Grant's Return.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 21.—Every one during yesterday morning was on the tiptoe of expectation over the arrival of General Grant, but as he did not come early it was believed he would not arrive until to-day.

The reception committee was discussing the propriety of postponing the reception till Monday, when at a signal given by the fire brigade, that the city of Tokio was sighted, the fire bells rang, whistles sounded and a general uproar was created.

Every kind of business was suspended and people poured forth in such number that in a few minutes the streets were densely crowded with citizens flocking toward the ferry down Market street. The sun shining brilliantly and the effect upon the decorated buildings, arches and flags was very fine.

Salutes was fired from every fort and battery in the harbor. The cross fire from the batteries on the approach of the Tokio and escorting vessels, showed that any hostile descent upon San Francisco would be extremely hazardous. At least thirty thousand people were afloat on the bay and two hundred thousand on the street. The Tokio passed up the water front at a quarter to six p. m., followed by the escorting fleet. About seven, General Grant landed from the ferry boat Oakland, according to arrangement, at the foot of Market street, was received by the mayor and governor, also by Governor elect George C. Perkins. Governor Irwin was accompanied by his staff.

The mayor welcomed General Grant in a brief speech referring to the honors the latter recieved when abroad and to the fact that General Grant in reply made a short speech expressing his gratification at his native country.

Among other officials present were the board of supervisors and supervisors elect, members of congress and the reception commitee. The foreign consuls were invited to join the procession, but were assigned no place, consequently but few were present, among them the English and French.

The procession was one of the greatest ever seen in San Francisco. The streets were lined with people and the windows and balconies were crowded. The procession was fifteen blocks long, and about seven thousand persons took part in it. It countermarched on Market street before General Grant, from which point the general went to the Palace hotel and was serenaded in the court yard. Mrs. Grant did not leave the city of Tokio until this morning. General Grant, on arrival at the hotel after the procession, retired to his rooms and asked not to be disturbed during the night. A number of gentlemen were presented by the committee to General Grant, who recived them cordially.

Again has Dennis Kearney sent up his card to General Grant and again has he been refused an interview with the distinguished American whom Dennis only a few weeks ago wanted to burn in effigy. The atmosphere about Mr. Kearney must have been somewhat sulphurous about that time, but it is a matter of indifference what he may think or say of the ex President of the United States, whereas it is a matter of very great importance to the country to have men of the Kearney stamp treated as he has been. General Grant is not the kind of a man to address a howling mob as "My Friend," (vide Seymour's speech to the New York rioters) and his refusal to see such vulgar but dangerous agitators as Kearney is in keeping with his character. Kearney, no doubt, thought he was as big a man as old Grant, but he and his hoodlum followers have been taught that in the estimation of the General the men who are ever ready to join in a riot are not the kind to be encouraged. If some industrious mechanic should call as a representative of honest law abiding workingmen on General Grant he would be admitted and warmly greeted by the man who began life in a tanyard and owns his success to his own exertions.—Philadelphia Press.

Mr. Allen Fuhrman, butcher, of Black Rock York county, while cutting rounds from a butchered steer, struck some hard substance, which on investigation was found to be a gold dollar, in a fine state of preservation, dated 1852. By the appearance of the saculated space in which it was enclosed, it must have been there for some time; but how it came there is a mystery to all.

A big boat race is to come off in New York this month. Hanlan has accepted the offer made by the Hop Bitters company, of Rochester, some weeks since, and will row Courtney for a purse of $6,000. The race is to come off on Chautauqua Lake the 8th of October.

The explosion of a kerosene lamp in a tenament house in Boston last week set fire to the building, burning five of the inmates to death before they could be rescued form the flames.

San Francisco cast 40,717 votes against Chinese immigration and only 229 in its favor.

Encouraging reports are received from Memphis. The weather is good and the death list small.

Twelve cars are turned our daily at the Harrisburg car shops.

D. LANGELL'S ASTHMA & CATARRH REMEDY

(PATENTED).

HAVING struggled twenty years between life and death with ASTHMA or PHTHISIC and being cured by the most eminent physicians without receiving any benefit, was compelled, as a last resort, to experimentation myself. I had become so bad that I was compelled to sit on my couch day and night, struggling for my breath. My friends were so reduced that I do not like to attempt to describe them. Always believing that nature had provided a remedy, if it could only be found, I commenced compounding roots and herbs, and inhaling the odor from them, when I fortunately discovered a remedy. I will guarantee they will never suffer with that terrible disease again. Address D. LANGELL, (Inventor & Sole Proprietor), Apple Creek, Wayne Co., Ohio.

$1.00 per Package.

Sold by Druggists and Medicine Dealers generally.

READ WHAT THE AFFLICTED WHO HAVE TRIED IT, SAY ABOUT IT.

W. T. BROWN, Monroe, Penn., writes:—D. Langell, your Asthma and Catarrh Remedy has entirely cured my wife. She suffered with Asthma from the time she was a year old, which is now thirty years.

E. A. DOUGLAS, Jessup, Md., D. Langell, Dear Sir:—I have used your valuable Asthma and Catarrh Remedy, and am well pleased that it cured me. Please make my statement known to the world.

GEO. CUSH, Apple Creek, Ohio.—I do hereby certify that I was afflicted with Catarrh fifteen years. I used about two-thirds of a package of D. Langell's Asthma and Catarrh Remedy, and am now entirely freed.

Such testimony should convince the most doubtful sufferer that our Asthma and Catarrh Remedy is the wonder of the age. It is my own discovery, gathered from the fields, and contains no injurious drugs. IT IS SAFE, RELIABLE AND TRUE.
