Tomatoes.—Cut in halves and hollow out in center; take whatever cold meat you have, chop with onion, some herbs, crumbs of bread, and add to it two yolks of eggs; fill up your tomates, and put in a buttered pan; let them bake slowly.

For a kicking horse fill an old sack with hay and suspend it from the loft by means of a rope, in such a manner that the horse will be able to kick it every time it swings against him. Let him kick until he stops of his own accord, and you will have no more trouble with him that way.

In order to keep their butter over the period of low prices and hot weather, California dairymen seal up their products in tin cans, sinking them in the bottom of cold streams. Butter made in April comes out in October in good order and continues to keep fresh in the cold weather of winter. Forty-four pound cans are commonly used. Isn't this worth a trial here.

Green Tomato Soy.—Slice two gallons of Green tomatoes and twelve or fourteen good sized onions, two quarts of vinegar, one pound of sugar two tablespoonfuls of salt, two of ground mustard, two of black pepper, one tablespoon of allspice and one of cloves. Mix all and stew until tender, stirring often lest they should scorch. Put up in small glass jars. This is very nice for most every kind of meat and fish.

Some years ago I was detained in returning home by a break in the railroad, requiring a detour of some twenty miles. In order to make this I hired a buggy and driver. But the horse proved a most aggravating balker. He balked when there was no possible reason or occasion for it. When we were at a certain point striving in vain to set the beast going, either by the argument of persuasion or blows, an Adams express wagon came along. The driver jumped off his seat, took the whip and gently touched the animal under the belly, back and I near the forelez, and immediately the horse went on his way. We tried it repeatedly afterwards, and always with success.

How to Tell How Old a Horse is.—On the lower jaw, a colt sheds the two middle teeth within six months after the second year, and within six months after reaching the age of three years two new middle teeth, and at four years will have a full set of new teeth on front lower jaw. At five years three will be shells on the corner teeth; at six the two middle teeth will be smooth and at eight years all the lower jaw teeth will be smooth. On the upper jaw, at nine years of age, the two middle teeth will be smooth; at ten, one tooth on either side of them will be smooth; at eleven, the corner teeth project; at thirteen, one tooth next them, and at fourteen all project above and below. Beyond that all is guesswork.

Fall Plowing.—The better the preparation of the ground the better the crop. The high average yield of the English farms is no doubt largely due to the thorough preparation of the ground before seeding. Our climate is superior to that of England for wheat growing, yet a yield of sixty-four bushels per acre is not at all infrequent among farmers there, while here forty bushels per acre is an unusual yield. Two plowings several harrowings, and, in many cases, rolling or crushing, and the excellent preparation of the soil by previous root crop, must have a much better effect upon the soil than one plowing, very poorly done, because of the heaviness and dryness of our soil in mid summer, and very imperfect harrowing. It might be well for us to lay out more labor on our wheat crop, and so prepare the ground better, and raise our average from twelve to at least twenty bushels per acre. The difference in the amount of wheat at harvest would pay for a good deal of extra work in plowing, etc., and yet leave a profit; but the soil would not be [illegible] most is one year nor two.

Manhood: How Lost, How Restored!

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, CONSUMPTION, EPILEPSY and FITS, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance, &c.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and RADICALLY.

This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents or two postage stamps.
